HOME ALONE

1 EXT. HOUSE - EVENING

A big, old, three-story brick house in a small Chicago suburb. Three days before Christmas. There are lights and Christmas decorations on the house and the surrounding houses.

2 OMITTED

3 INT. HOUSE - FOYER - NIGHT

A uniformed POLICE OFFICER is standing here. Middle-aged. Paunchy. He's standing alone trying to catch the attention of passing adults and children who cross the foyer, go up and down the stairs and in and out of the house carrying clothing, luggage, toiletries and wrapped Christmas gifts.

POLICE OFFICER

Excuse me... May I ... ? Is your mother home?

4A INT. MASTER BEDROOM - NIGHT

KATE McCALLISTER is talking on the phone and packing a suitcase. She's handsome and energetic, in her early forties. Still dressed from work.

KATE

I don't want any calls. I'm not going to France so I can spend the holidays on the phone.

KEVIN McCALLISTER enters. He's seven.

KEVIN

Mom? Uncle Frank won't let me watch the movie but the big kids can. Why can't I?

KATE

Kevin. I'm on the phone.

(insistent)

It's not even an "R". He's just being a jerk.
KATE
(to the phone)
Excuse me.
(to Kevin)
If Uncle Frank says, no. I say no.

Kevin flops down on the bed.

KATE
Get off there.
(to the phone)
I'm sorry. Say that again.
(to Kevin)
Get out of here!

KEVIN
Hang up the phone and make me, why don't you?

Her husband, PETER, comes out of the bathroom with his electric razor. He's 40, good-looking, easygoing.

PETER
Kate? Where's the voltage adaptor thing?

KATE
I didn't have time to pick one up.

PETER
How am I going to shave?

KEVIN
Dad. Nobody'll let me do anything.

PETER
I'll let you do something. Pick up your MicroMachines. Aunt Leslie stepped on one and almost fell down.

KATE
(covers the phone)
And he was in the garage again. Playing with the glue gun.

PETER
What have I told you about that?

KEVIN
Did I burn down the joint? I don't think so. I was making ornaments out of fish hooks.

PETER
My good fish hooks?!?
KEVIN
I can't make ornaments out of the old ones with the dried worm guts stuck on them.

A woman, LESLIE McCALLISTER, comes into the room. She's in her late thirties she's a bit chunky, extreme in her dress and coiffure. She's Peter and Kate's sister-in-law.

LESLIE
There's a policeman downstairs.

PETER
What's he want?

KEVIN
Aunt Leslie? How come Uncle Frank won't...

LESLIE
In a minute, Kevin.
(to Peter)
I have no idea.

KEVIN
I'm sick of everybody saying...
(mocks her)
... "in a minute."

PETER
Kevin! Out!
(to Leslie)
Do you have a voltage adaptor?

LESLIE
That's just what I was going to ask you.

INT. FOYER - NIGHT

The Police Officer is still waiting. TRACEY McCALLISTER crosses through the dining room into the foyer. She's 14. Very pretty. But dressed a little cheap.

POLICE OFFICER
Pardon me? Are your parents home?

TRACEY
Yeah. But they don't live here.

She heads up the stairs as HEATHER McCALLISTER comes down the stairs. She's nineteen and a cousin. She's wearing a Northwestern University sweatshirt.
HEATHER
(to Tracey and Megan)
Did you call for the pizzas?

TRACEY
Buzz did. My dad said an American hair dryer won't work in France. Is that true?

HEATHER
You need a voltage adaptor.

TRACEY
What's that?

HEATHER
Ask your mom.

Tracey heads upstairs. The cop catches Heather’s attention.

POLICE OFFICER
Excuse me. Are your parents here?

HEATHER

She exits into the dining room, as SONDRA McCALLISTER, enters the foyer. She’s 11.

SONDRA
(to Heather)
Bonjour.

HEATHER
Wrong. That’s good day.

POLICE OFFICER
Hi. Are your parents home?

SONDRA
Yeah.

POLICE OFFICER
Do they live here?

SONDRA
13 EXT. HOUSE - NIGHT

A LITTLE HERO'S PIZZA delivery car -- a Red Ford Geo -- with a cartoon rendering of a Roman holding a pizza and the slogan NO FIDDLIN' AROUND PIZZA IN THIRTY MINUTES OR LESS painted on the side and on the lighted roof sign whips into the driveway and skids to a stop.

13A INT. HOUSE - UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - NIGHT

Kevin and JEFF McCallister come out of their bedroom. Jeff's Kevin's nine year-old brother. He's lugging a large canvas duffel bag. He's stocky and build, aggressive and confident.

KEVIN
I don't know how to pack a suitcase. I've never done it once in my whole life.

JEFF Tough.

KEVIN
That's what Megan said.

MEGAN McCallister comes out of her room into the hall. She's 15, aloof, regal, vain, self-absorbed.

MEGAN
What did I say?

JEFF
You told Kevin, "tough".

MEGAN
The dope was whining about a suitcase. What am I supposed to do? Shake his hand and say, "Congratulations, you're an idiot"?

KEVIN
I'm not an idiot!

MEGAN
Oh really? You're completely helpless. Everybody has to do everything for you.

JEFF
She's right, Kev.

Megan heads down the hall to the stairs and bounces down.

KEVIN
Excuse me, puke breath, I never packed a suitcase.
LINNIE McCALLISTER, walks out of her room. She's twelve. Perfectly beautiful.

LINNIE
I hope you didn't just pack crap, Jeff.

JEFF
Shut-up, Linnie.

KEVIN
(to Linnie)
Do you know what I should pack?

JEFF
Buzz told you, cheek-face, toilet paper and water.

Jeff continues to the stairs. Kevin hangs back with Linnie.

LINNIE

Linnie turns on her heels and goes into room.

LINNIE
P.s. You have to sleep on the hide-a-bed with Fuller and he still wets his bed.

KEVIN
What happened to my room?

LINNIE
Heather, Tracey, and Sondra took it.

KEVIN
This house is so full of people, it makes me sick! When I grow up and get married, I'm living alone!

He stomps away. Linnie laughs.

13B INT. HALLWAY-STAIRS / FOYER
Jeff slings the duffel down the stairs.

JEFF
BOMBS AWAY!

CLOSE-UP POLICE OFFICER
He looks down at his feet and the bag that's just landed. He looks up.
INT. BUZZ'S BEDROOM - NIGHT

BUZZ McALLISTER and ROD McALLISTER are in Buzz's room. Buzz is packing his suitcase. He's stocky and muscular, a jock with a three-inch, waxed flattop. Rod is thin and lanky, dull and bookish. Rod is looking at Buzz's tarantula.

ROD
Who's gonna feed your spider while you're gone?

BUZZ
He just ate a shitload of mice guts. He's good for a couple weeks.
(pause)
Is it true that French babes don't shave their pits?

ROD
Some don't.

BUZZ
And they got nude beaches?

ROD
Not in the winter.

Kevin opens the door and walks in.

KEVIN
Buzz?

Buzz turns angrily to him.

BUZZ
Don't you know how to knock, dick rash?

KEVIN
Can I sleep in your room? I don't wanna sleep in the family room.

BUZZ
I wouldn't let you sleep in my room if you were growing on my ass.

Buzz notices something out the window. He moves to the window and points it out to Rod.

BUZZ
Check it out. Old man Marley.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN
The mention of Marley's name gives Kevin pause.
Buzz and Rod peer through the window.

A grizzled old fellow with a mangy Howard Hughes white hair and beard, shuffles out to his mailbox in a bathrobe and boots. He gets his mail, hurriedly running back into the house.

Who’s he?

BUZZ

Ever heard of the South Bend Shovel Slayer?

ROD

BUZZ

That’s him. Back in ’58, murdered his whole family and half the people on his block with a snow shovel. Been hiding out in our neighborhood ever since.

ROD

If he’s the slayer... How come the cops don’t arrest him?

BUZZ

They got no proof. But everybody around here knows he did it. That’s why he only comes out once a day. To get his mail. His groceries and everything else gets delivered. He lives by himself. Never says a word to anybody.

ROD

Wow...

BUZZ

I keep watchin’ that show... "America’s Most Wanted." I know he’s gonna be on it someday. Then I’m gonna call that 900 number. Turn his ass into the authorities. Make a trillion dollars.

He turns to Kevin and stalks him to the door.
BUZZ
(mean)
And if you don’t get outta my room...
I’m gonna tie you to his front porch and ring the doorbell until he comes out.

Kevin backs out of the room, scared. Buzz slams the door in his face. He turns to Rod with a grin.

BUZZ
The microweenie has the balls of a butterfly.

17 INT. FOYER - NIGHT

The PIZZA BOY nervously offers his stack of pizza boxes to the Police Officer.

PIZZA BOY
(to the Officer)
$122.50. Sir.

POLICE OFFICER
I don’t live here.

PIZZA BOY
Just here for the holidays?

17A INT. HALLWAY - NIGHT

FRANK McCALLISTER comes out of the bathroom with a Michelin Guide under his arm. He’s Peter’s brother. A bit younger, bulky and balding in department store casual clothes. Kevin comes out of Buzz’s room. Frank gives him an affectionate, if a bit too hard, pat on the head with his Michelin Guide.

FRANK
Parlez vous Francais yet, squirt?

Kevin gives him a chilly look.

KEVIN
My name’s Kevin.

FRANK
Yeah? You know what they’re gonna call you in France don’t you?

KEVIN
What?

Frank reaches around behind him, grabs the waist of his pants and gives him a sharp pull.
FRANK

YANK!

He snorts and continues down the hall. Kevin glowers at him.

17B

INT. FOYER - NIGHT

CLOSE-UP POLICE OFFICER AND PIZZA BOY

They’re staring down.

THEIR POV

FULLER and BROOKE McCALLISTER are staring back up at them.

Fuller is five and wearing glasses. Brooke is eight and she’s wearing glasses.

The Pizza Boy leans over to Brooke and Fuller.

PIZZA BOY

You dinks are my witnesses. I was here in 30 minutes or less.

Frank comes down the stairs.

FRANK

Pizza’s here!

He takes the pizzas from the Boy.

PIZZA BOY

FRANK

My brother’ll get it. This is his house.

He exits with the pizzas. A stream of kids run down the stairs and cross into the dining room to the kitchen. Aunt Leslie follows.

POLICE OFFICER

Are you Mrs. McCallister?

AUNT LESLIE

Yes. But I’m not the Mrs. McCallister that lives here.

She exits into the dining room.

AUNT LESLIE

(calls)

Use paper plates, Frank! And don’t give Fuller any Coke!

Peter comes down. The cop points.
POLICE OFFICER
Are you the Mr. McCallister who lives here?

PETER
Yes.

PIZZA BOY
Good. 'Cause somebody owes me $122.50.

POLICE OFFICER
I need a word with you, sir.

PETER
My wife's coming right down. She'll take care of both of you. Excuse me...

Peter exits. The cop and the Boy exchange confused looks.

INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT

It's a pizza orgy. The boxes are spread across the counters and table. Everybody's talking at once, grabbing pizza, opening and closing the refrigerator, drawers, cupboards.

AUNT LESLIE
Take napkins and get your own drinks.

FULLER
What time do we have to go to bed?

UNCLE FRANK
Early. We're leaving the house at eight A.M. On the button.

Kate comes down the back stairs into the kitchen.

KATE
Everybody have milk? I have to get rid of it.

BROOKE
Mom... Does Santa have to go through customs?

PETER
(to Kate)
Honey? The pizza kid needs $122.50.

KATE
For pizza?

Kate crosses to the counter, opens her purse, taking out an envelope of travel money.
UNCLE FRANK
Ten pizzas times twelve bucks.

AUNT LESLIE
Frank? You have money, don’t you?

UNCLE FRANK
Traveller’s checks.

KATE
We have it.

Kevin sifts through the pizza boxes.

KEVIN
(looking up)
Did anybody order me plain cheese?

Buzz, his mouth packed with pizza, looks at Kevin.

BUZZ
Yeah. But if you want any, somebody’s gonna have to barf theirs up because it’s gone.

Kevin glares at Buzz, who smiles sadistically and begins to feign a barf. Kevin charges Buzz, knocking the loaded plate of pizza from his hands and ramming him into the counter, knocking over a half-gallon carton of milk.

CLOSE-UP PASSPORTS
A stack of fifteen passports. Dosed with milk.

BACK TO SCENE
Kate grabs Kevin. Peter lunges from his seat, knocking the table, spilling a glass of milk.

PETER
THE PASSPORTS!

Frank shoves his chair back to avoid the river of milk heading his way.

FRANK
LOOK OUT!

He pins Fuller between the wall and the back of his chair.

DAD!

AUNT LESLIE
(noticing Fuller)

FRANK!
FRANK
GET A NAPKIN!

Kate pulls Kevin off Buzz. Peter rescues the passports and tickets.

KATE
What's the matter with you?

She gives him a violent shake.

KEVIN
HE STARTED IT! HE ATE MY PIZZA ON PURPOSE. HE KNOWS I HATE SAUSAGE AND OLIVES AND ONIONS AND...

KATE
You get upstairs! Right this instant!

KEVIN
Why?!?

TRACEY
Kevin. You're such a disease.

KEVIN
Shut up.

PETER
Get upstairs!

KATE
Say good night, Kevin.

Kate yanks him out of the kitchen. Peter holds the drenched passports and tickets over the sink.

INT. FOYER - NIGHT

The cop and the Pizza Boy are still waiting. They look to the dining room as Kate drags a struggling Kevin through.

KEVIN
Why do I always get treated like scum!?

POLICE OFFICER
Ma'am?

She hands the Pizza Boy his money.
KATE
(to the cop as she pays the boy)
I'm sorry. We're going out of town tomorrow and it's just crazy around here. My husband's brother transferred to Paris during the summer and his daughter goes to college here and his son is finishing high school and staying with my brother-in-law.

Kate gives the last of the cash to the Pizza Boy.

PIZZA BOY
Nice tip. Thank you. Have a very Merry.

KATE
You, too.

He exits. Kate continues explaining to the cop.

KATE
So...as a Christmas present... My husband's brother gave us all a trip to Paris... So we can all be together for the holidays. My brother-in-law drove in from Ohio today... we all leave for Paris in the morning. We have a house full of people here and...

(referring to Kevin)
... this one's a little out of sorts. Give me a minute and I'll be right with you.

POLICE OFFICER
Fine.

She marches Kevin up the stairs.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

He looks back at the police officer.

20 KEVIN'S POV - NIGHT

Moving away from the Police Officer, who smiles and winks. The cop's upper right incisor is gold.
INT. HOUSE - UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - NIGHT

Kate and Kevin round the landing and come up into the hallway.

KATE
There are fifteen people in this house. And you're the only one who has to make trouble.

KEVIN
I'm the only one getting dumped on.

KATE
You're the only one acting up. Now get upstairs.

KEVIN
I am upstairs, dummy.

Kate resists the urge to belt him. She reaches up, pulls open the door at the end of the hall. A stairwell to the third floor.

KEVIN
The third floor?

Solemn, distant CHURCH BELLS TOLL. Kevin's tough, little face droops. "Third Floor" is parent for "Hell." Kate knows she has the upper hand.

KATE
Go.

KEVIN
It's scary up there.

KATE
You should have thought about that before you lost your temper.

KEVIN
I'm sorry.

KATE
It's too late. Go.

Kevin realizes the softer approach won't work.

KEVIN
Everybody in this family hates me!

KATE
Then maybe you should ask Santa Claus for a new family.

He steps onto the first stair.
KEVIN
I don't want a new family! I don't want any family! Families suck!

KATE
You stay up there. I don't want to see you for the rest of the night!

KEVIN
I don't want to ever see you again for the rest of my whole life and I don't want to see anybody else either!

KATE
(after a pause)
I hope you don't mean that. You'd feel pretty sad if you woke up tomorrow and we were all gone.

Kevin has shocked himself. But he doesn't give in. As much to save face as to continue the battle.

KEVIN
No, I wouldn't.

A long, hurt stare is on Kate's face.

KATE
Say it again, then. Maybe it'll happen.

22 INT. STAIRWELL - NIGHT

Kevin's furious that Kate closed the door on him. That he lost.

KEVIN
I hope I never see any of you jerks again!

Hearing himself, he realizes how wicked and horrible it sounds. He feels immediate remorse.

23 INT. UPSTAIRS HALLWAY/FOYER - NIGHT

Kate is hurt, but dismisses it as temper. She turns and heads down the stairs. She slows and stops as she looks down into the Foyer.

HER POV
The Police Officer is gone.
CLOSE-UP KATE

A curious look. Why did he leave? She shrugs it off and continues down.

INT. STAIRWELL - NIGHT - THIRD FLOOR - CLOSEUP - KEVIN

He slowly walks up the stairs. He’s worried and frightened.
Has he gone too far?

EXT. HOUSE - NIGHT

The lights are out. A strong wind is blowing. Trees sway.
Christmas decorations blow over. A plastic Santa tumbles across the lawn. A large limb snaps. It falls across the power and phone lines, bringing them down in a shower of sparks.

CLOSEUP - ALARM CLOCK - NIGHT

In Peter and Kate’s room. The digital light goes out.

EXT. HOUSE - MORNING

Two blue and yellow airport minivans are parked in the driveway. Two uniformed drivers are on the porch. One is hammering on the door. The other steps back from the house, trying to see if there is anyone inside.

A Power Company truck is parked in the street. A LINEMAN is repairing the wire.

INT. MCCALLISTER HOUSE - MASTER BEDROOM - MORNING

Peter and Kate are still sleeping. We hear the DOORBELL and the POUNDING. Kate stirs. Confused. She sits up, looks at the clock. It takes a moment for her to realize that it’s not working. She quickly looks at her wristwatch on the night stand and seeing the real time, Kate panics.

31 INT. HOUSE - FOYER - MORNING

Parents and kids clamor down the stairs.

KATE
Where’re the passports?

PETER
You have ’em!

AUNT LESLIE
I have ’em.

KATE
Ours!

FRANK
You know what they’re gonna call you in France, Pete?

32 EXT. HOUSE - MORNING

The two drivers, who load a suitcase and duffel bags into the two minivans. A neighbor BOY is watching them. He’s Kevin’s age.

BOY

33 INT. FOYER - MORNING

Kate and Peter, Aunt Leslie and Uncle Frank, are making a last minute check of money and passports and tickets. Peter’s adjusting his trousers.

KATE
Peter, you have the tickets.

PETER
Yes.

KATE
Count ’em.

Peter counts.

AUNT LESLIE
Frank? You have the money?

UNCLE FRANK
Son of a bitch.

AUNT LESLIE
You left it upstairs?
34 EXT. HOUSE - MORNING

Heather wearily goes through her head count including the neighbor Boy who is turned away, looking into the van.

HEATHER
Six... Seven... Eight...

BUZZ
(loudly, to throw her off)
Ninety-three... Six hundred...
Eleveny-trillion...

HEATHER
Nine. Buzz. Don’t be a moron.
Ten... Eleven.
(to the kids)
Get in! Half in here, half in the front one.

She shuffles to the van pulled first into the drive and gets in. The older girls follow her. The boys and the little girls get into the other van. The kids are tired and groggy.

CLOSE-UP NEIGHBOR BOY

He wishes the kids a good trip.

BOY
Have a good trip. Bring me something French.

34A EXT. FRONT PORCH - MORNING

The parents come out. Peter locks the door. Leslie and Kate hurry to the first van. Frank hangs back with Peter.

UNCLE FRANK
No way on earth we’re gonna make that plane. It leaves in forty five minutes.

PETER
Think positive.

UNCLE FRANK
You be positive. I’ll be realistic.

They move toward the vans.
LINEMAN
Power's fixed. Phone lines were tore up real bad, though... It's gonna take Ma Bell a couple days to make a house call... 'specially around the holidays...

KATE
(not listening, passes by)
Excuse me. I've got to catch a plane.

The Lineman shrugs. Kate and Leslie hurry to the first van. Peter and Uncle Frank get inside the other van.

KATE
Heather? You counted heads?

HEATHER

The two vans zip out of the drive and speed off down the street.

The two frenzied families run down the corridor.

The Air France flight has boarded. A COUNTER PERSON exits the ramp, and secures the door. The McCallister horde thunders into the departure area.

KATE
Did the plane leave?
The Counter Person glances around the board to the windows and sees the plane is still in place.

COUNTER PERSON
No. You just made it.

She hurriedly takes all of the tickets, counting them quickly.

COUNTER PERSON
Four in First class. Eleven in coach.

KATE
Right.

COUNTER PERSON
(as she hands the tickets back)
Single seats only in coach. Take whatever's free.

The family storm into the tunnel as a group.

The Counter Person glances around the board to the windows and sees the plane is still in place.

COUNTER PERSON
No. You just made it.

She hurriedly takes all of the tickets, counting them quickly.

COUNTER PERSON
Four in First class. Eleven in coach.

KATE
Right.

COUNTER PERSON
(as she hands the tickets back)
Single seats only in coach. Take whatever's free.

The family storm into the tunnel as a group.

INT. PLANE - FIRST CLASS - MORNING
Kate and Peter move to their section. The kids hurry through the curtain, to the back of the plane.

PETER
We made it.

KATE
I hope we didn't forget anything.

INT. HOUSE - UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - THIRD FLOOR DOOR - MORNING
It's closed. A long beat. The door opens. Kevin pokes his head out.

EXT. AIRPORT - MORNING
An Air France 747 takes off. In a thundering ROAR.

INT. HALLWAY - MORNING
O.S. a TOILET FLUSHES. Kevin exits the bathroom, heads down the hall, to stairs. He's yawning, scratching his rump.
47 INT. FOYER - MORNING
Kevin comes down the stairs. Still unaware that he's alone.

48 INT. KITCHEN - MORNING
Kevin walks in, turns ON the TV and sits down at the kitchen table. He waits for his breakfast to be served.
Kevin sits hunched over, chin resting on his hands, his eyelids slung low, his hair twisted and twirled from sleep. He sits for a long beat before looking to the side.

49 KEVIN'S POV - MORNING
Something is starting to bother Kevin. He slowly sits up. He turns, looking around behind him.

50 KEVIN'S POV - MORNING
The dining room table and chairs. But no people.
Kevin turns back. He slides off the chair and walks to the TV. He turns it OFF and listens.

51 OMITTED

51A INT. 747 FIRST CLASS - MORNING
Kate and Peter are having breakfast. Frank and Leslie are across the aisle from them.

PETER
Do you feel like a heel flying First Class while the kids fly coach?

UNCLE FRANK
When I was a kid we didn't even fly coach. We flew station wagon. And it wasn't to France. They're fine.

KATE
Do you know how strange it's going to be to come home from a vacation to a house where the beds haven't been made?
The bed is unmade. Kevin enters the room.

KEVIN

Dad?

He walks toward the master bath. Kevin peeks into the shower, looks into the linen closet.

KEVIN

Where are you guys?!

THRU OMMITED

INT. BUZZ’S ROOM – MORNING – CLOSEUP-TARANTULA AQUARIUM

THROUGH the glass, PAST the tarantula, we see Kevin step into the room. Kevin scans the room.

KEVIN

Buzz?

HIS POV.

Buzz’s messy room is dominated by sports and muscle heroes. There is a row of sports figurines on one shelf.

INT. BASEMENT – MORNING

He opens the door and looks into the basement.

KEVIN

Is this a joke? Megan? Rod? Uncle Frank? Uncle Frank? Is this a joke?

HIS POV

Moving from one side to the other, past the accumulated rubbish of a couple of generations. Boxes, old furnishings, lamps, discarded toys, a huge, old boiler with wrapped pipes that look like tentacles reaching into the floor and the house above, a pair of naked store mannequins, a work bench loaded with old tools, jars of nails and paint cans and finally, a collection of a dozen, old, tattered, marionettes hanging from the rafters by their strings. It’s an altogether unsettling place for a lonely, young boy.

CLOSEUP KEVIN

He gulps at the mass of potentially scary material.
24.

55B INT. HOUSE - BASEMENT STAIRS - MORNING
Kevin charges up the stairs as fast as he can go and slams the door.

56 thru OMITTED

60 EXT. HOUSE - PORCH - MORNING
Kevin unlocks the door and peeks out into the yard.

HIS POV
The garage door is open. A Ford wagon and a Ford Taurus are parked in the garage.

CLOSSEUP KEVIN
A look of deep concern.

KEVIN
The cars are still here. They didn't go to the airport!
(worried)
Oh, no. What did I do?

He goes back inside.

61 INT. KITCHEN - MORNING
Kevin leans on the counter to sort things out in his mind. Something occurs to him. He slowly looks down at the counter and recoils. The coffee maker is still "on." A full pot. Kevin is in horror as he comes to a chilling conclusion.

KEVIN
I made my family disappear!

62 EXT. SKY - DAY
The Air France 747 drifts AWAY FROM CAMERA.

62A OMITTED

63 EXT. STREET - DAY
A dirty, salt-stained Ford van drives slowly down the street. Painted on the side of the van is -- "OH-KAY HEATING AND PLUMBING."
Two men in the van. The one driving we recognize as the police officer from the night before. He's no longer in uniform. His name is HARRY LYME. His partner, MARVIN MURCHENS, sits beside Harry. Marvin is in his late thirties. A police blotter perfect crook. Thin. Bad skin. Heavy brow. Circles under his deep set eyes. Tattoos on the back of his hands. These two are obvious burglars.

HARRY
Five families gone on one block alone. And they told me from their own mouths.

MARV
It's almost too easy.

HARRY
Remember the old days, Marv? When everybody stayed home for the Holidays?

MARV
Now it's off to Hawaii. Aspen. Paris. Whatever happened to just sittin' around the fireplace with your family...? Roastin' chestnuts ...? Singin' Christmas Carols?

HARRY
People have become too cynical. Too jaded. Just another sign of ongoin' moral decay of contemporary society.

MARV
Yeah...
(long pause)
So which house you wanna' hit first?

Kevin yells at the top of his voice.

KEVIN
Somebody? Anybody? I'm starving!

Harry and Marv's van pulls deep into the neighbor driveway.
CAMERA SWINGS BACK to reveal the McCallister house a few doors down.
67 INT. KITCHEN - DAY

Kevin's in the kitchen, standing before the open refrigerator.

KEVIN
I don't remember the food groups!

68 INT. NEIGHBOR'S HOUSE - BASEMENT - DAY

A cellar door bursts open. Harry and Marv enter.

OMITTED

74A INT. FAMILY ROOM - DAY

CLOSE-UP TELEVISION SET

A McCallister family video is playing. The image is a hand held shot of a Busch Garden's brochure. CAMERA ZOOMS BACK to reveal that Megan is holding the brochure. She's wearing a nightgown. The drapes are drawn. Kevin is in his pajamas. We hear PETER NARRATING.

PETER
We're here in our luxurious hotel at Busch Gardens in Tampa Bay Florida.

74B INT. KITCHEN - CLOSE-UP ICE CREAM CARTON - DAY

A half gallon container sits on the counter. Dripping. A sticky, ice-cream-covered serving spoon rests on the counter beside the container.

74C INT. FAMILY ROOM - DAY

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

He's sitting in his father's chair in the family room watching the video tape. He's eating a huge bowl of ice cream. Between bites, he dips Cheetos into the ice cream. He's drinking a Pepsi.

CLOSE-UP TELEVISION

Kevin is now standing next to Megan. He slips on an elephant mask with a rubber trunk. Buzz steps INTO FRAME. He's in shorts with no shirt.

PETER
Our first guest is Kevin the elephant boy McCallister.
BUZZ
(stepping around behind Kevin)
Hold on, Dad. Elephants don’t wear...
Buzz slaps his hands to Kevin’s hips and yanks down his pajama bottoms.

BUZZ
PAJAMAS!
Kevin swings at him and catches Megan in the belly.

OOF! YOU LITTLE BASTARD!

PETER (O.S.)
CUT IT OUT!
The CAMERA swings down and goes off. It goes back on with Kevin yelling and screaming to Peter.

KEVIN
THIS IS THE WORST VACATION OF MY LIFE!
HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE SOMEBODY PULL YOUR PANTS DOWN IN FRONT OF FEMALE RELATIVES WITH BIG MOUTHS?
HUH?!

Kate rushes into FRAME and speaks to the CAMERA.

KATE
Buzz! Turn that damn thing off!
(to Kevin)
Get in the other room!

KEVIN
Buzz pants’d me!

KATE
I don’t care what Buzz did, nobody in this family hits anybody!

KEVIN
Why am I always the one who gets in trouble? I should never have come here with your stupid children.

KATE
Maybe you’d like to spend this vacation by yourself?

KEVIN
Fine.
KATE
We oughta just leave you and teach you a lesson.
(to CAMERA)
BUZZ! SHUT THAT THING OFF!

CLOSE-UP KEVIN
He points the remote at the TV.

CLOSE-UP TV
The tape rewinds, stops and starts.
KEVIN
Fine.

KATE
We oughta just leave you and teach
you a lesson.

The FRAME FREEZES.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN
A little grin sneaks across his lips.

75 CLOSEUP - KEVIN - DAY
He bounces IN and OUT OF FRAME.

76 INT. MEGAN'S BEDROOM - DAY
Kevin's jumping on the bed as he eats microwave popcorn.

77 CLOSEUP - PLAYBOY MAGAZINE - DAY
A stack of Playboys.

77A INT. BUZZ'S BEDROOM - DAY
Kevin has gone through Buzz's room and discovered his secret suitcase. He's looking through a Playboy. It's not so great.

KEVIN
No clothes on anybody. Sickenind.

He flips it aside, reaches into the trunk and comes up with a package of firecrackers.

KEVIN
Cool.
He reaches into it again and comes up with a handful of candy.

KEVIN
I'll save this for later.
(yells)
Buzz? I'm going through all your private stuff! You better come out and pound me!

He pulls out a 4x6 school photo of a girl.

KEVIN
Buzz! Your girlfriend? Woof!

78 INT. HALLWAY - DAY
Kevin comes out of Buzz's room with a stack of sports figurines. He crosses to the laundry chute and opens the door.

KEVIN
We'll just store these...

He dumps the sports figurines down the chute. He listens as they clang and bang down to the basement.

KEVIN
...in the basement.

He heads down the stairs.

81 INT. KITCHEN - DAY - CLOSEUP - ICE CREAM CARTON
A half gallon container sits on the counter. Dripping. A sticky, ice-cream-covered spoon protrudes from the container.

82 CLOSEUP - VCR - DAY
A movie is playing. We hear the dialogue.

MAN'S (V.O.)
Who is it?!

SECOND MAN'S (V.O.)
It's me, Winston. I got the stuff.

MAN'S (V.O.)
Leave it on the doorstep and get the hell outta here.
SECOND MAN'S (V.O.)
Aright, Johnny. But what about my money?

83 CLOSEUP - TV - DAY
An action film is now playing. A door opens and a burly, scar-faced mobster looks out.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
What money?

A thin, ashen-faced young man cowers at the sight of the mobster.

MAN'S (V.O.)
Acey said you'd have some dough for me.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
That a fact? How much do I owe you?

84 INT. FAMILY ROOM - DAY
Kevin is sitting in his father's chair, watching the videotape. He's eating a huge bowl of ice cream. He's drinking a Pepsi.

KEVIN
You guys? I'm watching an 'R' movie! You better stop me!

MAN'S (V.O.)
Acey said ten percent.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
Too bad Acey ain't in charge no more.

MAN'S (V.O.)
What do you mean?

MOBSTER (V.O.)
He's upstairs taking a bath. He'll call you when he gets out.

85 CLOSEUP - TV - DAY

The young man rears back in horror. He knows that Acey is dead. The mobster leans in. CLOSE and ugly.
MOBSTER (V.O.)
I’ll tell you what I’m gonna give you, Snakes. I’m gonna give you to the count of ten to get your ugly, yella, no-good ass off my property before I pump your guts fulla lead.

MAN’S (V.O.)
Aright, Johnny. I’m sorry. I’m goin’.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
One! Two! ... Ten!

The mobster lifts a MACHINE GUN INTO FRAME and OPENS FIRE.

Kevin’s eyes are open wide. Filled with horror. The GUNFIRE ENDS.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
Keep the change, you filthy animal.

Kevin grabs the remote control and STOPS the movie to avoid seeing the bloody carcass.

KEVIN
Mom!

CLOSEUP – KATE – FIRST CLASS SECTION – NIGHT

She’s sleeping against Peter’s shoulder. Suddenly, her eyes pop out. She sits up. CAMERA PULLS BACK. A movie plays in the cabin. The plane’s shades are drawn.

Passengers are watching and chuckling. Peter lowers his book and looks at Kate. She’s in the first stages of a full panic. She opens her purse.

PETER
What’s the matter?

Kate rummages through the purse, comes up with passports and money.

PETER
Honey?

KATE
I have a terrible feeling.

PETER
About what?

KATE
That we didn’t do something?
PETER
(smiles warmly)
It’s just that we left in a hurry.
We took care of everything.

KATE
I turned off the coffee?

PETER
I did.

KATE
You locked up?

Peter nods in the affirmative. Her thoughts are coalescing, taking a disturbing form.

KATE
Put the timers on the lights?

PETER
Yeah...

Peter starts to worry that they’ve forgotten something important.

PETER
I closed the garage?

Kate nods slowly.

KATE
Did you put the answering machine on?

Peter thinks. That’s the one.

PETER
No. That’s it. I forgot to put on the machine.

KATE
That’s not it.

She thinks. Peter thinks.

PETER
I don’t know. What else could we be forgetting?

She stares into his eyes. It suddenly occurs to Kate what’s troubling her. She grabs Peter’s arm. She screams.

KATE
Kevin!

Her cry coincides with a funny moment in the airplane movie and is covered by the passengers’ laughter.
88 INT. HOUSE - FOYER - STAIRS - DUSK

Kevin is at the top of the stairs on his saucer sled. He pushes off, flies down the stairs, across the foyer floor and out the door.

89 EXT. PORCH - DUSK

Kevin shoots out of the door, jumps the porch and crashes in the yard.

Kevin rolls over. Dazed and sore. He's taken a big hit. He sits up and rubs his roasted ass. He glances around slowly. The sun is setting. A florid, yellow, purple and black winter sunset. Kevin looks up. The bare trees move in the breeze. Kevin is getting nervous. He looks across the street. To old man Marley's house. Marley is scraping his front walk with a snow shovel. Kevin Freaks.

90 EXT. HOUSE - DUSK - WIDE

The street lights go on. Kevin jumps up and runs into the house. He slams the door.

91 INT. 747 - FIRST CLASS - NIGHT

Kate's calmed down a fraction. Frank and Leslie are doing their best to console both Kate and Peter.

AUNT LESLIE
We'll call as soon as we land. I'm sure everything's okay.

Kate isn't interested in Leslie's consolations. Frank leans across.

UNCLE FRANK
(to Peter)
If it makes you feel any better, I forgot my reading glasses.

92 EXT. STREET - NIGHT - LATER

The street lamps are fading "On". Harry and Marv's van is parked at the far end of the street.
Harry and Marv sit inside, surveying the street. Harry glances from his wristwatch to the various houses.

HARRY
Check it out. All the houses with nobody home have automatic timers on their lights... I got it all figured out... Number 1128 should go on right about... now...

Outside, the white Christmas house lights of address #1128 turn on. Harry points to another house, while glancing to his watch.

HARRY
Number 1135... Now.

Outside, the McCallister house lights FLASH ON. Harry smiles.

HARRY
That’s the one, Marvin. That’s the silver tuna.

MARV
It’s very G.

HARRY
It’s loaded. Lots of top-flight goods. Antiques, collectibles, objects d’art. Lots of kids means lots of stereos, VCR’s, TV’s. We’re probably looking at some nice jewelry, possible cash hoard, the odd marketable security. Who knows. It’s a gem.

MARVIN
We’ll probably need a night and day in there to clean it out.

HARRY
Grab the crowbar.

---

92B EXT. HOUSE - LATER

The house is dark.

93 INT. MCCALISTER FAMILY ROOM - NIGHT

Kevin is asleep. The house is silent. Dark. Save for the exterior Christmas lights, which throw strange, elongated shadows along the walls. The outside wind is strong.

He hears a sound. His name. Echoing in a scratchy, eerie whisper. Kevin. Kevin. Kevin. He slowly turns to the sound. It is only a branch, scratching against the window.

Kevin takes a breath, gathers his courage, attempting to calm himself.

KEVIN
Okay. Just relax. Stay calm. Just like Dad always says, "Don't let your fears get the best of you. It's all in your imagination."

Suddenly, Kevin hears more voices. Singing. An a cappella, devilish version of "Silent Night". Kevin turns.

The nutcrackers are singing. Their mouths flapping wildly.

93A INT. FOYER - NIGHT

Kevin skids to a stop. A long, shadow of a man in a hat is on the wall. The shadow transforms into a "Night On Bald Mountain" demon. Kevin jumps back, cries out and runs out of the room. CAMERA WHIPS to the source of a shadow. It's only a hat and coat, hanging from the hall cloak rack. The shadow is back to normal.

93B INT. DINING ROOM - NIGHT

Kevin dashes inside. Face to face with the Grandfather Clock. The clock suddenly comes to life. Its face and body distorts for a moment, scaring the hell out of Kevin. Kevin screams and dashes out of the room.

93C INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT

Kevin stops. Catches his breath. Gets a sudden chill.

KEVIN
It's freezing.
(a realization)
The furnace.
(a worse realization)
The pilot light.
93D INT. BASEMENT - NIGHT

A LOW ANGLE WIDE SHOT, from the bottom of the basement stairs. The top stair opens. Kevin stands here, looking down at the longest descent of his life.

CLOSE-UP: KEVIN.

Pondering.

KEVIN
Like Dad always says "You gotta face your fears if you wanna' conquer 'em."

(gulp)
If I don't face my fears now... I'll be a dreamsicle by tomorrow morning.

Kevin takes a deep breath. He slowly takes a step. Into the basement. The stair creaks. Kevin gingerly walks down the stairs. The basement is dark. Damp.

He arrives at the bottom of the stairs. Kevin's foot hits something. He looks down.

It's the mannequin head. Its blank features have been replaced by a face. The head is alive. It SPEAKS to Kevin.

MANNEQUIN HEAD
Only a dummy would come into the basement.

The mannequin head laughs. Joined by more laughter. Kevin looks up. The other mannequins are laughing. Headless bodies slap their knees. Disembodied heads chuckle.

Kevin closes his eyes.

KEVIN
It's not real.

Kevin slowly opens his eyes. The mannequins are calm. Quiet. The head at his feet is faceless. Kevin turns. He looks at the enormous FURNACE ahead of him.

Kevin slowly walks to the furnace. He gets to his knees and moves toward a mouth-like opening, located near the bottom of the furnace. Kevin reaches for the lever that opens the furnace. He pulls the lever forward. A loud grinding sound is heard. The mouth opens. Kevin peers inside.

KEVIN'S POV

A red button. Tiny letters read: PILOT above the sign. A few mousetraps, laced with cheese, are scattered on the floor in front of the pilot light.
A nervous Kevin slowly moves his arm into the opening. His trembling hands pass only inches above the mousetraps.

The sound of several squealing mice fill Kevin's head. Getting louder. Louder. Kevin closes his eyes to stop the sound.

KEVIN

STOP!

The sounds stop. Kevin continues to move his hand toward the pilot light button.

He presses the button.

The furnace erupts.

Kevin jumps back and looks up.

The furnace has COME TO LIFE. Its mouth roars. Its dials become bulging eyes. Steam rushes from its cracked pipes.

Kevin turns and runs up the stairs. CAMERA PANS BACK to the furnace. It is calm. Still. Purring gently.

INT. FAMILY ROOM - NIGHT

Kevin wakes up with a scream.

EXT. CHARLES DEGAULLE INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT - MORNING

The 747 touches down.

EXT. MCCALLISTER HOUSE - NIGHT

Harry and Marv's Ford van pulls in the driveway.

INT. VAN - NIGHT.

Harry shuts off the lights and turns off the engine. They exit the van.

INT. FAMILY ROOM - NIGHT

Kevin's sitting in the chair, breathing heavy, shaking off the dream. He looks at the TV. He scrambles to his feet and turns on the light. he turns on another.
93P EXT. HOUSE - BACK YARD - NIGHT
    Harry and Marv walk down the cellar stairs

93Q INT. BASEMENT - NIGHT
    Harry and Marv peek in the dirty windows of the cellar door.

93R EXT. HOUSE - CELLAR STAIRS - NIGHT
    Harry positions his crowbar at the jamb. Behind them we see light.

93S INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT
    Kevin’s turned on the kitchen lights. He carefully opens the basement stairs and...
    CLOSE-UP SWITCH
    He turns on the basement lights.

93T INT. BASEMENT - CLOSE-UP HARRY AND MARV - NIGHT
    Through the glass, looks of shock.

93U INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT
    Kevin turns on the kitchen TV and the radio.

93V EXT. HOUSE - CELLAR STAIRS - NIGHT
    Harry and Marv hear the TV. They turn to see the light.

    HARRY Shit.

    MARV
    I thought you said they were gone?!?

    HARRY
    They were supposed to leave this morning!

    MARV
    We gotta get outta here!

    They race across the back yard, back to their van.
INT. AIRPORT - ARRIVAL AREA - MORNING

ROB McCALLISTER, his wife, GEORGETTE, their eight year old son, KEITH, and eleven year old son, STEFFAN. Rob looks down at his kids.

ROB
Okay, kids. Try the sign.

The kids grumble and unenthusiastically unfurl a long computer sign that reads -- WELCOME TO PARIS! MERRY CHRISTMAS. Rob is craning his neck to see over the crowd. He spots the McCallisters.

ROB
There they are!

Rob puts his arm around Georgette and grins.

ROB
Look how excited they are to see us!

ROB'S POV - MORNING

Kate and Peter lead the horde from the arriving flight. They're running. Aunt Leslie, Uncle Frank and the kids trail behind. Nothing is stopping Peter and Kate.

Pete! Kate!

INT. AIRPORT - MORNING

Peter and Kate burst through the sign. Uncle Frank and Aunt Leslie follow, then the kids, all running past. Rob, Georgette and his family are completely stunned.

CLOSEUP -PAY PHONE AREA - MORNING

In the foreground. The running throng approaches, like a festive, holiday marathon. Kate arrives and grabs the phone. She turns and shouts orders to the others.
KATE
I'm gonna try our house. Peter, you call the Bensons. If they're home, they can run over and get Kev.
(to the kids)
Kids. Get some change. Start calling people you know.
(to Leslie)
Leslie. Frank. Take my address book. Call anybody who lives on our street. Maybe somebody will still be home.

139 OMITTED

139A INT. MCCALLISTER HOUSE - UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - NIGHT
CLOSEUP KEVIN
Kevin sitting on the top stair. He's terrified and breathing heavily.

140 INT. AIRPORT - PHONE AREA DAY - KATE AND PETER
Kate stands at the phone, listening with distress. In the background, the kids huddle around another phone, trying various numbers.
Aunt Leslie and Uncle Frank are on another telephone. Kate hangs up the phone. Frustrated.

KATE
The phone's still out of order.
Kate hurriedly dials another number.

141 INT. POLICE STATION - NIGHT
A switchboard OPERATOR answers a call.

OPERATOR
Oak Park Police Department. Mmm Hmmm. You want to report a missing child?

142 INT. AIRPORT - DAY/NIGHT
The following scene INTERCUTS BETWEEN the switchboard Operator and Kate, between DAY/NIGHT.

KATE
He's not missing.
Peter reacts instinctively to the strength of the word.
PETER

Missing?

KATE
(waves him silent)
He’s at home. We left on an overseas flight and somehow, we had eleven kids, somehow we overlooked him.

OPERATOR
The child is not missing?

KATE
(frustration growing)
Ma’am. I need someone to go to my house and see if my child is alright and to tell him that...

She looks to Peter.

PETER
We’re coming home for him.

KATE
...that we’re coming home for him.

OPERATOR
Let me connect you with family crisis intervention.

KATE
It’s not a family crisis.

OPERATOR
(making the transfer)
Hold on.

Kate curses silently, and silently turns to Peter.

KATE
Go down to the ticket counter. Book a flight.

PETER
For all of us?

KATE
There’s no sense taking the kids. You stay here with them. I’ll go get Kevin and come back.
(tender)
You hold Christmas for us.

Peter nods, gives a comforting smile and hurries off to the ticket counter. A voice interrupts Kate on the phone.
KATE

Hello?

143 INT. POLICE STATION - OFFICE - NIGHT/DAY

A grumpy, prune faced officer in a rumpled uniform sits behind a desk. His PHONE RINGS and he answers.

OFFICER BALZAK

Family crisis intervention. Sergeant Balzak.

KATE

(begins to explain)

Hi... Look... I'm calling from Paris... I have a little boy who's home alone...

OFFICER BALZAK

Has the child been involved in a violent altercation with a drunken or mentally ill family member?

KATE

No...

OFFICER BALZAK

Has the child been involved in a household accident?

KATE

I don't think so...

OFFICER

Has the child swallowed poison or an object that has become lodged in his throat?

KATE

(hysterical)

NO! HE'S JUST HOME ALONE! I JUST WANT YOU TO SEND SOMEBODY OVER TO THE HOUSE! JUST TO CHECK ON HIM!

OFFICER

You want someone to go over to your house and check on your son?

KATE

(breathless)

YES!

OFFICER

Let me transfer you to the police department.
KATE
But they just transferred me to you...

OFFICER
(making the transfer)
Hold on.

Kate stops herself from smashing the receiver into the wall. The kids, Leslie and Frank surround her. Kate gives a hopeful look.

KATE
Any luck?

The kids shake their heads. Kate turns to Frank and Leslie. They shake their heads.

AUNT LESLIE
Nothing but a bunch of answering machines.

INT. HOUSE - UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - NIGHT
Kevin stands up. The sadness is gone. He’s finding his courage.

INT. FRENCH AIRPORT - TICKET COUNTER - DAY
Peter is there. Kate walks into the scene. Peter turns to Kate. He is solemn.

PETER
Tonight’s flights are all booked.

KATE
To Chicago.

PETER

KATE
What about a private plane?

PETER
I checked. Nothing. I’m booking you on a flight that leaves Friday morning.

KATE
Friday morning? That’s two days from now.
Kate gives a frustrated sigh. Peter tries to comfort her.

PETER
Look, honey... We've done all we can here... The kids are exhausted. Let's go to Rob's. We can call the police again from there...

KATE
(strong-willed)
No. I have a child at home alone. I'm not leaving here unless it's on an airplane.

Peter sighs, helpless. The TICKET AGENT, a French woman with a light accent, having overheard the conversation, looks at Kate.

TICKET AGENT
Ma'am... If you stay at the airport... Maybe we can get you on standby... There's a very slim chance that a seat will open up... And you may have to wait several hours... But it is the Holiday season. Miracles can happen.

Kate nods. It's her only hope.

148 EXT. MCCALLISTER HOUSE - FRONT DOOR - NIGHT

The door swings open. Kevin marches out to the end of the driveway. Angry, he looks left and right and yells at the top of his little voice.

KEVIN
I'm not afraid anymore!

Mr. Marley steps out of the darkness, standing a few feet in front of Kevin. Marley is holding the snow shovel. He nods to Kevin. Kevin's eyes pop wide in fear. His face goes white. He screams, turns and runs into the house. He slams the door. Marley turns to the curb and continues poking the handle at a clog in the gutter.

149 OMITTED

149A INT. FOYER - NIGHT

149B INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT
Kevin runs down the back stairs screaming. He stops at the foot of the stairs. He sees he’s run back down stairs, turns and runs back up. Screaming.

149C INT. KEVIN’S BEDROOM - NIGHT
Kevin jumps into his bed and scrambles under the covers.

149D EXT. KEVIN’S HOUSE - NIGHT
A Police Officer steps up on the porch and rings the bell.

149E INT. KEVIN’S BEDROOM - NIGHT
CLOSEUP KEVIN
He peaks out from under the covers. He’s shocked.

149F EXT. FRONT PORCH - NIGHT
The Officer bangs on the door.

149G INT. KEVIN’S BEDROOM - NIGHT
CLOSEUP KEVIN
His eyes are wide with terror. He pulls the covers over his head.

149H EXT. HOUSE - NIGHT
The Police Officer steps back and looks up at the house. It looks okay to him. He returns to his car.

150 INT. DEGAULLE AIRPORT - DAY
A soft, sweet voice croons "I’LL BE HOME FOR CHRISTMAS" in French over the airport speakers. Peter and the kids say their goodbyes to Kate. With a final kiss, Peter and the kids join Rob and the rest of the family. They exit. Kate watches for a moment. Saddened. She takes a seat. Alone in the crowded airport.

151 OMITTED
EXT. MCCALLISTER HOUSE - NEXT MORNING

A dark, grey day.

INT. BATHROOM - DAY

He's taken a shower. His hair is wet and he has a towel wrapped around his waist. He's being very adult and very conscientious about his brushing.

KEVIN
I took a shower, washing every body part with actual soap including all my major crevices including between my toes and my belly button which I never did before but sort of enjoyed. I washed my hair with adult-formula shampoo and I used cream rinse for the just-washed shine. I can't find my toothbrush so I'll pick one up when I go out today. Other than that I'm in good shape.

He opens a bottle of after-shave, splashes a quantity on his hands, as his father does, and slaps it on his cheeks. He smiles at himself. Then screams!

EXT. MCCALISTER HOUSE - DAY

We hear Kevin scream inside.

INT. BUZZ'S ROOM - DAY

Kevin pulls a chair over to a shelving unit attached to the wall. He stands on the chair and tries to reach to the top of the unit and a tin baseball card box. Kevin reaches up, woefully short-armed. He tests the strength of the shelf with his foot. He begins to climb the shelf unit. He gingerly steps up on the next shelf, then the next. He makes it to the top. His little fingers barely touch the box.

The box slides forward into his hand as the shelving unit pulls away from the wall. The shelf unit topples, throwing Kevin and everything on the shelves to the floor. CRASH!

The tin box hits the floor and splits open, spilling coins and crumpled bills.
Kevin emerges stunned and shocked, but unharmed from the heap of rubbish that was once Buzz's shelves. CAMERA PANS a few feet away.

The tarantula is free from its shattered aquarium. It skates across the floor.

162 EXT. HOUSE - BACK DOOR - LATER - DAY

Kevin comes out the door, bundled in his coat, hat and scarf. He leaves the door WIDE OPEN, as he would if his mother were there to close it for him. He jumps down off the porch and heads around the corner of the house, to the driveway.

163 EXT. HOUSE - FRONT YARD - DAY

Kevin tiptoes around the corner of the house. He glances across the street, to Marley's house, making sure that the coast is clear. It is. Kevin breathes a sigh of relief. He comes down the drive to the sidewalk and heads up the street. He glances to his left.

164 HIS POV - DAY

The van is parked far up the driveway of the MURPHY house across the street. They're back.

Kevin notes the van with curiosity. He whispers to himself.

KEVIN
I thought the Murphy's went to Florida...

Kevin shrugs and EXITS FRAME, hurrying by Marley's house.

165A EXT. PARIS - NIGHT

The Christmas lights are shining bright. Traffic's moving. The city is charged with spirit and movement. CAMERA PULLS BACK. This is the view from the window of

166 INT. ROB MCCALLISTER'S APARTMENT - NIGHT

Peter stands in the foreground on the telephone. Megan and Buzz are talking.
MEGAN
You aren't even worried. Are you?

BUZZ
Why should I be?

MEGAN
He's home alone.

BUZZ
Good. He's acted like an asshole once too many times and this time he caught it in the butt.

MEGAN
He's so little and helpless. Don't you think he's flipped out?

BUZZ
He's probably going through a stage ten brain fry-down right now, but he asked for it.

MEGAN
You're really cruel.

BUZZ
The little trout can use a couple days in the real world.

MEGAN
You're not at all worried that something might happen to him?

BUZZ
No. For three reasons. A. I'm not that lucky. 2. We have smoke detectors and D. We live on the most boring street in the United States of America where nothing even remotely dangerous is ever, did ever, or will ever happen. Period.

167 OMITTED

167A INT. MURPHY'S HOUSE - BEDROOM - DAY

Marv and Harry are sacking the house. Marv is dumping drawers. The PHONE RINGS. He freezes. AN ANSWERING MACHINE CLICKS ON.
MALE VOICE (V.O.)
Hello. We're not home right now.
If you'll leave your name and number, and the time you called, we'll get back to you as soon as possible.
Thank you.

BEEP.

PETER (V.O.)
Chuck? This is Peter McCallister again. We're in Paris. At my brother's apartment. Let me give you the number here... The country code is...

As Peter recites the number, Marv recognizes something in Peter's message.

MARV
Harry! The house we were at last night, was that McCallister?

HARRY (O.S.)
Yeah.

MARV
(smiles)
You're right. They're gone.

168 INT. DRUGSTORE - DAY

CLOSE-UP PHARMACY CLERK

LEANING INTO CAMERA. A WOMAN in her mid-fifties. A little too much make-up, a little too much hairspray. She's grinning.

CLERK
How may I help you?

DRUG STORE

It's a small, local drug store. Drugs. Toiletries. Notions.
Kevin's at the pharmacy counter. He sets a toothbrush on the counter.

KEVIN
Is this toothbrush approved by the American Dental Association?

DOOR - CLOSE-UP FEET

The door opens and a pair of worn galoshes shuffle in.
PHARMACY COUNTER

The clerk is wearing half-glasses trying to read the printing on the toothbrush package.

CLERK

It doesn’t say, hon.

STORE - CLOSE-UP GALOSHES

Shuffling down an aisle.

CLOSE-UP CLERK

She sets down the toothbrush and turns back to the counter.

CLERK

Herb? I have a question about a toothbrush.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

He awaits his answer. He reaches into his pocket and takes a twenty dollar bill. Behind him a FIGURE approaches.

CLOSE-UP COUNTER

Kevin fiddles with the toothbrush. He turns it over. Suddenly, a bloodied hand slaps down on the counter.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

His eyes open wide in fear as he looks at the hand.

HIS POV - CLOSE-UP HAND

CAMERA follows the hand up to a tattered overcoat sleeve to...!

CLOSE-UP MARLEY

He’s looking down at Kevin. A HORROR STING.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

TERROR! He backs away from the counter.

CLOSE-UP CLERK

She turns back to the counter.

HER POV

Marley’s at the counter, looking back at Kevin as he moves away from the counter. The toothbrush is still in his hand.
CLOSE-UP CLERK

She calls to Kevin.

CLERK

Hon? you pay for that here.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

He doesn't hear her, pays her no mind, doesn't think that he has the toothbrush in his hand. He's only interested in getting out.

HIS POV

MOVING AWAY. The Clerk is calling to him. Marley's watching him.

CLERK

Son? Come back! Hey!

STORE-WIDER.

Kevin keeps moving, not taking his eyes off Marley.

CLOSE-UP CLERK

She yells.

CLERK

Stop that boy!

CLOSE-UP STOCKBOY

He looks up from the shelf he's stocking.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

He's overwhelmed by panic. He turns and bursts out of the store.

EXT. TOWN SQUARE - DAY

Kevin speeds out of the drugstore, across the street, past Santa's Village. The Stockboy breakout of the store and charges after Kevin, who runs across the street, past Santa's Village. A police car is parked a few feet away. The Stockboy sees the cop, grins, puts his fingers to his mouth and whistles, waving to the cop. The police car stops. THE COP rolls down his window and looks to the Stockboy

STOCKBOY

Shoplifter!
People within earshot turn at the Stockboy's cry. All eyes are upon Kevin. Accusing. Angry. A frightened Kevin sprints.
Pumping his legs as hard and fast as they'll go. The cop begins to follow Kevin, chasing the scared little boy through the town square.

170A KEVIN'S MOVING POV

Ice skaters leaping out of his path.

170B EXT. TOWN SQUARE

The cop attempts to make his way across the ice rink. Stumbling. He takes a few steps and FLIPS BACKWARD, falling on his ass. Kevin emerges on the opposite side of the rink. Kevin escapes across a bridge leading into the suburbs. He glances back.

KEVIN'S POV

The cop is being helped to his feet by two skaters.

Kevin turns and continues running, DISAPPEARING into the suburbs.

176 INT. DRUGSTORE - PHARMACY COUNTER - DAY

Marley is paying for a purchase.

INSERT - A BANDAID BOX

177 EXT. NEIGHBORHOOD STREET - LATER - DAY

Kevin shuffles down the street, tired, cold and frightened. He looks at the toothbrush in his hand.

KEVIN
I'm a criminal.

178 INT. MURPHY HOUSE ACROSS STREET - LIVING ROOM - DAY

It has been sacked, thoroughly searched and plundered. Cabinets are smashed and overturned, tables upended. The drapes are drawn. Marv comes down from upstairs with a heavy cotton sack in one hand, a VCR in the other.
He exits toward the back of the house.

As he passes through the kitchen, Marv stuffs a dish towel in the sink drain. He turns on the water. He grins sadistically.

179 EXT. HOUSE - DAY

Harry's in the van. The MOTOR'S RUNNING. Marv comes out, looks to the street and quickly deposits his loot in the van.

180 INT. VAN - DAY

A huge haul from the house sits in the back of the van. The door slides shut. A grinning Marv gets inside. Harry glares at him.

HARRY

You did it again. Didn't ya'? You left the water runnin'.

Marv continues to smile deviously, saying nothing.

HARRY

I told you to stop that. There's no reason for it.

MARV

Harry... It's our calling card. All the great ones leave their mark. We're the 'Wet Bandits.'

Harry stares incredulously at Marv for a moment, then puts the van in reverse.

HARRY

Sick bastard.

181 EXT. HOUSE - DRIVEWAY - DAY

The van backs out. Kevin continues to walk down the street.

182 EXT. HOUSE - DAY

The van comes down the drive. Kevin is in line for a collision. Harry glances into the van's side mirror. Kevin is visible in the mirror, walking across the drive. Seeing this, Harry reacts with surprise and jams the brakes on. The van's TIRE LOCKS and SKIDS on the slick pavement. Kevin looks up and around in shock, as the van slides in front of him. Missing him by inches.
KEVIN'S POV - DAY

The van slides to a stop on Harry's face.

HARRY'S POV - DAY

Kevin's frightened little face. Nose nearly touching glass. Harry feigns a look of false concern. He doesn't recognize Kevin. He rolls down his window.

HARRY
Keep an eye out for traffic, son.

Marv leans around Harry and adds his less skillful two cents.

MARV
Santa don't visit the funeral homes, little buddy.

HARRY
Step back.

Kevin takes a step back away from the van. Harry smiles and winks, revealing his gold tooth.

HARRY Merry Christmas!

Kevin recognizes Harry as the police officer who was at his house the night before. Kevin's jaw drops.

The van pulls out of the driveway. Kevin watches it. He starts to run across the street. The van stops.

INT. VAN - DAY

Harry looks back out the window.

MARV
What's the matter?

HARRY
I don't know. I don't like the way the kid looked at me.

MARV
You ever seen him?

HARRY
I seen a hundred kids this week.

MARV
See what house he's goin' to.
Kevin reaches the parkway, when he realizes that the van has stopped. He slows and peeks over his shoulder.

KEVIN
You're not afraid...

The van, waiting in the middle of the street.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN
Kevin wants to cry, he's so scared. He stops when he reaches the sidewalk. He looks at his house. Makes a quick decision, turns and heads down the street, passing the house.

Harry watches the mirror.

Kevin is walking down the street. The van is tailing him. Kevin hurriedly begins to sprint. He turns and disappears around the corner. The van follows.

As Harry and Marv turn the corner, a blank, puzzled look covers Harry's face.

HARRY AND MARV'S POV
The street. Bare. No sign of Kevin. He's disappeared.

Harry and Marv squint. Baffled.

HARRY
Shit! Where'd he go?
193A EXT. STREET - CHURCH - DUSK

Harry and Marv’s van pass the Church. A LIFE-SIZE NATIVITY SCENE decorates the church’s front lawn. Figures of Joseph, Mary, Jesus, the Wise Men and various animals are here. There is also a very realistic LITTLE DRUMMER BOY standing over the manger. Head lowered.

193B EXT. VAN - MOVING SHOT - MARV - DUSK

Staring out the window, at the nativity scene, then looking away.

193C EXT. NATIVITY SCENE - DUSK

CAMERA DOLLIES TOWARD the Little Drummer Boy. He slightly raises his head. It is Kevin, dressed in the statue’s robes and holding the drum. Kevin watches Harry and Marv’s van TURN and DISAPPEAR around the corner.

193D INT. VAN - DUSK

Harry is still baffled.

HARRY

How could he just disappear like that?

MARV

Why don’t we forget it, huh? You shouldn’t be following a kid, man. That’s like sending invitations to the cops.

HARRY

I don’t like the way that kid looked at me.

MARV

You’re just gettin’ an edge on ya’. We’re doin’ good. Now, c’mon. It’s gettin’ dark. Let’s drop this stuff off, get a bite to eat and come back for some more Holiday surprises.

Harry grins. Marv laughs. Harry hits the gas.

193E EXT. NATIVITY SCENE - DUSK

Kevin hurriedly removes the Little Drummer Boy costume. He hurries away from the church. He glances up. The street lamps are turning on. It is getting dark.
Kevin runs as fast as he can. All up and down the block. The CHURCH BELLS strike a fifth time, calling it five o’clock.
The timers in the houses of the people away for the holidays turn on the Christmas lights. Kevin arrives at his driveway.

Kevin runs in and turns on the foyer light, locks the front door, secures the chain and the deadbolt. He collects himself.

KEVIN
This is my house. I have to defend it.

He runs up the stairs.

All of the upstairs and downstairs lights are on. A beat, and the attic lights go on. BRENDA LEE’S "ROCKIN’ AROUND THE CHRISTMAS TREE" FILLS THE SOUNDTRACK. A MONTAGE BEGINS.

The Brenda Lee song plays over the following images: Kevin arranging the living room chairs to face toward the windows, a Piano song book being flipped to "Joy To The World", the Sports hero poster being peeled from Buzz’s wall, an ELECTRIC TRAIN being removed from the closet, a laugh box being removed from Jeff’s drawer, one of the nutcrackers with a rifle being snatched from the piano top, Kevin carrying mannequins up from the basement and carrying stereo speakers from the family room to the kitchen.

A Little Nero’s Pizza delivery car pulls into the driveway. The delivery boy, who we remember from earlier, walks to the porch.

A note attached to the front door. It’s written in child’s hand, it reads: "BACK DOOR, PLEASE."
The Pizza boy reads the note and shrugs. The back door is no problem for him. He hops down off the porch and walks around to the back door.

224 INT. FAMILY ROOM - NIGHT

Kevin is listening to the Brenda Lee song. THE DOORBELL RINGS. Kevin jumps up, turns OFF the CD PLAYER and sneaks into the kitchen.

225 EXT. PORCH - NIGHT

The Pizza Boy tries to look in the window. The kitchen door curtains are closed. He knocks. A voice comes from inside.

MAN (V.O.)
Who is it?

PIZZA BOY Little
Nero's Pizza, sir! I have your pizza.

226 CLOSEUP - TELEVISION - NIGHT

The mobster MOVIE fast-forwards, stops, and the mobster says ...

MOBSTER (V.O.)
Leave it on the doorstep and get the hell outta here.

The picture freezes. MUTE comes on and it steps to the next cut.

227 EXT. PORCH - NIGHT

The Pizza Boy is startled by the angry tone of the man's voice.

PIZZA BOY (timidly)
Okay. But what about the money?

228 INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT

Kevin holds the remote towards the combination TV-VCR. The speakers are hooked up to the television. Kevin un-pauses the video picture.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
What money?

Kevin hits pause, mute and stop.
PIZZA BOY (O.S.)
You have to pay for the pizza, sir.

The picture unfreezes.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
That a fact? How much do I owe you?

230 EXT. PORCH - NIGHT
The Pizza Boy looks at the ticket.

PIZZA BOY
$11.80, sir.

231 INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT
Kevin counts out twelve dollars of Buzz's money. It's difficult for him. He lifts the doggie door and flips the money out.

232 EXT. PORCH - NIGHT
The Pizza Boy reaches down for the money and is disappointed to see that it's only twelve dollars.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
Keep the change, you filthy animal!

PIZZA BOY
(under his breath)
Cheapskate.

233 INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT
Kevin flips on a desk lamp that rests behind the Nutcracker, which is positioned on the counter in front of the door. The Nutcracker's rifle is extended. The light casts a large shadow of the nutcracker on the kitchen curtains. Kevin hits the video "Play" button.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
I'm gonna give you to the count of ten to get your ugly, yella, no good ass off my property ...
234 EXT. PORCH - NIGHT

The Pizza Boy stares fearfully at the shadow of the Nutcracker, which resembles a gangster holding a gun.

MOBSTER (V.O.)
One! Two!... Ten!

234A INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT

Kevin drops a row of LIT FIRECRackers into the metal kitchen garbage can. They EXPLODE, creating a LOUD GUNFIRE SOUND.

234B EXT. BACK PORCH - NIGHT

Hearing the "gunfire", the Pizza Boy picks himself up and scrambles to his car.

235 CLOSEUP - PIZZA CAR - NIGHT - REAR TIRES

They SPIN and the car zips OUT OF FRAME.

236 INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT

Kevin cautiously opens the door and retrieves his pizza. He comes back in, grinning.

KEVIN
A lovely pizza just for me.

237A INT. FRENCH AIRPORT - NIGHT

Kate has snared a MIDDLE-AGED WOMAN and is trying to talk her out of her seat assignment.

KATE
I have the five hundred dollars, pocket translator, the first class -- that's an upgrade from your coach seat.

WOMAN
Is that a real Rolex?

KATE
Do you think it is?

WOMAN
No.
KATE
But who can tell? And I have a ring.

She displays a modest sapphire ring.

WOMAN
It's lovely.

A MIDDLE-AGED MAN joins them.

MAN
Come on, Irene. They're boarding.

WOMAN
This gal's offered us two first class seats back to Chicago next week plus a ring, a watch, a pocket translator, five hundred dollars and...

KATE
The Samsonite luggage.

MAN (thinks)
What do we do about our Christmas plans?

KATE
You forgot the bracelet.

WOMAN
I didn't care for the bracelet.

Kate holds out her wrist.

MAN
I don't like it either.
(shakes his head)
Thanks anyway.

KATE
You liked the necklace, ma'am.

MAN
She's got a necklace.
(to the wife)
Let's go.

KATE
(almost breaking down)
My little boy's home all by himself. I'm desperate. I beg you. From a mother to a mother. Please.

WOMAN
Ed?
MAN
(taps his ear)

He takes her arm and leads her away.

MAN
Say what?

He sneaks a look back at Kate.

CLOSE-UP KATE

She's crushed. Boarding PASSENGERS jostle her as they head for the ramp.

238 EXT. NEIGHBORHOOD - NIGHT

Harry and Marv's van slowly PULLS UP to the front of the McCallister house.

239 INT. VAN - NIGHT

Harry and Marv look out. They exchange puzzled glances and look again to the house.

240 THEIR POV - NIGHT

The lights are all on. Two chairs are turned toward the window. We can see the back of a man's head and the back of a woman's head. They're both wearing hats and jerking slightly back and forth. LAUGHTER and MUSIC is heard.

241 INT. VAN - NIGHT

Marv is completely baffled. He shifts his eyes slightly to the dining room window.

242 EXT. HOUSE - NIGHT

A shirtless sports hero bobs past the dining room window.

243 INT. VAN - NIGHT

Harry looks around Marv. They're both confused.

MARV
Did they come home?
HARRY
From Paris?
They shrug and continue to watch.

244 INT. HOUSE - DINING ROOM - NIGHT

245 INT. LIVING ROOM - NIGHT - CLOSEUP - PIANO KEYS
Kevin's uncertain fingers play with the keys. He tries to concentrate on the sheet music. Each time there is a break in the music, Kevin reaches over and touches the LAUGH BOX, causing the laughter to begin. CAMERA MOVES DOWN FROM the keys TO Kevin's foot. A pair of taut strings are tied to his ankle. He's wiggling his foot to the music.

CAMERA TURNS AWAY to reveal, sitting in the chairs at the window, the mannequins from the basement. They're dressed in Kate and Peter's clothes. String is tied around their waists. The wiggling of Kevin's foot rocks the mannequins in time to the music.

246 INT. VAN - NIGHT
A confused and worried Harry and Marv continue to watch the activity. Marv turns to Harry.

MARV
Somebody's in there.

HARRY
Yeah. C'mon. Let's get outta' here before somebody sees us. We'll come back again tomorrow. Maybe they'll be gone by then.

247 EXT. HOUSE - NIGHT
The van pulls away. CAMERA PANS TO the dining room window. Kevin's head peers up over the windowsill. Seeing the van pull out of the driveway, Kevin smiles to himself.
248 INT. MASTER BEDROOM - LATER - NIGHT

Kevin finishes flossing his teeth, shuts off the bathroom light, turns ON the TV, crosses to the bed and gets in. JOHNNY CARSON.

KEVIN Heeeeeeere's Johnny.

249 OMITTED

250 EXT. PARIS - NIGHT

A cold sun is a moment away from rising.

251 INT. ROB MCCALLISTER'S APARTMENT - GUEST ROOM - NIGHT

Peter is in bed. He's not sleeping. He's staring out the window.

252 CLOSEUP - MEGAN - NIGHT

She's in bed with Linnie. She's not sleeping. CAMERA SLIDES OVER TO Linnie. She's not sleeping, either.

253 CLOSEUP - JEFF - NIGHT

He's in bed with Fuller. Jeff can't sleep either.

254 CLOSEUP - BUZZ - NIGHT

He's snoring like a bear.

254A INT. MASTER BEDROOM - LATER - NIGHT

Kevin watches TV for a moment before the lonely thoughts creep into his head. He turns to the nightstand. He picks up a family portrait in a silver frame.

Kevin pushes out his lower lip to keep from crying as he looks at the photo.

KEVIN
I didn’t mean it. If you come back,
I’ll never be a pain in the butt again. I promise.

He searches for and finds his strength. He addresses the photo.
KEVIN

Good night.

Kevin looks around the room. An instinctive reaction to what will be an embarrassing act. He kisses the picture and puts it back on the nightstand. He turns off the light.

CLOSE-UP TELEVISION

Johnny Carson is reading kid's letters to Santa Claus.

255 OMITTED

256 INT. DEGAULLE AIRPORT - DAWN

Kate is sleeping on the seats. She's curled up with her purse for a pillow. A P.A. ANNOUNCEMENT wakes her.

MALE VOICE

This is the final call for boarding American Airlines flight 561 to Boston connecting to Detroit. Standby passenger McCallister please come to the ticket counter.

Kate sits up. She grabs her purse and her overnight bag. She takes off.

263 INT. GROCERY STORE - NEXT DAY - DAY

Kevin is pushing a grocery cart. He's wearing a hat that's pulled down over his eyes. The collar on his coat is turned up. He stops at the dairy section and picks up a carton of milk.

264 INT. STORE - BREAD AISLE - DAY

Kevin comes down the aisle. He selects a loaf of bread. A WOMAN shopper comes up behind him.

WOMAN

Pushing the cart for Mommy?

KEVIN

Yes, ma'am.
WOMAN
What a good littlehelper you are.
I’ll bet you’ll be getting lots of swell things from Santa tomorrow morning, huh?

KEVIN
You never know.

The woman smiles as she passes him.

KEVIN
Excuse me. What’s the stuff you put in the washing machine to make clothes feel as fluffy soft as a kitten and smell as fresh as a springtime breeze?

The Woman is puzzled by the request.

KEVIN
It’s for... Mommy.

WOMAN
Fabric softener. Two aisles over.

KEVIN
Thank you and have a most Merry,
Merry, Merry Christmas.

He turns his cart around and heads up the aisle.

A college age CHECKOUT GIRL begins ringing up Kevin’s purchases. He smiles at her. She looks at him curiously.
He picks up a "Woman’s Day" and leafs through it. She rings up the milk, fabric softener, bread, soup, a microwave dinner.

KEVIN (refering to the dinner)
Are those any good?

CHECKOUT GIRL
I don’t know.

KEVIN
I’ll give ‘em a whirl.

He goes back to the magazine. The Girl rings up a jar of jelly, a bottle of Tide liquid, a four-pack of toilet paper.
Kevin turns away a little as she rings up the TP.
KEVIN
I wish I could use the stove. I'd make some of these Macafurters.

He shows her the magazine.

KEVIN
They look good, don't they?

He smiles. The Girl nods. She can't figure him out. She rings up a large package of plastic Army men.

The Girl picks up the final item -- a quart carton of orange juice.

KEVIN
Hold on.

He hands her a coupon.

KEVIN
It was in the paper this morning.

She rings up the orange juice, less the coupon savings.

CHECKOUT GIRL
$19.83.

KEVIN
Okay.

Kevin reaches into his jacket and takes out Buzz's twenty.

281 INT. Mccallister House - Basement - Later - Day

Kevin is doing laundry. The laundry cycle is over. He removes Kate's dress. He examines it. The stain is GONE. Kevin smiles to himself.
He places the dress on top of a laundry basket already loaded with clothes. He lifts the basket and heads up the stairs.

281A OMITTED

282 EXT. HOUSE - VAN - DAY
The Ford van is parked deep in the driveway of the house next to the McCallister’s.

283 INT. VAN - DAY
Harry and Marv are studying the back of the McCallister house.

HARRY
I can’t figure it. Right now, it don’t seem like anybody’s home. But last night... The place is jumpin’... Somethin’ ain’t right...

CLOSE-UP HARRY AND MARV
Looking out of the van. Harry opens the door.

MARV
What’re you doing?

HARRY
I’m not convinced.

283A EXT. BACKYARDS- DAY
Harry crosses the neighbors yard to the McCallister’s yard.

283B INT. KITCHEN - DAY
Kevin’s doing dishes. He glances out the window. He freezes.

HIS POV
Harry sneaks across the yards.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN
A flash of fear. He’s too prepared to let it cripple him. He pulls the kitchen curtains closed and jumps down from the chair he’s standing on.
283C INT. FAMILY ROOM - DAY

Kevin races into the family room and slams on the VCR. He grabs the remote and dashes into the kitchen.

283D EXT. HOUSE - BACK PORCH - DAY

Harry walks up the steps and tries to peek in the drapes. He steps back and pushes the doggie door with his foot.

283E INT. KITCHEN - DAY

Kevin nervously watches the door.

HIS POV

The doggie door flaps as Harry kicks it. The door knob rattles.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

He hits the remote. The movie starts.

MAN’S VOICE

Aright, Johnny. But what about my money?

MOBSTER’S VOICE

What money?

283F EXT. HOUSE - BACK PORCH - DAY

Harry’s completely mystified as to who could be in the house.

MOBSTER’S VOICE

He’s upstairs taking a bath. He’ll call you when he gets out.

Harry steps away from the door, jumps off the porch and runs back to the van.

283G INT. VAN - DAY

Harry jumps into the van and slams the door.

MARV

What happened?

HARRY

I’m goin’ nuts! Now there’s two guys in the house and another guy upstairs takin’ a bath.
283H INT. 747 - NIGHT - KATE
She's sleeping on the plane.

283I INT. PARIS APARTMENT - LIVING ROOM - NIGHT
Peter's sitting alone in the living room, looking out at the lights, thinking.

LINNIE
She comes into the room. She's in her pajamas. She can't sleep.

LINNIE
Dad?

CLOSE-UP PETER
He turns to her.

PETER
What're you doing up, sweetheart?

CLOSE-UP LINNIE
She's troubled.

LINNIE
Where's Mom?

WIDER
Peter waves her over to him.

PETER
She stayed at the airport. She's just got on a flight for Detroit.

Linnie sits down next to Peter.

LINNIE
She won't be here for Christmas.
Kevin won't be here for Christmas.
It won't even be like Christmas.

PETER
We're just gonna delay it a little bit.

LINNIE
I think it's a bad idea.

PETER
We don't have much choice, sweetheart.
Families shouldn’t be apart on Christmas. No matter how mean they are to each other the rest of the year. Us here. Them there. It’s stupid, Daddy. Christmas isn’t about Paris.

There’s a lot of truth in what Linnie is saying. He looks away and nods as he comes to a realization.

The van’s still parked in the drive.

Harry and Marv are sleeping, snoring bark strippers.

Kevin comes outside. He slams the door.

One eye opens. He sits up, realizing he’s fallen asleep during his shift. He looks out the window.

Kevin walks down off the porch with a saw and disappears into the back yard.

Harry smacks Marv. He wakes with a start.
HARRY
I got a bad feeling we’re getting scammed by a kindygartener.

MARV
Huh?

312 EXT. HOUSE - BACK YARD - DAY
Kevin saws the top off a six-foot fir tree behind the garage.

313 INT. LIVING ROOM - LATER - DAY
Kevin has put the little tree into the tree stand. He’s found lights and ornaments and is decorating the tree.

314 EXT. HOUSE - BACK YARD - DAY
Marv is on the back porch, trying to look in the doggie door.
Harry is on the other corner. He peeks in a window.

315 INT. LIVING ROOM - CLOSEUP - KEVIN - DAY
THROUGH the tree. He hangs a round, red glass ornament, blocking his face. A beat and he gently pushes the ornament aside and looks ahead fearfully.

316 KEVIN’S POV - DAY
PAST the ornament, THROUGH the tree TO the window and Harry’s face peering in. The ornament slowly returns to its original position. We see Kevin reflected in its surface.

Kevin yells at the top of his voice.

KEVIN
Dad! Can you come here and help me?!

317 EXT. HOUSE - BACK YARD - DAY
Marv has joined Harry. Harry smiles.

HARRY
The kid we saw the other day. He lives here.

MARV
If the kid’s there, the parents gotta be.
Marv grins.

HARRY
(shakes his head)
No. He's home alone.

318  INT. HOUSE - BUZZ'S ROOM - DAY

Kevin runs in, grabs Buzz's BB gun off the rack above his bed, whips open his nightstand drawer and grabs a box of BBs. He dashes out.

319  EXT. HOUSE - CLOSEST WINDOW TO BACKYARD - DAY

Kevin appears in the window with a BB gun. Kevin opens it and looks out.

320  KEVIN'S POV - DAY

Next door. Harry and Marv walk toward their van. They are talking. Kevin listens. Marv is incredulous.

MARV
You can't be serious... You wanna come back tonight?

HARRY MmmHmm.

MARV
Even with the kid here?

HARRY MmmHmm.

MARV
I don't think it's a very good idea...

HARRY
(intense, angry)
Look... That house is the only reason we started workin' this block in the first place. Ever since I laid eyes on that house... I wanted it. That house is the difference between me havin' a good or a bad Christmas. And Marv... I ain't had a good Christmas since 1962.

MARV
That long?

HARRY
That long.
MARV
Gee, Harry. I don't wanna spoil Christmas for ya'.

HARRY
Good. Now let's take this one step at a time... We'll unload the van, take a shower, get a bite to eat and come back tonight... when it's dark... around nine o'clock.

MARV
(smiles)
Yeah. Kids are ascared of the dark.

Kevin listens intently. Harry and Marv get inside the van. The van backs out of the driveway.

321 BACK TO SCENE - DAY

Kevin's face is filled with concern, turning to worry and fear. He whispers to himself in a voice filled with fear.

KEVIN
Mom. Where are you?

321A INT. DETROIT METROPOLITAN AIRPORT - DAY

A heavy snow falls outside. A desperate, tired and worn Kate pleads with the TICKET AGENT.

KATE
Everything's full?

TICKET AGENT
(nods)
It's Christmas Eve.

KATE
What about another airline?

TICKET AGENT
(taps computer)
Nothing available. I suggest you get a hotel room in the city. Tomorrow afternoon... We can get you a flight to Chicago...

KATE
I can't wait that long.

TICKET AGENT
I'm terribly sorry, M'am. There's nothing else I can do. It's hopeless.
KATE
(freaks, snaps)
Hopeless?!... Hopeless?!?... Lady,
I've been awake for almost 60 hours...
I've travelled from Chicago to Paris to to New Jersey just to get home to my eight year old son... And now that I'm this close... you're telling me it's hopeless?!?... Uh-uh. No way.
It's Christmas. The season of goddamn perpetual hope. And I don't care if I have to to hijack a pilot at gunpoint, if I have to fly through a 300 mile wall of solid snow, if it costs me everything I own, or if I have to sell my soul to the devil himself... I'm going to get home to my son!!!

The ticket agent just stares at Kate, as does everyone in the terminal. Suddenly, a hand APPEARS on Kate's shoulder.

GUS
Maybe I can help.

Kate turns. A curly haired man in his late thirties, GUS POLINSKY, stands beside her. Gus is dressed in his travelling clothes. A sky blue banlon shirt, sansabelt slacks, plastic loafers and a red satin jacket with the words "GUS POLINSKI AND THE KENOSHA KICKERS" emblazoned across the back. He is holding an accordion case. Gus extends his hand.

GUS
Gus Polinski. Polka king of the midwest. That's my band over there...
The Kenosha Kickers...

Gus points to a row of men, seated a few feet away, dressed in pastel, banlon shirts and polyester slacks, wearing red satin jackets and holding their packed musical instruments.
Gus continues to speak with Kate.

GUS
You a polka fan?

KATE
A little ...

GUS
Ever heard of the "I Don't Want Her
You Can Take Her She Can't Stuff the Kielbasa Polka"?

KATE
Sounds familiar...
GUS
That's us. Sold six hundred and fifty-eight copies. In Sheboygan alone. That's a record for a polka band.

KATE
Congratulations.

GUS
Yeah. We were playing a 'Holly and Hops' party at the Asbury Park V.F.W. last night. We got a Christmas gig lined up tomorrow at the Milwaukee Jaycees... But they cancelled our flight. So I sent Stash, my clarinet player, to "Avis"... He's gonna rent us a truck. We're gonna brave this treacherous weather and drive to Wisconsin. Since Chi-town's on the way...

(smiles)
I figured you might like to hop a ride with us...

Kate's eyes light. A POLKA version of "HAVE A HOLLY JOLLY CHRISTMAS" FILLS THE SOUNDTRACK. WE CUT TO:

Kevin is standing at the knee of a store Santa.

SANTA
Whatever. You want to tell Santa what you want for Christmas? And let me add that we close soon and Santa has a little party to go to.

KEVIN
Sure. I understand. Okay. I know you're not the real Santa Claus. And to be honest I'm not real sure the real Santa Claus is real but just in case he is I'd like you to tell him something this year from Kevin McCallister, 1135 Rivard Blvd. Do you need the phone number?

Santa shakes his head, no.

KEVIN
Okay. This is extremely important. Would you please tell him that instead of presents this year I just want my family back.

Santa doesn't understand.

KEVIN
No toys. Nothing but Peter, Kate, Buzz, Megan, Linnie and Jeff and my aunt and my cousins and if he has time, my Uncle Frank. Okay?

SANTA
I'll see what I can do.

KEVIN Thanks.

He starts to walk away.

SANTA
You want a candy cane?

KEVIN
No, thanks. I don't want to spoil my appetite.

He pulls his hat down over his eyes and takes off.

CLOSE-UP SANTA
He's completely baffled.
Kevin's walking home. It's dark. The street lights are on. Kevin is walking slowly. He's looking at the houses.

HIS POV - MOVING - NIGHT

A house with lights around the door, lights burning in big windows. People inside celebrating. Kids running around, grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins. It seems as if their excitement and joy was made in the extreme to emphasize Kevin's sorrow.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

Shuffling down the sidewalk, eyes on the house he's passing. He looks forward and stops suddenly.

HIS POV

A young MAN and WOMAN, she carrying a baby, he loaded with gifts, walking from their car which is parked far down in a crowded driveway to the sidewalk of the house Kevin's watching.

EXT. HOUSE - NIGHT

The young family continues up the walk to the house. Kevin stands at the foot of the walk, watching. CHURCH BELLS RING in the distance.

CLOSE-UP: KEVIN

Kevin's eyes are brimming with tears. As strong as he wants to be, it's too much for him. A tear falls. He wipes it away, only causing more to fall.

INT. HOUSE - NIGHT

Kevin's framed in the door of the holiday house as the young family passes off the baby and the gifts and takes off their coats. Great warmth and cheer. Christmas music is playing. Children are running wild, old men are laughing, grannies, are yakking. It's everything Kevin wants. He stands like a sobbing statue at the end of the walk, lit by a coach light, wiping tears from his cheeks with the backs of his cold, bare hands. The door closes on him.
EXT. CHURCH – NIGHT

A small, old frame church. We can hear the voices of a CHOIR, rehearsing for the midnight mass. Kevin approaches the church slowly, apprehensively. He looks up at the steeple, listens to the sweet voices inside mingling with the RINGING BELLS. Kevin gathers his courage and walks in.

INT. CHURCH – NIGHT

A couple of people sit in the first few rows — people involved with the program. An elderly woman and her husband sit several rows back. They're praying. Further back, we see the silhouette of a man sitting alone. Kevin enters. He peels off his hat and holds it tight to his belly.

HIS POV – MOVING – NIGHT

into the light, spaciousness and beauty of the old church.

BACK TO SCENE – NIGHT

Kevin looks up into the ceiling as he slowly makes his way down the aisle. He slips into a pew and sits. He unzips his jacket a little bit and looks to his left.

The silhouetted man sits across the aisle from Kevin. The man leans forward, out of the shadows and into the light. It is MARLEY.

MARLEY
My great granddaughter's up there singing.

Kevin is startled that he has relatives. Didn't he kill his family?

MARLEY
She's a very pretty little girl. You might know her.

KEVIN
I don't go to this church. I'm sure she's very nice. And very pretty.

MARLEY
You live across the way from me.

Kevin koks
MARLEY
You gonna sing tonight?

KEVIN
No, sir.

MARLEY
(looking up)
I was baptized in this church.

Kevin looks up.

MARLEY
I got married in this church. My boys got married in this church. I said goodbye to my wife in this church.

Kevin looks down from the ceiling to Marley.

KEVIN
(after a long pause)
You got divorced in a church?

333 CHOIR - NIGHT
They end their number and look to the back of the church as we hear the old man SNORT and CHUCKLE. One very pretty twelve year old GIRL turns away, knowing that it's her grandfather.

334 BACK TO SCENE - NIGHT
Kevin smiles. Marley pats him on the knee and stops his laughter. He takes his hankie out and blows his nose with a loud honk!

MARLEY
I don't laugh too much anymore, but you got me.

He puts his hankie back.

MARLEY
What I meant was... was that the services for my wife, when she died, were here. In this church.

Kevin feels terrible.

MARLEY
It won't be too long before they have my services here.

KEVIN
You shouldn't say that.
MARLEY
I’m an old man. I’ve had a lot of living.
(pause)
I’d like to be with my wife again.

KEVIN
Is that possible?

MARLEY
I believe it. Up in the kingdom, not here.
(points)
Up there.

KEVIN
Oh.

MARLEY
This time for eternity.
(pause)
You been a good boy this year?

Kevin looks up at Marley. After a long beat he shakes his head, no.

MARLEY
Fighting?

Kevin nods.

MARLEY
Back-talking? Disrespecting?

Kevin nods.

MARLEY
Telling fibs?

Kevin thinks.

KEVIN
A few.

MARLEY
Maybe you oughta tell him.

KEVIN Who?

Marley shifts his eyes up to the ceiling.

MARLEY
Him.

KEVIN
Should I bother him on Christmas?
MARLEY
He’s open all year ’round. Twenty four hours a day.

KEVIN
Okay.

MARLEY
He’ll listen. You’re a good soul.

KEVIN
I’m not sure if I am anymore.

MARLEY
You are. Bad souls can’t bring themselves to come in places like this.

KEVIN
Is that true?

MARLEY
That’s true. And you tell him about the trouble you had with your folks.

Kevin’s startled that Marley knows.

KEVIN
You know about they?

MARLEY
Just a guess. You get on your knee and you ask Him to fix things for you and your folks. You say please and you say thank you for all the other things he does for you. And then you go on home where you belong.

Kevin leans forward and kneels. He clasps his hands and bows his head. He closes his eyes and silently prays. Marley sits back and watches with a grin. Kevin finishes and sits back in the pew. He looks at Marley.

KEVIN
How long does it usually take for these things to work?

MARLEY
Give him ’till morning.

KEVIN
Okay.

Marley holds out his hand.
MARLEY
Nice talking to you on this Christmas Eve.

Kevin shakes his hand. It feels good to him to touch another person. Kevin gets up and steps around Marley. He stops, turns back and pats him on the shoulder.

KEVIN
Say hello to your wife for me when you see her.

MARLEY
I sure will. And I hope you get a big surprise when you get home.

Kevin smiles. He turns and walks up the aisle.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN
He thinks about what the old man said. He’s forgotten all about the crooks. He stops cold, a look of panic comes over him.

335 EXT. CHURCH - NIGHT
Kevin blasts out of the church and tears off down the street.

336 thru OMITTED
356 thru
356A MONTAGE BEGINS

DARLENE LOVE’S "CHRISTMAS, BABY PLEASE COME HOME" FILLS THE SOUNDTRACK playing over the following images of Kevin preparing the house for the burglar’s arrival:

Kevin’s hands draw out a battle plan on a large sheet of paper. He places Micromachines on the floor, pours water on the front and back stairs, sets a pillow and electric fan on the dining room table, ties rope to the handle of a metal paint can, pushes roofing nails through an asphalt shingle, painting roofing tar on the basement stairs, removes the front door knob, plugging in the soldering iron and jamming it into the hole and attaching a rope from the third floor window to his tree house.

MONTAGE ENDS.

357 CLOSEUP - CHRISTMAS TREE - NIGHT
The lights go on.

359 CLOSEUP - MICROWAVE - NIGHT
It goes off with a DING! Kevin opens it and takes out a turkey dinner.

360 INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT
Kevin sits at the kitchen table. He's using a placemat, linen napkin, crystal glass. As if his mother had set the table for him. He bows his head over the microwave dinner and says grace.

KEVIN
Bless this highly nutritious microwaveable turkey dinner and the people who sold it on sale. Amen.

Kevin puts his napkin in his lap. He is about to take a bite out of the dinner. There is a DISTANT CHURCH BELL CHIME.
Kevin glances to the kitchen clock. It CLICKS to 9:00 P.M.
Kevin jumps up from the table and shoves the dinner back into the microwave. He hurriedly cleans off the table. A SECOND BELL CHIMES.

361 EXT. HOUSE - NIGHT
The van pulls into the driveway. All the way up to the garage and stops. *

362 INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT
Kevin's cleaning up the kitchen. He hears the van. He grabs his BB gun and runs to the lights.

KEVIN
This is it. Don't get scared now.

Kevin turns off the light.

363 EXT. HOUSE - NIGHT
Harry and Marv get out of the van. A FIFTH BELL CHIMES. Harry has the crowbar.

MARV
How do you want to go in?
HARRY
May as well knock and see if he'll open up. Who knows?

MARV
Yeah. He's a kid. Kids are stupid. I know I was.

HARRY
You still are.

MARV
Yeah, but I was a lot worse.

A SIXTH BELL CHIMES.

364 INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT

Kevin is standing at the door, peeking out through the curtains. He backs away. A beat and there's a sharp KNOCK.

HARRY (O.S.)
Merry Christmas, little fella. We know you're in there and that you're all alone.

MARV (O.S.)
Yeah, come on. Open up, kid. It's Santa Claus and his elf.

A SEVENTH BELL CHIMES.

365 EXT. HOUSE - CLOSEUP - DOGGIE DOOR - NIGHT

The barrel of the BB gun slowly sneaks out of the doggie door and points up.

HARRY (O.S.)
We ain't gonna hurt you.

MARV (O.S.)
We got some nice presents for ya.

An EIGHTH BELL CHIMES.

366 CLOSEUP - HARRY'S CROTCH - NIGHT

SEEN DOWN the BARREL of the BB gun.

HARRY (O.S.)
Be a good boy and open the door.
Kevin’s little finger squeezes the trigger.

A sharp POP! and a TWING! Followed by the NINTH CHURCH BELL CHIMING. Harry howls ...

HARRY

Yeeuuutz!

... and grabs his groin. Marv drops to his knees and whips open the doggie door.

Marv’s curious and angry face appears. A beat and his eyes open wide in fear.

The muzzle of the BB GUN. POP!

Marv jumps back, clutching his forehead.

Harry is off the porch, pinching his groin. Marv joins him.

The little bastard’s armed!

Harry

I’ll go around the front way. You go in the basement.

Harry limps around the side of the house. Marv hangs back a moment, rubbing his forehead.

Harry hustles around the front of the house and jumps up on the porch. It’s a sheet of ice. He hits it, falls to his ass and slips into the bushes.
Marv starts down the stairs. Ice again. One step and Marv's legs go out from under him.

THROUGH the window, we see Marv fly down the iced stairs. He hits the basement door with a wham! The CROWBAR CLANGS! He pulls himself up. A beat and he falls again.

Harry grabs a porch pillar and climbs back onto the porch. He straddles the pillar and the door as he tries to reach the knob.

Marv jams the crowbar in the door and cracks it open.

Harry pushes off the pillar, slides toward the door, doesn't quite make it, starts to slide back, steps forward and falls on his face.

Marv steps into the basement. He feels for a light switch. It doesn't go on. He feels his way through the dark to a hanging bulb.

A steam iron with a string attached to the handle is resting on the edge of the open chute. The string runs down the chute.

He grabs the chain and yanks on it. The chain, socket, bulb, and cord come loose in his hand. He looks at it as OS we HEAR THE HORRIBLE CLATTER OF THE IRON FALLING DOWN THE CHUTE. Marv looks up.
HIS POV
Into the chute. The iron FALLS INTO CAMERA.

BACK TO SCENE
Marv catches the iron square in the face and hits the deck.

381 EXT. HOUSE - FRONT PORCH - NIGHT
Harry is back on the porch, clutching the pillar. He pushes himself away from the pillar, using the crowbar. The doorknob is within easy reach now.

382 CLOSEUP - DOORKNOB - NIGHT
It’s glowing red with heat.

383 BACK TO SCENE - NIGHT
A big grin is on Harry’s face. He reaches for the door knob, grabs it and shrieks.

384 INT. FOYER - NIGHT
Kevin shakes his fist victoriously.

385 EXT. PORCH - NIGHT
He drops the crowbar and the knob. His extreme reaction takes him off his feet and he lands square on his back and slides down the steps, yowling in agony. Harry thrusts his hand into a pile of dirty corn snow.

386 OMITTED

386A INT. BASEMENT - CLOSE-UP STEPS - NIGHT
One of Marv’s shoes is stuck in the thick, drying roof tar.
CAMERA MOVES UP the stairs. One of Marv’s socks is stuck in the next stair. CAMERA continues to move. Marv’s other shoe is stuck in the next step. His other sock is stepping onto the top step. CAMERA PANS UP. Marv is stepping out of the sock, in his BARE FEET. He has a triangular series of indentations peaking at his hairline caused by the perforated underside of the iron. There is murder in Marv’s eyes as he steps onto the top landing.
CLOSE-UP LANDING

A shingle with protruding nails waits for Marv’s approaching, NAKED FOOT.

CLOSE-UP MARV

He freezes for a moment, looks down and then howls with pain.

BASEMENT STAIRS

Marv lifts his foot and the shingle. To steady himself he grabs the stairrail. It comes loose in his hand and he takes a backwards tumble down the stairs.

387 EXT. HOUSE - BACK PORCH - NIGHT

388 INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT

Harry enters slowly. As the door opens, the tension on the wire ignites the torch. Harry’s naked head is scorched. He shrieks and jumps back out the door. It closes and the torch goes off.

389 EXT. HOUSE - SNOWBANK - NIGHT

Harry drives his flaming head into the snowbank. The fire is extinguished with a SIZZLE.

390 CLOSEUP - KEVIN’S BATTLE PLAN - NIGHT

Lit by flashlight. Kevin draws an "X" through a drawing of the torched door.

391 thru OMITTED

392 thru

393 CLOSEUP - HARRY - NIGHT

He rises INTO FRAME. The hair on the top of Harry’s head is burned away, his sideburns smoldering, blisters rising, eyebrows singed, eyes wild with rage and teeth gritted.
394 EXT. HOUSE - BACK PORCH - NIGHT

Harry kicks open the door, snapping the torch wire. He marches into the house.

HARRY
Where are you?... You little bastard?!?

395 thru OMITTED

396

396A INT. BASEMENT - NIGHT

Marv stumbles to the door.

396B INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT

Harry listens at the dining room door. It's closed.

HARRY
It's too late for you, kid! We're in the house and we're comin' for ya.

KEVIN (O.S.)
Okay.

Harry grins.

396A OMITTED

397 INT. DINING ROOM - NIGHT

A room fan is resting on the table pointed at the dining room door. A pillow's worth of feathers is heaped in front of the fan.

CLOSE-UP FAN

A pencil is stuck in the fan blades. The MOTOR STRUGGLES against the pencil. A string runs from the pencil to the handle of the dining room door.

397A OMITTED

398 INT. FOYER - TOP OF STAIRS - NIGHT

Kevin is sitting at the top of the stairs. He calls to Harry with complete confidence.
KEVIN
Come and get me.

INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT
Harry pulls open the dining door and rushes into the room.
The pencil is pulled out of the fan. The fan blades turn.
The feathers blow into the air.
Harry storms into the room and straight into the glued Saran
Wrap that spans the doorway. It sucks tight around his face.
Harry roars with anger and peels off the wrap. Feathers immediately stick to his face.

HARRY Shit!

INT. KITCHEN - NIGHT
Marv steps gingerly up the porch stairs and into the kitchen in his bare feet.

MARV
What happened?!

INT. FOYER - STAIRS - NIGHT
Kevin stands up. He's on full alert. They're both in the house.

KEVIN
Do you guys give up!?

CLOSEUP - HARRY - NIGHT
He turns to reveal his face full of feathers, his hair burned.

CLOSEUP - MARV - NIGHT
He's just as much a wreck. He curls his lip in an angry snarl.

MARV
I wanna kill him!
INT. FOYER - NIGHT

Harry and Marv charge into the foyer. Marv's walking on his heels to spare his punctured soles of his feet.

HARRY
Why the hell did you take your shoes off?

MARV
Why the hell did you set your head on fire?

They hit the MicroMachines and hit the deck.

Kevin, standing in the middle of the stairs, takes aim with his BB GUN. Kevin PUMPS a SUCCESSION of BBs at the crooks before running up the stairs.

KEVIN
Come and get me!

Marv and Harry scramble to their feet, rubbing their stinging butts and backs. Marv dashes up the stairs. Harry follows.

At the top of the stairs, Kevin holds a can of paint over his head. He lets it fly. The paint can arcs out, the rope tied to it pulls taut and the can swings rapidly into the stairwell. Marv looks up as he runs up the stairs. His eyes widen in horror.

MARV
HEAD’S UP!

MARV’S POV - NIGHT

The paint can swings INTO CAMERA.

BACK TO SCENE - NIGHT

Marv ducks, revealing Harry's unsuspecting face. The paint can strikes Harry. Square on the chin, knocking him off his feet, off the stairs and into the foyer. Kevin hurls his second can. Marv looks back down at Harry.

MARV
I’ll get him for ya, Harry.

Marv turns and screams. Marv catches the second paint can. He's knocked off his feet. Harry is on his back in the foyer. He opens his eyes.
HARRY'S POV - NIGHT
Marv is sailing down on him.

BACK TO SCENE - NIGHT
And it's a burglar sandwich.

INT. HALLWAY - NIGHT
Kevin scoots down the hallway on his hands and knees, toward the master bedroom.

INT. FOYER - NIGHT
Marv helps Harry to his feet.

MARV
He's only a kid, Harry. We can take him.

HARRY
Shut up.

MARV
You're missing some teeth.

Harry shoves Marv away and heads up the stairs.

INT. MASTER BEDROOM - NIGHT
Kevin is on the telephone.

KEVIN
Help! My house is being robbed! I live at 1132 Rivard. My name's Murphy.

INT. FOYER - STAIRS - NIGHT
Harry and Marv trudge up the stairs. They are cautious, keeping an alert eye on the railing above.

HARRY
You bomb me with another can, kid and I'll snap off your cajones and boil them in motor oil.
415 INT. HALLWAY - NIGHT
Kevin crawls out of the master bedroom.

416 INT. UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - NIGHT
Harry and Marv make the turn up the stairs and see Kevin.

    HARRY
    There he is!

Kevin scampers down the hallway to the third floor stairs.

With the little strength they have left, Harry and Marv take off down the hall, after Kevin.

417 CLOSEUP - DOORKNOB - NIGHT
A wire is tightly fastened around the knob. CAMERA PANS ALONG the wire, it is connected to another doorknob, across the hall.

418 BACK TO SCENE - NIGHT
Harry charges down the hall. Suddenly he’s off his feet, flipped forward with a TWANG! With the wire snapped, Marv keeps moving. He jumps over the fallen Harry and lunges for Kevin. Marv’s hand grabs Kevin’s ankle. Kevin holds onto the third floor doorknob with both hands. He screams. With his free leg he repeatedly kicks Marv in the head.

    MARV
    Harry! Get up! Grab him!

Harry doesn’t move. He is lying on the floor. His eyes open in horror.

419 HARRY’S POV - NIGHT
The tarantula runs INTO CAMERA.

420 BACK TO SCENE - NIGHT
Harry stands up, with the spider clinging to his face. Harry is screaming. He peels off the spider and throws it. Marv turns back to Harry.

    MARV
    Har...!

The spider lands on Marv’s face. Marv lets go of Kevin’s ankle. Kevin whips open the door and charges up the stairs. Marv flicks the spider off his face.
In a panic, Marv grabs his crowbar, draws it back, draws a bead on the spider... Harry is shivering with revulsion. The spider climbs up on Harry’s shoe.

421 SEVERE UP-ANGLE - NIGHT
Marv has lost his senses for the moment. He brings down the crowbar with all his force. Harry screams as the crowbar slams down on his foot.

422 INT. BUZZ’S ROOM - NIGHT
The tarantula scoots back inside the room.

423 INT. HALLWAY - NIGHT
Marv drops the crowbar, realizing what he’s done.

        MARV
        Harry! I’m...

Harry belts Marv in the face.

424 INT. ATTIC STAIRWELL - NIGHT
Kevin stands at the top of the stairs. He looks down into the stairwell.

425 KEVIN’S POV - NIGHT
Steep drop. Harry, then Marv appear at the bottom of the stairs.

        HARRY
        Now where you gonna go?

        MARV
        We was just gonna kidnap you. Now we’re gonna kidnap ya and feed ya to the fishes.

426 BACK TO SCENE - NIGHT
Kevin yells down to Harry and Marv.

        KEVIN
        Go kiss a dog on the lips!

Kevin dashes OFFSCREEN.
426A  INT. STAIRWELL - NIGHT
Harry and Marv hobble up the stairs

    MARV
    Can I shoot him?

    HARRY
    Right after I strangle him.

431  EXT. ATTIC WINDOW - NIGHT
Kevin climbs into the window. He fastens a large metal hook onto the rope. He secures his grip on the rope tied through an eye on the handle. He looks down fearfully.

432  KEVIN'S POV - NIGHT
It is three stories down to the cold, dark, ground.

433  BACK TO SCENE - NIGHT
Kevin gulps back his nerves and swings out of the window.

434  EXT. BACK YARD - NIGHT
Kevin slides down the rope, picking up speed as he heads for his tree house.

435  KEVIN'S POV - NIGHT
MOVING DOWN the rope.

436  INT. TREE HOUSE - NIGHT
Kevin sails down the rope into the tree house. He puts up his legs to absorb the impact.

437  EXT. TREE HOUSE - NIGHT
The back side. Kevin's legs burst through the weathered wood.
439 EXT. TREE HOUSE - NIGHT
Kevin brushes himself off and shakes off the hurt.

440 INT. ATTIC BEDROOM - NIGHT
Harry and Marv enter. They are quick to see the open window.

MARRY
Maybe he committed suicide.

Harry climbs up on the student desk beneath the window and looks out.

441 EXT. ATTIC WINDOW - NIGHT
Harry scans the yard.

442 HIS POV - NIGHT
Kevin waves to him from the tree house.

KEVIN
Down here you big horse's ass! Come and get me before I go call the police!

443 INT. ATTIC BEDROOM - NIGHT
Marv calls up to Harry.

MARRY
Come on!

He starts for the stairs.

HARRY
(looking back from the window)
That's exactly what the little shit wants us to do. Go back down through his fun house and get tore up more.

MARRY
You gonna let him call the cops?!

Harry pulls out his handkerchief and wraps it around his hand.

MARRY
Not out the window, Harry.
HARRY
That's just what the kid's sayin'.
Come on.

444 EXT. BACK YARD - NIGHT
Harry swings out the window on the rope and begins hand-walking down it. Marv joins him.

445 INT. TREE HOUSE - KEVIN - NIGHT
Kevin grins and brings up a large pair of hedge trimmers.

446 CLOSEUP - HARRY - NIGHT
He stops cold, his eyes locked open.

HARRY
Oh, no ...

447 BACK TO SCENE - NIGHT
Kevin snips the rope. Harry and Marv crash into the side of the house. They slide down the house and fall to the ground.
Dazed. Shaken.

Kevin scampers down from the tree house and runs to the van.
He opens the door to the van, puts it in neutral and runs down the driveway. The van rolls down the driveway and hits the curb.

Kevin runs across the street, to the Murphy house.

451 EXT. MURPHY HOUSE - NIGHT
Kevin arrives in the front yard. He stops, turns and looks across the street, to his house.

452 KEVIN'S POV - NIGHT
Scratched and bruised, Harry and Marv stagger out from beneath the pile of broken icicles. Their eyes filled with murder, they see Kevin across the street.
Kevin waves to the two crooks.

KEVIN

I’m calling the cops!

Harry and Marv take off after Kevin. Kevin races across the Murphys’ lawn. Harry and Marv hobble across the street, trying to catch up. Kevin rounds the front corner of the house and runs into the backyard.

Kevin whips around into the back yard, runs down the cellar steps and inside.

Kevin enters. He looks around in the darkness, sees the stairs leading upstairs and runs towards them. He sprints up the stairs. He pulls the door open.

CLOSE-UP KEVIN

He recoils in fear.

HIS POV

Harry and Marv are standing in the door.

HARRY

Evening, little nipper.

Kevin steps down off the top stair.

STAIRS — HARRY AND MARV

Marv reaches for Kevin. He’s tapped on the shoulder. He turns.

MARV

Huh?

MARV’S POV

A man is swinging a wide metal snow shovel toward his head. Before Marv can react he is slammed in the face with the snow shovel. Marv collapses. Harry turns.

HARRY’S POV

The snow shovel. Swinging into CAMERA. WHAM! The snow shovel connects with Harry. He falls to the floor beside Marv.
CLOSE-UP KEVIN

He looks up

HIS POV

Marley steps out of the shadows to reveal himself to Kevin.

MARLEY

A little trick I learned in South Bend.

He winks.

456  EXT. MURPHY HOUSE - NIGHT - LATER

A pair of squad cars are pulled up in front of the Murphy house. Officers are coming and going from the house.

457  OMITTED

458  INT. SQUAD CAR - NIGHT

Marv and Harry, handcuffed and looking half-dead, drop into the back seat from either side. They sit exhausted, confused, defeated, injured and humiliated.

458A  EXT. HOUSE - SQUAD CAR - NIGHT

Harry looks out the window.

459  HARRY'S POV - NIGHT

The shirtless sports hero is in the window of the McCallister house. Rocking back and forth. Kevin pops up beside the sports hero. Seeing Harry, Kevin grins.

460  HARRY - NIGHT

curls his lip in anger.

461  EXT. STREET - NIGHT

The two squad cars drive off into the night.

462  INT. MCCALLISTER LIVING ROOM - LATER - NIGHT

Kevin places the gifts under his tree.
463 INT. LIVING ROOM - NIGHT

Kevin sets a glass of milk and a plate of cookies and a plate of carrots. He adjusts the family stockings that he's taped to the mantel, and looks around proudly.

464 EXT. HOUSE - MORNING

A picture-perfect snowfall is in progress, having started over the night.

465 INT. MASTER BEDROOM - DAY

Kevin is at the end of his sleep. He stirs, suddenly sits up and listens carefully. The house is silent. He looks to the window.

466 KEVIN'S POV - DAY

The glass is frosty and the rooftops are white.

Kevin smiles. He leaps out of bed and tears out of the room.

KEVIN

Mom!

467 INT. FOYER - DAY

Kevin scrambles down the stairs, jumping the last few steps and skidding on the wooden floor. He shoots into the living room.

Kevin grinds to a halt, his face glowing with the biggest smile of his life.

468 KEVIN AND HIS POV - DAY

No one's there. It's as he left it.

Kevin's smile falls. He's crushed. His work, his prayers, his reformation, his courage, his independence. It's for nothing.

KEVIN

Dammit!

He stomps to the coffee table and picks up a crystal paperweight. He draws his arm back to heave it at the tree. He pauses, thinks better of it. He slowly re-turns the paperweight to the table.
INT. FOYER — DAY

Kevin walks slowly out of the living room, into the foyer. He stops at the bottom of the stairs. Something occurs to him. He crosses to the door and opens it.

EXT. HOUSE — DAY

Kevin in his pajamas. He sees nothing. He closes the door. A beat. The sound of POLKA MUSIC is heard. The van rolls in, FILLING the FRAME.

Kate steps out of the van, waving "Good-bye," thanking and wishing a "Merry Christmas" to the musicians inside. She gives a quick kiss to Gus. The van drives off. Kate looks to the house.

INT. FOYER — DAY

Kate peeks in. She steps softly inside. She's concerned and cautious. She quietly closes the door behind her. She glances in the dining room. Then in the living room. She looks back to the stairs. Thinks for a split second and then turns quickly back to the living room.

INT. LIVING ROOM — DAY

Kate enters slowly. She's surprised and touched as she sees...

HER POV — DAY

Kevin's tree, the gifts, then the stockings and finally the cookies and the carrots.

KATE

Kate's eyes are filled with tears. She puts her hand to her mouth to keep from crying.

INT. MASTER BEDROOM — DAY

Kevin is sitting on the bed, holding the family portrait.

CLOSEUP — KEVIN'S TREE — DAY

Kate plucks a little antique silver Christmas bell ornament off the tree. She shakes it.
No tears. Just defeat and sorrow. O.S. we hear the TINKLE of the BELL. Kevin looks up, thinking he's hearing things. Another TINKLE of the BELLS. Kevin puts the photograph down and covers his ears to see if the sound is in his head. It's not. He stands.

The BELL CONTINUES. Kevin pokes his head out of the bedroom door, walks to the railing and looks over. He can't see anything. But he can hear the BELL. He walks around the railing and down to the landing.

Kevin appears at the top of the stairs. He looks down and doesn't see anything. The BELL RINGS AGAIN. He comes down the stairs. A loose STAIR CREAKS.

She knows now that he's home. She grabs the bell to silence it.

He comes down the stairs, into the foyer and turns into the dining room.

She's standing in the entrance to the living room, smiling through her tears. She rings the bell.

Kevin has his back to her. He straightens up and turns.

Kate rings the bell.

KATE
Merry Christmas, sweetheart.
The sight of his mother is so overwhelming he doesn’t react.

She thinks his hesitation is anger.

KATE
I’m sorry.

He walks slowly to her, stopping in front of her.

Kate kneels before him. She kisses his forehead. He suddenly throws his arms around her and squeezes for all he’s worth. She grabs him tight to her. She breaks the embrace and kisses both his cheeks.

KEVIN
Where’s everybody else?

KATE
I’m sorry, honey. They’re all ...

It swings open and the haggard, bickering remainder of the family stumbles in. Buzz looks back to Megan.

BUZZ
I didn’t fall asleep in the cab and drool all over you, did I?

MEGAN
I don’t drool.

LINNIE
Will you guys please shut up?

PETER
Come on, you jerks, it’s Christmas!

They notice Kate and Kevin.

PETER
Kev!

Kevin runs to his dad. Kate is dumbfounded to see the entire family home. Peter gives Kevin a hug.
PETER
You're okay!

Buzz walks up to Kevin and grins.

BUZZ
It's pretty cool you didn't burn the place down.

Buzz holds out his hand and smiles warmly. Kevin slaps it. Kate gives an incredulous look to Peter.

KATE
How did you guys?... I mean...?

PETER
We decided to get on the morning flight back. Remember? The one you didn't want to wait for?

Kate nods. If she wasn't so happy, she'd be frustrated. She kisses her husband and looks at everyone.

KATE
Who wants breakfast?

PETER
Who wants to get the presents out of the car? Jeff?

JEFF
I haven't even said 'hello' to my brother. (to Kevin)
Hi. You didn't miss anything. The T.V. shows are all in French.

LINNIE
(to Kevin)
I'll be the only decent person in the family and say that I really, really missed you and was worried about you. But you can't use that against me. Okay?

Kevin nods. Megan turns to Linnie.

MEGAN
So you're saying I didn't miss him? I cried several times and often it was for real.

PETER
Go get the presents.
KATE
Somebody has to run out and find a store open. We don’t even have milk.

KEVIN
I went shopping yesterday.

Everybody looks at him.

KEVIN
We have milk. And eggs. And fabric softener.

PETER
What else did you do while we were gone?

490 OMITTED

491 CLOSEUP – KEVIN – DAY

He thinks for a moment.

KEVIN
Just hung around.

Everybody pauses. Kevin smiles and turns to CLOSE the front door. He looks across the street for a moment.

491A KEVIN’S POV

Marley stands at the curb of his house, being greeted by a family of five, emerging from a station wagon Marley embraces his son. As Marley hugs his Granddaughter, he opens his eyes and sees Kevin, watching from the doorway of the McCallister house.

Kevin and Marley exchange a warm and knowing smile.

THE END.
