FADE IN:

INT. NICK’S APARTMENT - LATE NIGHT
Looking incredibly weary, NICK WATERS, 30’s, enters his apartment in his business suit. He stumbles into --

INT. NICK’S BEDROOM - CONTINUOUS ACTION
He drops his briefcase, strips off his jacket, loosens his tie and collapses onto the bed like a dead man. PAN OVER TO the alarm clock which reads “1:23 AM.”

MATCH CUT TO:

INT. NICK’S BEDROOM - EARLY MORNING
The alarm clock now reads “4:59 AM.” It switches to “5:00” and a BLARING BUZZER goes off. Nick sits up in bed, shuts off the buzzer and painfully forces himself out of bed. He hurries out of the bedroom, passing the saddest, deadest houseplant in history.

INT. NICK’S KITCHEN - MOMENTS LATER
Nick opens his fridge to reveal a wasteland of moldy leftover containers and crusty condiments. The orange juice container he grabs is empty.

NICK Damn.

He opens the freezer. It contains nothing but multiple boxes of “Jimmy Dean’s Breakfast Bowl -- with Bacon!” He pops one in the microwave, then glances over at a framed photo of a slightly younger Nick kissing a smiling OLD WOMAN on the cheek. The frame reads: “I ♥ Grandma!” Nick sighs sadly.

INT. NICK’S BATHROOM - MINUTES LATER
Nick sits on the toilet eating his breakfast bowl with a fork. He takes some toilet paper from the roll and wipes his mouth with it.

INT. NICK’S SHOWER - MOMENTS LATER
Nick showers while simultaneously brushing his teeth and shaving. He loses track and brushes his face with the toothbrush.
Nick hastily grabs work clothes from his messy drawers and closet. Clearly, no laundry has been done in a while.

Nick hurriedly buttons his shirt, tucks it in and begins tying his tie as the elevator reaches the lobby.

As he drives to work, he dials a number and transfers it to speakerphone.

JENNA (V.O.)
(groggy)
Hello?

NICK (cheery)
Hey, Jenna, it’s Nick.

JENNA (V.O.)
It’s five-thirty in the morning, Nick.

NICK
Yeah, sorry. This is like the only time I have to make any personal calls. I just wanted to see if you felt like going out again because I had a great time with you on our last date.

JENNA (V.O.)
Our last date was two weeks ago. You haven’t called me since.

NICK
I know and that’s my bad. I’ve been swamped at work --

JENNA (V.O.)
Yeah, I remember. Work was all you talked about when we went out.

NICK
Right. Well, I’m up for a promotion which will give me a lot more free time --

JENNA (V.O.)
Listen, I’m actually seeing someone. And even if I weren’t, the last thing I need is some career-obsessed guy complaining about work all the time. See you around, Nick.

She hangs up.

EXT. COMMTRONIX INDUSTRIES - SHORT TIME LATER
A soulless four-story building in a drab office park. Nick exits his car and runs full-speed to the entrance.

INT. COMMTRONIX INDUSTRIES LOBBY - CONTINUOUS ACTION
Nick bursts through the doors and looks at his watch. It reads “6:02.” He looks up at a security camera with a flashing red light, indicating he is on tape.

NICK Fuck!

DISSOLVE TO:

INT. NICK’S CUBICLE - LATER
Nick sits at his desk inputting information from a large pile of documents into a spreadsheet on his computer. The clock on his computer turns to “8:00 AM.”

HARKEN (O.S.)
Nick.

Nick jumps, startled. He turns to see his boss, DAVE HARKEN, 40’s, standing behind him.

NICK
Yes?

HARKEN
See you in my office? of the lobby security camera footage on a television. The time code at the bottom of the screen reads “6:02.” We see Nick looking up at the camera and silently mouthing the word “Fuck!” The image freezes and we PULL BACK to see Harken holding the remote. Nick stands across from him.

HARKEN
Here’s my concern, Nick. You’re a punctual guy. You understand the importance of getting to work on time. So that leaves me to wonder if there isn’t something wrong with the internal clock in our security system. What do you think?

NICK
I don’t know, Mr. Harken. I might have been a minute late.

HARKEN
Two minutes according to this. So either you’re a liar -- which I know you’re not -- or our system is off by a full minute. And if that’s the case, I have no choice but to dismiss Thomas, our longtime security coordinator.

NICK
Okay, I might have been two minutes late.

There’s an uncomfortable beat. Then --

HARKEN
So you did lie.

NICK No, I --

Harken picks up the phone.

NICK
Who are you calling?

HARKEN
Thomas. I’m letting him go.
NICK
Wait! Okay, I guess I lied. But I didn’t mean to --

HARKEN
(hangs up phone)
Trust is everything in this office, my friend. I know you’ve been working your tail off for that promotion, but if I can’t trust you, how can I make you Senior VP of Sales?

NICK
I understand. You can trust me.

HARKEN
Now you sound like my wife.

He glances at a framed photo on his desk.

INSERT - PHOTO of the hot, bikini-clad MRS. HARKEN, 30’s, standing on a beach.

BACK TO SCENE

HARKEN
(imitating her)
‘Trust me, honey.’ ‘Trust me.’ Meanwhile, she’s making love to every guy in the neighborhood.

NICK (uncomfortable)
Oh, I’m sure she’s... loyal to you --

HARKEN
How could you possibly know that?

NICK
I don’t.

HARKEN
Are you making love to my wife, Nick?

NICK
What?! No!

(CONTINUED)
HARKEN
I’m just kidding around. She’s out of your league. No offense.

NICK
None taken.

HARKEN
Hmm.

Harken has crossed to a credenza with several bottles of booze, two glasses and an ice bucket. He begins to fill a glass with ice and Scotch.

HARKEN
Would you like one?

NICK
It’s 8:15.

HARKEN
You think there’s something wrong with a man enjoying a drink in the morning?

NICK
(quickly)
No, no. It’s fine. I’d love a drink.

Harken hands him the drink he just poured.

NICK
Thank you.

HARKEN
My pleasure.

Harken returns to his chair and sits.

NICK
Aren’t you having one?

HARKEN
It’s 8:15, Nick. I’m not an alcoholic.

NICK
Oh. Well, I only took it because I thought you were having one.

HARKEN
You took a drink because you thought I was going to have one? (MORE)

(CONTINUED)
That doesn’t exactly sound like something a Senior VP would do.

NICK

Well, I --

HARKEN

What if you thought I was going to dip my balls in honey and shaved coconut? Would you do that too?

NICK

(laughing nervously)

Of course not.

HARKEN

Of course not. Anyway, we’ve moved up the date of the AGM so you’re gonna need to complete your due diligence by Monday. You’ll probably need to be here all weekend.

NICK

(sighs)

Okay.

HARKEN

Hey, you want a promotion, you’ve gotta earn it. Life’s a marathon and you can’t win a marathon without putting a few Band-Aids on your nipples.

NICK

(huh?)

Got it.

Nick gets up to go.

HARKEN

Nick.

Nick turns back.

HARKEN

That’s 18-year-old Scotch. I can’t really pour it back into the bottle.

Nick, unsure of what to do, picks up the glass and gulps it down.
HARKEN
That should carry you till lunch, huh?

EXT. DENTAL OFFICE - DAY
A car pulls up outside the modest building.

INT. STACY’S CAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION
STACY, cute, 30’s, is dropping off DALE STEVENS, 30’s, who wears the scrubs of a dental hygienist.

STACY
Boy, I have to get used to driving with this heavy ring on. I keep swerving to the left.

DALE
Aww. You really like it?

STACY
I love it. I feel like a queen.

CLOSE ON HER ENGAGEMENT DIAMOND
It’s tiny and yellowish.

BACK TO SCENE
DALE
Well, you’re my queen. I love you, Stacy.

STACY
Have a great day at work.

They kiss. Dale exits the car.

EXT. DENTAL OFFICE - CONTINUOUS ACTION
Stacy drives off. Dale steels himself for what lies ahead, then goes inside.

INT. DENTAL OFFICE - MOMENTS LATER
Dale enters the waiting room, passing a few PATIENTS. He grabs a mask and goggles from a supply room, then heads into -- Dale finds his boss, DR. JULIA HARRIS, 30’s, sexy but with something a little off, hovering over a patient, MR. ANDERTON, 50’s. Dale seems visibly uneasy.

JULIA
All right, Mr. Anderton, I’m going to give you the nitrous now and your root canal will be over before you know it.
(to Dale)
Dale? Please.

Dale turns the valve on the tank and soon Mr. Anderton’s eyes roll back in his head. Julia shuts the door, picks up a drill and begins boring into the patient’s molar.

JULIA
(loudly, over the drill)
How are you today, Dale?

DALE
I’m fine. Thanks.

JULIA
You get a haircut?

DALE
Uh-huh.

JULIA
Looks good.

DALE
Thank you.

JULIA
You ever watch that show, ‘Gossip Girl’?

DALE
Uh, no.

JULIA
I watched it last night. I’ll tell you, lot of cuties on that program.

then
Number 7 scraper, please.

Dale hands her a tool.

Thank you. I fingered myself so hard to Penn Badgely, I broke a nail.

Dale sighs and looks down at the unconscious Mr. Anderton. This obviously isn’t the first time Julia has spoken this way.

I’d let that kid put it in my ass. Bet he’s packing a plus-size sausage under those True Religions.

(then, looking up at Dale) Probe.

What?

I need the probe.

Oh, right.

He hands her the tool.

Bet you’re no shrimp in the cock department either, huh, Dale?

Julia, please.

Oh, come on. You know I like to fool around.

She lifts the patient’s limp hand and cups it over her breast.

(feigning shock)
Mr. Anderton! Bad!

She smacks the lifeless hand and cackles with laughter.

Okay, enough fun. Let’s get back to work. Water, please.

Dale hands her the Water Jet tool. Julia briefly sprays some water in the patient’s mouth, then casually sprays down Dale’s crotch with it.

DALE
Hey!

JULIA
Sorry, I’m a squirter.
(studying his groin)
I think I can just make out our friend. Looks like someone is circumcised!

DALE
All right, Julia, listen. You can’t keep doing this.

JULIA
I know, I know, you have a girlfriend --

DALE
She’s not my girlfriend anymore. Stacy and I got engaged last night.

Julia’s whole demeanor changes. She becomes deadly serious.

JULIA
What?

DALE
We’re engaged.

JULIA
You’re actually going to marry that little dummy?

DALE
Hey!

JULIA
I thought you said she was just a hole for your dick.

DALE
That’s a horrible thing to say. I never said that!

Mr. Anderton GROANS groggily.

(CONTINUED)
JULIA (ominously)
I’m very disappointed in you,
Dale.
(then, coldly) Scaler.

Shaken, Dale hands her the tool.

EXT. PELLIT CHEMICAL CO. – DAY

A medium-sized warehouse building in an industrial neighborhood.

INT. PELLIT CHEMICAL CO. – CONTINUOUS ACTION

KURT GAMBLE, 30s, good-looking, sits at his desk. Unlike Nick and Dale, Kurt seems content in his workplace. A reasonably cute, but by no means drop-dead gorgeous, UPS GIRL approaches his desk with a package.

UPS GIRL
Excuse me? Can you sign for this, please?

KURT
(taking it)
Sure. (looking up)
Whoa, whoa. Hold on. What is this?

UPS GIRL
I’m sorry?

KURT
This is one of those hidden camera shows, isn’t it?

UPS GIRL
What do you mean?

KURT
Come on. You’re way too good-looking to be a UPS girl. What are you, a model? An actress? What’s gonna happen when I open this box? Is something going to jump out at me?

UPS GIRL
(grinning)
Nothing’s gonna happen. I’m just a UPS girl.

KURT Shut up.

UPS GIRL
(playfully)
You shut up. It’s true.

KURT
Well, then, I need to take you out to dinner.

UPS GIRL
Why?

KURT
Because I want to be able to tell my friends that I took out the hottest UPS girl in America. Come on, what do you say?

She considers this briefly, then scribbles her number on a Post-it note.

KURT
Awesome. I’m Kurt.

UPS GIRL
Myrna.

KURT
Pretty name. How’s Tuesday? Macaroni Grill?

UPS GIRL Okay.

KURT
See you then, Myrna.

She heads off. Kurt opens his DATEBOOK and scribbles “UPS Girl” in the Tuesday slot. We see every night of the week is filled with appointments with other women: “Barnes & Noble girl,” “Lauren? Laura?,” “Blonde Chick” and so on.

JACK (O.S.)
Busy week?

Kurt looks up at JACK PELLIT, 70s, the kindly, affectionate owner of the company.

(CONTINUED)
KURT
Hey, Jack. Yeah, just doing my part for the women of America.

JACK
(chuckling)
You’re what we used to call a rapscallion.

KURT
That sounds a lot more innocent than ‘sex addict.’

JACK
Walk with me, Kurt.

The two of them head toward the exit.

JACK
I wanted to talk to you about --

KURT
Last quarter’s profits? I ran the numbers. We’re down by 11 percent year-to-year.

JACK
It’s this damn recession. What about cost-cutting measures?

KURT
Well, I know you don’t want to cut staff --

JACK
No way. These people have worked their asses off for me. There’s no reason they should suffer.

Kurt looks at his boss with admiration. There’s a lot of love between these two.

KURT
There’s also the issue of our hazardous waste disposal. We’re paying a lot right now and the Bolivians have come back with a very good offer.

JACK
You know why it’s good? Because they’ll dump our chemicals in rivers, pollute water supplies and hurt people. I’ve spent my life building this company.

(MORE)

Would you want the Pellit name to be associated with something like that?

KURT
No, I wouldn’t.

As they pass the unisex rest room, they see MARGIE, 30s and clearly pregnant, looking uncomfortable as she waits to get in.

JACK
Everything okay, Margie?

MARGIE
Oh hi, Mr. Pellit. Kurt. I’ve just been waiting to get in there for a while now...

JACK
Who’s in there?

MARGIE
It’s... your son.

JACK (sighs)
Of course it is.
(then, knocking on the door)
Bobby? There’s someone waiting. You almost done in there?

After a long beat, the door opens and out steps BOBBY PELLIT, late-20s, weasely-looking, sniffing a bit too much and rubbing his nose repeatedly. There’s something unnaturally energetic about him.

PELLIT
What the fuck?! A guy can’t get any privacy in this place!

JACK
It’s all yours, Margie.

Margie quickly slips into the rest room and shuts the door.

JACK
You know, Bobby, you seem to be spending more time in that bathroom than at your desk these days.

PELLIT
Well, then, you’re fucking stupid, Dad. Because that’s clearly not true.

JACK
All I ask is that you do your part around here, son.

PELLIT
I do my part. I do other people’s parts. But you just like to ride my ass because I’m your son. I don’t see you screaming at -- (re: Kurt) -- dckskin here.

JACK (patiently)
That’s because Kurt does his work and does it well. You could take a lesson from him.

PELLIT (snorts)
The only thing I’d take a lesson from him on is being gay. And I wouldn’t take that lesson because I don’t want to be gay.

JACK (heading off)
Come on, Kurt.

Kurt follows after Jack.

PELLIT
Yeah, that’s what I thought.

Jack and Kurt pass a receptionist desk and go out into --

EXT. PELLIT CHEMICAL CO. PARKING LOT - CONTINUOUS ACTION

Kurt walks Jack to his Cadillac.

JACK
Tell me something, Kurt. Are you happy here?

KURT
You kidding? It’s the best job in the world.

JACK
I’m glad to hear you say that.
I’m rewriting my will tonight and there’s going to be a special place for you in there.

He gives Kurt a hug like a doting father, then climbs into his car. As Jack pulls out and begins driving across the parking lot, Kurt waves. Suddenly, the car’s HORN begins to honk in a CONSTANT BLARE. Kurt lowers his hand as the car veers off the pavement, slowly cruising into a tree where it stops abruptly, the horn still honking.

A bewildered Kurt runs toward the car, as we --

CUT TO:

INT. BRADFORD’S BAR - THAT NIGHT

Kurt sits at a table looking depressed.

KURT
He died instantly. They say his heart burst in his chest like a water balloon.

PAN to reveal Kurt is sitting with Dale, who looks just as dejected.

DALE
Wow. Sorry, man. He was like a dad to you.

KURT
I loved him. And I loved working for him. And now his idiot son is gonna be in charge. You know how many times I’ve caught him doing blow at work?

PAN FURTHER to reveal Nick sitting beside Dale.

NICK
That sucks. You were the only one of us who didn’t totally hate his job.

(then)
Did I tell you Harken tricked me into having a drink at eight o’clock this morning? The guy’s the devil.

DALE
I thought he was giving you a promotion.

NICK
He is. And he’s got to do it before the General Meeting next week.

DALE
Well, at least your boss doesn’t sexually harass you.

KURT
This again?

DALE
I’m telling you, she’s out of control. It’s a full-on hostile work environment.

KURT
She’s a woman who wants to have sex with you. How bad can it be?

DALE
Today she sprayed my crotch with water so she could see the outline of my wiener.

KURT
Why don’t you just fuck her?

DALE
I’m engaged!

KURT
Oh yeah. Congratulations, by the way.

DALE
Thank you.

NICK
There’s gotta be other dental hygienist jobs out there.

DALE
I can’t apply for another job, remember?

KURT
Oh, right. Because you’d have to tell them you’re a child molester.

NICK
He’s not a child molester. He just took his dick out in a playground.

DALE
It was nighttime and I was peeing! And it’s bullshit that I got put on the registered sex offender list for that!

KURT
It worked out. Julia probably hired you because she’s a sexual deviant herself.

DALE
Why would they put a playground next to a bar anyway? That’s entrapment.

A SEMI-CUTE GIRL walks past.

KURT
(with joyless resignation)
Well, I should go see if that girl wants to bone.

Kurt groans as he pulls himself out of the booth.

NICK
I thought you were all broken up about your boss dying.

KURT
This is how I grieve, okay?

Kurt heads off after the girl.

DALE
Man. He must be grieving all the time.

INT. COMMTRONIX INDUSTRIES CONFERENCE ROOM - NEXT DAY
Nick sits alongside five other CO-WORKERS at a conference table. Harken’s chair at the head is empty. Nick pours himself some water from a glass pitcher on the table.

NICK
He did say ten o’clock, right?

CO-WORKER
Yeah. Do you know what this is about?

NICK
It just said ‘staff meeting’ on the memo.
(whispering)
Funny how he gets all over me if I’m a minute late, but he makes us wait fifteen.

HARKEN (O.S.)
You were two minutes late, Nick.

Nick jumps as Harken enters.

HARKEN
And I didn’t know I had to punch a clock with you.

NICK
You don’t. Of course you don’t. I’m sorry --

HARKEN
I’m going to attribute this to your drinking problem.

NICK
I don’t have a --

HARKEN
(with a smile to the others)
Let’s get started. Shall we?

Nick’s eyes narrow. Suddenly, he grabs the heavy glass pitcher from the table and SHATTERS IT AGAINST HARKEN’S FACE. Shards of glass fly everywhere as Harken falls from his chair onto the floor.

SMASH CUT TO:

SAME SCENE (REALITY)

Harken is fine. Nick is as we left him.

HARKEN
Okay, have we figured out our best sales distribution plan for the new model year handsets?

Nick’s CO-WORKERS bury their heads in their notes. Nick tensely raises his hand.

HARKEN
Yes?

NICK
I simulated a number of sales cycles, factoring in likely end-users, point-of-sale limitations and specific demographic variables.

HARKEN And?

NICK
And in my opinion, an open plan selling process in our top 30 markets along with targeted upgrade offers to existing customers promises the greatest yield.

Harken nods. Is he impressed?

HARKEN
Thank you, Nick. Did everyone see how he did that? Yes, he may be a pathological liar and have a crippling drinking problem, but when the chips are down, Nick has what it takes.

Nick glows.

HARKEN
Which brings us to our next order of business. I’ve decided who I want as our new Senior VP of Sales. He’s sitting right here among you.

Everyone turns to look at Nick.

HARKEN
It’s me.

Everyone’s head snaps back to Harken.

NICK
What?

I’ve decided to absorb the responsibilities of the Senior VP position into my own. I realized if you want something done right, you do it yourself. So, I’m going to be knocking down the wall between my office and what would’ve been the Senior VP’s to create a single, enormous office. However, as a cost-cutting measure, I will only be taking 85% of the additional salary I’m entitled to. It’s called self-sacrifice, people. Learn from this.

Harken heads out.

Nick hurries to catch up with Harken.

Mr. Harken, can I speak to you?

What is it?

You’ve been hinting for months that I was in line for that promotion.

And look how hard you’ve worked.

So you’ve just been lying to me?

Not lying. Motivating. We’re all on the same team here, Nick. We’re all trying to find Lorenzo’s oil before it’s too late for little Lorenzo. Besides, I’m the one who’s taking on a lot more work.
NICK (barely keeping it together)
Last month you kept me working so late I didn’t get to say goodbye to Gam Gam!

HARKEN
What?

NICK
My grandmother. I told you I needed to see her but you said I’d be fired if I left early. She died before I could get to the hospital.
(voice quivering)
She taught me how to swim --

HARKEN
Oh, my God. I had no idea... that you called your grandmother Gam Gam.
(chuckling)
I don’t mean to laugh, but that’s adorable.
(off Nick’s outraged look)
Look, Nick, I’m sorry you didn’t get to say bye-bye to Gam Gam. I make you work late because you’re an invaluable part of this operation. And I need you in your current position.

NICK
I’ve been in that position for eight years now. Why would I stay here after being treated like this?!

HARKEN
Because I will see to it that no one else in our industry will hire you.

NICK
What?

HARKEN
Anyone who interviews you will want my letter of recommendation.
And I’m prepared to tell them that you are a dishonest, insubordinate drunk.

(CONTINUED)
NICK
But that’s not true! You can’t do this!

Harken gets directly in Nick’s face, speaking softly but intensely.

HARKEN
Let me make this clear, you weak, little fuck. I own you. You’re my bitch. Don’t make the mistake of thinking you have free will. Because I can crush you any time I like.

(stepping back, friendly again)
Settle in, friend. You’re here for the long haul.

Harken slaps him hard on the back and continues on his way, leaving a stunned Nick.

INT. PELLIT CHEMICAL CO. - DAY

Kurt somberly heads to his desk. He’s wearing a dark suit.

PELLIT (O.S.)
Yo, dickwall! What the fuck?

Kurt sees Bobby Pellit standing in the doorway of what was Jack’s office.

KURT
What?

PELLIT
You’re three hours late. What’s the deal?

KURT
I was at your father’s funeral.

PELLIT
Maybe that excuse would’ve flown when my dad was here, but I’m in charge now.

KURT
That excuse wouldn’t have made any sense when your dad was here.

PELLIT
In my office. Now.
Kurt enters. He notices that the “Jack Pellit” nameplate has been partially taped over with the name “Bobby” scribbled in magic marker.

PELLIT Sit.

Kurt sits. Bobby quickly slips a small mirror and rolled up dollar bill into a drawer. Kurt sees Bobby has tossed most of Jack’s mementos, achievement awards and photos with luminaries in the trash.

PELLIT
I’ve been looking over the books. You’re the accountant. Tell me why this company is in the crapper.

KURT
It’s not in the crapper. It’s a recession. But we’re still profitable.

PELLIT
Bullshit. Look, I know you and my dad were pals. Frankly, I always thought it was weird and gay and I never understood why my dad thought you were so great. But it doesn’t matter now because he’s in the ground and I’m your boss. And there’s gonna be some changes around here. First of all... (pointing to a balance sheet) What is this ‘EnviroTech Waste Management’ shit that we’re paying so much for?

KURT
Your father made the decision to pay a little more to dispose of our chemical waste responsibly.

PELLIT
Yeah, fuck that. We’ve got an offer from Bolivia to dump the stuff for a third the cost.

KURT
But that would endanger thousands of local residents.

PELLIT
So some jungle tribesmen get cancer. Boo friggin’ hoo.

KURT
They’re not tribesmen. It’s a modern --
(then)
Look, Bobby, your dad told me very clearly he’d die before he’d save money by hurting people.

PELLIT
Well then, we’re right on schedule, aren’t we?

Kurt’s eyes narrow. He reaches into the trash can and grabs one of Jack’s discarded ACHIEVEMENT TROPHIES and PLUNGES its pointy end deep into Pellit’s chest, impaling him in his chair.

SMASH CUT TO:

SAME SCENE (REALITY)

Kurt sits across from an unharmed Pellit.

PELLIT
Oh, and we also need to trim the fat around here.

KURT
(snapping out of it)
What do you mean?

PELLIT
I want you to fire the fat people. They’re slow and lazy and they make me sad to look at. Start with Large Marge.

ANGLE ON Margie at her desk.

KURT
Margie’s not fat. She’s pregnant. I’m not firing her.

PELLIT
Fine. Then fire Professor Xavier over there.

ANGLE ON a balding, middle-aged man in a wheelchair, HANK, who sits at a desk near Margie’s.

KURT

Hank?

PELLIT

He creeps me out. Rolling around in that weird little chair of his.

KURT

I’m not firing anyone! It’s like you don’t care about this company at all.

PELLIT

No shit. You think when I was a kid I dreamed of running a fucking chemical company? No. I dreamed of retiring. Of being fed tropical fruit on a beach by a model while she blows me. And as soon as I squeeze all the profit out of this place, that’s exactly what I’m gonna do. So here’s the deal. You either fire the fatty or the cripple, or I fire both of them.

INT. PELLIT CHEMICAL CO. - MOMENTS LATER

Kurt sighs as he looks from Margie to Hank and back. At last, he gathers his resolve and crosses to Hank’s desk. From a RESPECTFUL DISTANCE we watch as Kurt breaks the news to Hank who reacts with sad resignation.

Kurt turns to see Pellit standing directly beside him.

PELLIT

(loudly, to the room)
Everyone, can I have your attention please? I’ve just learned that Kurt has fired our dear friend Hank here. I want you to know that I am as surprised and angry about this as you are.

KURT

What are you -- ?!

PELLIT

This is entirely an accounting department decision. My hands are tied.

(then, to Kurt)
You are one heartless bastard, Gamble.

CONTINUED:

Pellit heads off. Hank glares at Kurt.

KURT
Look, Hank, this was not my --

HANK
Fuck you, Kurt.

Hank wheels away, leaving Kurt to face the angry looks of his CO-WORKERS.

CUT TO:

INT. DENTAL OFFICE - DAY

Dale, dressed for work, knocks on Julia’s office door.

JULIA (O.S.)
Come in.

INT. JULIA’S OFFICE - CONTINUOUS ACTION

Dale enters.

DALE
You wanted to see --

He looks up to find Julia sitting at her desk in nothing but an unbuttoned white lab coat.

DALE
(averting eyes)
Oh, God.

JULIA
Have a seat, Dale.

DALE
Do I have to?

JULIA
Please.

He sits, then immediately stands again.

DALE
Look, Julia, this is ridiculous --

JULIA
(holding up hand)
I know what you’re going to say and that’s exactly what I want to talk to you about.

(MORE)

Yes, I like to joke around at work. And sometimes I might cross the line a bit. But the last thing I want to do is make you uncomfortable. That’s unprofessional and I pride myself on being a professional.

She leans back in her chair and puts her hands behind her head revealing even more of her body.

JULIA
So from now on, I want you to tell me when and if I cross the line.

DALE
Now. Right now.

What?

JULIA
You’re naked, Julia!

I’m not naked. You can’t even see my pussy.

DALE
Okay, right there! Just saying ‘pussy’ to me. That’s over the line.

JULIA
That’s over the line? You’re starting to sound like a little faggot, Dale.

DALE
Again! Naked, ‘pussy,’ ‘faggot.’ All over the line. And probably illegal --

JULIA
Okay, let’s not start talking about illegal, Mr. Pees-on-Young-Boys.

DALE
It was an empty playground! In the middle of the night!

JULIA
Even worse. That little boy must have been terrified.

Julia stands and moves uncomfortably close to Dale. He tries not to stare at her breasts.

JULIA
Let’s cut to the chase. You’re engaged now. And I respect the institution of marriage too much to violate it. That’s why you need to fuck me well before the wedding. Because the closer it gets, the less ladylike I’m going to feel about this whole thing.

DALE
I’m not going to sleep with you, Julia.

JULIA
We’ll see about that.
(then, suddenly enraged)
OUT! GET OUT!

Startled, Dale hurries out of the office.

INT. BRADFORD’S BAR - THAT NIGHT
Nick, Dale and Kurt sit miserably over their drinks. They’ve all had a few.

NICK
I feel like a total sucker. Harken was never planning on promoting me.

KURT
That coked-out douchebag is gonna destroy Pellit Chemicals.

DALE
She stood there with her breasts right in my face.

Nick and Kurt turn to Dale.

KURT
You know, yours just doesn’t sound that bad.

DALE
Why don’t you guys quit? It’s not like you’re sex offenders.

(Continued)
NICK
It’s true. I mean, I’m young. I could go back to school, change fields.

In the b.g., a GUY has noticed them. He heads over.

KURT
Yeah. Why should I care about protecting Pellit’s name when his own son doesn’t? There’s a million jobs out there.

DALE
The world is your oyster.

GUY
Well, well, if it isn’t the Three Musketeers, Nick, Kurt and Dale. Still hanging out like high school, huh?

NICK
I don’t believe it. Kenny Orkin!

DALE
I heard you moved to New York to work at Lehman Brothers or something.

KENNY (GUY)
I did. Hired me right out of Yale.

KURT
So what are you doing back here?

KENNY
Don’t you read the papers? They shut us down. I’ve been looking for work for the last two years. It’s crazy out here. I can’t even get a job waiting tables.

NICK
You? Waiting tables? You were voted Most Likely to Succeed. Everyone thought you were set.

KENNY
Everyone including me. (intense) I’d murder those Lehman Brothers if I could. Line them up, put one bullet through their three heads.

(CONTINUED)
DALE Easy, Kenny.

KENNY
It’s just not fair. I was making high six-figures. Now I can’t even afford this drink.
(holds up glass)
Seriously, you think you guys can help me out at all?

The three guys exchange uncomfortable looks as they reach for their wallets.

DALE
Uh, sure. Here’s a few bucks, Kenny.

KENNY
Okay, y’know that’s not really gonna do it for me.
(looking around, leaning in)
I’ll tell you what? What if I give you guys handjobs? Forty bucks. We can do it in the bathroom right here. I’ll do the three of you for a hundred.

KURT
You’re gay now?

KENNY
No, I’m not gay. *

They look skeptical.

KENNY
I’m the opposite of gay! *

They guys look at each other with eyebrows raised. Nick mouths “opposite.” *

KENNY
Come on. Handjobs for the Three Musketeers. Let’s do this! *

The BARTENDER spots Kenny and points at him.

BARTENDER
(yelling)
I thought I told you to stay out of here!

KENNY
Whoops. Gotta go, guys. Call me if you change your minds. I’m at my mom’s.

He hurries out. There’s a silent beat as the guys process what they’ve just witnessed.

CUT TO:

EXT. STREET - LATER

The three guys are walking home, all mildly buzzed.

KURT
So I guess we’re just gonna be miserable for the rest of our lives.

DALE
What do you mean?

KURT
What options do we have? We can quit our jobs and turn into Kenny. Or keep our jobs and turn into sad, ball-less losers who spend their days dreaming of ways to kill their bosses.

There’s a beat as Nick regards Kurt.

NICK
You do that too?

KURT
Of course. Everyone does. It’s the only thing that keeps us from going totally bat-shit.

NICK
The other day I imagined shoving one of those jugs from the water cooler in Harken’s mouth and making him drink until his bladder explodes.

DALE Jeez.

KURT
That’s so funny. I had the same idea for Pellit.

(MORE)

KURT (CONT'D)
Only using gasoline instead of water. And his ass instead of his mouth.

DALE
You guys are sick.

KURT
What’s sick about it? It’s just a way to let off steam.

NICK
Yeah, Dale. It’s not like we’re actually going to kill our bosses.

They continue walking. After a beat.

KURT
You have to admit though, our lives would be a lot better if our bosses were dead.

NICK
Well, of course. It’s the one thing that keeps me from being happy.

DALE
Me too.

There’s another beat.

KURT
Let’s just consider this, for one second.

DALE
Consider what?

KURT
Killing our bosses. I’m just being hypothetical here.

DALE
(laughing it off)
Yeah, right.

NICK
Very funny.

KURT
Well, it’s not like they’re gonna live forever. These pieces of shit are going to die someday.

KURT (CONT'D)
We’d just be accelerating that natural process.

NICK
Shut up, Kurt.

DALE
Yeah, shut up, Kurt.

KURT (earnest)
Frankly, I don’t see any reason not to do it.

DALE
Well, first of all, killing someone is illegal and immoral --

KURT
It may be illegal but I’m not sure it’s immoral. Sometimes one evil person has to die for the greater good of the community. If Bobby Pellit has his way, hundreds, maybe thousands of innocent Bolivians will suffer. It would actually be immoral not to kill him.

Nick begins to warm to the idea.

NICK
I didn’t get to say goodbye to Gam Gam because of Harken.

KURT
Exactly! Who knows how many other Gam Gams have died alone.

DALE
I can’t believe you guys are actually talking about this. I don’t care how bad our bosses are. We’re not murderers.

NICK
No, we’re not, Dale. We’re just trying to live our lives. But what are we supposed to do when someone makes it impossible for us to live our lives? Do we just bend over and take it up the ass forever?

(CONTINUED)
KURT
No, we do not!

DALE
What you guys are talking about is wrong and you know it.

NICK
Julia’s ruining your life. That’s wrong.

KURT Yeah!

DALE
She’s not ruining my life. If anything’s ruining my life it’s you guys and your drunk bullshit.

KURT
If it’s bullshit, Dale, then how come we all want to do it so much?

They reach the corner where they part ways.

DALE
I don’t want to do it. And when you sober up neither will you. We’re not killing anyone.

Dale heads off.

KURT
(to Nick)
I was just being hypothetical.

NICK
(quickly)
Yeah, me too.

OFF their ambivalent looks --

INT. DENTAL OFFICE - NEXT DAY

Dale is organizing some equipment when a pair of woman’s hands suddenly cover his eyes.

WOMAN (O.S.)
(suggestively)
Guess who?
DALE (wearily)
I’m really not in the mood for this now --

He turns and reacts as he sees it’s not Julia, but his fiancée, Stacy.

DALE Stacy?!

STACY
Not in the mood for what?

DALE
For... nothing. What are you doing here?

Julia appears in her office doorway.

JULIA
I invited her.

STACY
She called and said now that we’re engaged, she wanted to offer me free dental work. And you know I’ve had that loose filling for a while. It’s so sweet of you, Julia.

JULIA
It’s my pleasure. You’re part of the family now.

DALE
(visibly uptight)
Uhhhh... I don’t know if this is a good idea.

STACY
Why not?

DALE
We don’t want to take advantage of Julia.

JULIA
Dale, there’s nothing you could do that would be taking advantage of me. Nothing.
  (then, to Stacy)
Now what do you say we pump you full of gas?

Julia leads Stacy into the exam room. Dale cuts them off.

DALE
Wait -- no gas. She doesn’t need to be out.

STACY
What are you talking about, Dale? You know I’m not good with drills.

JULIA
(pointedly)
You don’t want your fiancée to suffer, do you?

OFF Dale’s defeated look --

CUT TO:

INT. EXAMINATION ROOM - SHORT TIME LATER

Stacy lies on the chair with the nitrous mask over her nose. Julia and Dale stand beside her.

STACY
(losing consciousness)
Ten, nine... eight... seh...

And she’s out. Immediately, Julia pounces on Dale, feverishly trying to unbuckle his belt.

DALE
Hey! Stop it, what are you -- ?

JULIA
You’re gonna give me that dong, Dale!

DALE
NO!

Stacy groans softly. Dale pushes Julia away.

DALE
I knew you only brought her in here to mess with me.

JULIA
Let’s have sex on top of her. Let’s use her like a bed!

Julia begins to clamber up onto Stacy’s supine body. Dale pulls her off.

DALE
All right, that’s it, Julia. This is over. You’re out of your mind. I quit!

He goes to turn off the gas but before he can --

JULIA
I’ll tell her you fucked me!

DALE
What?

JULIA
If you don’t fuck me, I’ll tell her you fucked me.

DALE
Tell her whatever you want. She’d never believe you.

Julia opens a nearby drawer and tosses an envelope onto Stacy’s chest.

JULIA
She already knows you’re a sex offender. And once she sees these, I think she’ll believe me.

DALE
What is that?

JULIA
You remember your first week here when I replaced the crown on your second bicuspid?

DALE
(nervously)
... Yeah?

JULIA
I took a few snapshots of the procedure. For my files.

Dale lunges at the envelope and pulls out the photos.
CLOSE ON THE PICTURES

-- Dale lies on the dentist chair, his eyes open and his hands behind his head with Julia at his crotch, apparently fellating him.

-- Julia, now nude, straddles Dale, who is naked from the waist down on the chair. She holds one arm in the air like a rodeo cowboy.

-- Julia is on the floor, her legs splayed while Dale lies limply on top of her.

-- Julia is on all fours. Dale is limply draped over her back, apparently doing her doggy-style.

BACK TO SCENE

DALE

(shocked)
You... you did all this while I was unconscious?

JULIA

Yup.

DALE

How did you make it look like I was awake?

JULIA

Taped your eyes open.

DALE

This is rape! You raped me!

JULIA

Don’t get all dramatic. Your dick wasn’t hard. But it will be next time. Or else Stacy here gets a look at my photo album.

She holds up the packet of photos.

JULIA

(suddenly professional)
Now, let’s repair this patient’s filling, shall we?

Dale gapes at her, dumbstruck.
Kurt and Nick are playing a videogame as Dale bursts through the front door.

DALE
Let’s kill the bitch.

KURT
Huh?

NICK
What bitch?

DALE
My boss. Our bosses. They need to die.

Nick and Kurt exchange a look.

NICK
We were drunk last night, man. And didn’t you say killing was wrong?

DALE
That was before Julia tried to fuck me on top of my fiancée’s unconscious body.

KURT Whoa!

DALE
I say we kill them all. Are you guys in or out?

KURT
I was in last night.

DALE
Yes! Nick?

They both turn to Nick who is uncertain. Kurt spots the photo of Nick with his GRANDMOTHER and grabs it off the wall.

KURT
Look at her. Look at Bubby.

NICK Gam Gam.

KURT
Look at Gam Gam. Getting a smooch from her favorite grandson. Little does she know that she’ll never get to say goodbye to him. And why? Because his shithead boss wouldn’t let him leave. What would Gam Gam want you to do?

NICK
Probably not kill him.

KURT
This isn’t about Gam Gam. This is about you. What do you want, Nick?

NICK
I want him to die.

KURT
Damn straight!

NICK
Okay, I’m in.

KURT
All right! Let’s do this.

(then)
How do we do this?

DALE
I was thinking about that on my way over. Stacy and I watch a lot of ‘Law & Order’ and there’s a ton of ways criminals mess up. Things we’d never think of. They leave behind clothing fibers, bullet casings, hair, skin cells --

KURT
Skin cells?! I can’t even keep track of my keys!

DALE
Exactly. And that’s why we need a professional.

NICK
What are you talking about, a hitman?

Dale nods.

(CONTINUED)
KURT
You know, that’s not bad. I mean, we don’t clean our own apartments, right? We hire someone to clean them for us.

DALE
Maybe you do, moneybags.

NICK
But where are we supposed to find a hitman?

DALE
That’s the only problem. I have no idea.

There’s a beat. Kurt’s eyes light up.

KURT
I do. Meet at my place tomorrow after work. And make sure you’re not followed.

NICK
Why would anyone follow us?

KURT
I don’t know. People get followed.

DALE
What people?

KURT
Just meet me at my place.

INT. KURT’S APARTMENT - NEXT EVENING

Kurt opens the door on Nick and Dale. The decor of Kurt’s place is best described as a middle-income bachelor pad.

KURT
Come in. The guy should be here pretty soon.

NICK
Wait. You actually found someone?!

KURT
It was as easy as buying a used futon.

He points to his computer. On the screen is a listing from --

DALE
Craigslist?! You found a hitman on Craigslist.

KURT
Yup. But they don’t post it as ‘hitman.’ That would be stupid. They use code words, like ‘liquidation,’ ‘pest control,’ ‘wet work.’ Check it out. This is our guy.

Nick reads the listing.

NICK
‘Skilled professional with years of experience in domestic and international wet work. Fast and discreet. No children or political figures.’

KURT
See? He’s principled.

DALE
This is so dangerous. What if he’s a narc?

NICK
Yeah, Kurt. Call him back and cancel.

KURT
It’s too late. He’s on his way.

DALE
What do we do if this guy gets here and he asks for so much money that we can’t afford him and he gets mad and kills all of us?

KURT
I don’t think he’d stay in business long if he killed everyone who couldn’t afford him.

NICK
(looking out window)
Guys! I think this is him!

The others hurry to look. From --
We see a black Mercedes SLK pull up. A distinguished-looking MAN in a well-tailored suit steps out. He wears sunglasses and carries a briefcase.

NICK
Nice car.

KURT
Whoa. This guy’s legit.

DALE
I bet that briefcase has one of those guns you have to screw together.

NICK
All right, let’s just be professional here. We don’t want to seem all giddy.

A knock at the door.

KURT
(hushed)
How’s my hair?

NICK
(sotto)
It doesn’t matter!

Kurt opens the door on the Man who looks even smoother up close.

MAN
(British accent)
Is one of you Kurt?

DALE
(whispering to Nick)
Oh my God, he’s like James Bond!

KURT
(to the Man)
Yes, hi, I’m Kurt. Please come in.

MAN
Thank you. Are all three of you participating in this?

(CONTINUED)
NICK
Yes, we are.

MAN
Very well. Now before we go any further, I need to know if there are any hidden recording devices in this room. I will find out if there are.

DALE
No, no! We definitely don’t want to record this, sir.

MAN
Then let’s get started.

He walks to the middle of the living room, opens his briefcase and takes out a plastic tarp which he proceeds to unfurl over the carpet.

KURT
Whoa, whoa. What’s that for?

MAN
For the mess.

NICK
We don’t want you to kill us!

DALE
(freaking out)
Oh my God! I knew it!

MAN
Kill you? What are you talking about?

The guys exchange a confused look.

KURT
Your ad said you do wet work.

MAN
That’s correct. I urinate on other men for money.

NICK/KURT
What?!

MAN
Why do you think my ad was in the ‘men seeking men’ section?

(CONTINUED)
NICK
(to Kurt)
You were looking in ‘men seeking men’?!

KURT
Yeah! We’re men seeking a man, aren’t we?

NICK
You are such a moron.

MAN
So you’re telling me I drove all the way to the Valley and no one wants to be pissed on?

DALE
Please don’t kill us.

MAN
I don’t kill people!
(then, sighing)
Can I use your rest room? I’ve stored up rather a large amount of pee for this.

KURT (pointing)
It’s right through there.

The Man heads off. After a beat --

KURT
Good thing I didn’t call the guy who was offering to do ‘dirty work.’

INT. KURT’S CAR - THAT NIGHT

Kurt drives. Nick is in the passenger seat. Dale in back.

KURT
All right, I’ll take the blame for that one.

NICK
That’s big of you.

KURT
I’m going to make it up to you. I figured out a much better way to find a contract killer.

DALE

What’s that?

Kurt reaches up and pushes a button on the rear-view mirror. A male voice comes over the speaker.

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
(Indian accent)
Hello, Mr. Gamble, thank you for contacting On Star --

DALE
Oh, come on!

NICK
(to Kurt)
This is your plan?

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
-- my name is Gregory. How can I be of service this evening?

KURT
Gregory, I need you to direct me to the most dangerous bar in Los Angeles.

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
I’m sorry?

KURT
We need to find the bar with the most scumbags, lowlifes and hardcore shitheads. Can you help us out?

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
I’m afraid our listings are not organized by danger, sir. I do see there is a Bennigan’s three blocks from your current location --

KURT
Okay, Gregory? That’s unhelpful. While I’m sure there are plenty of shitheads there, they’re not the kind of shitheads we need.

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
I can direct you to the neighborhood with the greatest number of car-jackings in your area.

(Continued)
KURT
Now we’re talking.

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
Very good, sir. You may wish to lock your doors.

Kurt and the others lock their doors.

EXT. SCARY NEIGHBORHOOD - SHORT TIME LATER
Kurt’s car drives down a depressed-looking block.

INT. KURT’S CAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION
The guys are still chatting with Gregory.

NICK
So, do you like living in Bangalore?

GREGORY (ON STAR REP)(V.O.)
It’s not bad. Humid.

DALE
Now, ‘Gregory.’ Is that your real name?

GREGORY (V.O.)
No, sir. My real name is Atmanand.

KURT
Atmanand? How did you get Gregory from that?

GREGORY (V.O.)
‘Gregory’ was assigned to me by On Star.

NICK
Why don’t they let you use your real name?

GREGORY (V.O.)
Many Americans find our real names off-putting.

KURT
Actually, I do find Atmanand a little off-putting.

48 CONTINUED:

GREGORY (V.O.)

(flats)
You have arrived at your destination, sir.

DALE/NICK
Thank you, Gregory./Thanks, Gregory.

49 EXT. DIVE BAR - SHORT TIME LATER

Kurt’s car pulls up on a grimy-looking South-Central street and stops in front of a dingy bar. The guys get out and look around warily.

KURT
This must be the place.

DALE
Aren’t you worried about your car?

KURT
Nah, Gregory’s watching it.

NICK
You really think we’re gonna find a hitman in there?

KURT
I think we’re gonna have a hard time deciding between all the hitmen in there. Trust me, these are the lowest of the low.

50 INT. DIVE BAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION

The three guys enter the squalid, smoky place. The room is full of surly-looking PATRONS, none of them white. People turn to stare.

NICK
Oh, real nice, Kurt. Way to be racist.

KURT
This isn’t a race thing. We need a criminal and this neighborhood is where they live. I’m not saying that’s because there are a lot of black people here. That’s the fault of our society that discriminates and disenfranchises them.

(CONTINUED)
DALE
You said they were the lowest of the low.

KURT
I was speaking socio-economically.

NICK
So what do we do now? Yell out ‘anyone here kill people for money?’

KURT
Let me handle this.

They each take a seat at the bar where a no-nonsense BARTENDER walks over to them.

BARTENDER
Yeah?

KURT
Hey. How you doing? Nice place. (leaning in) Listen, does anyone here kill people for money?

NICK
Kurt!

An intense-looking GUY on the next stool notices them.

BARTENDER
The fuck did you just say?

KURT
Don’t get me wrong. This isn’t about race. Our society discriminates and disenfranchises you --

DALE
(head in hands)
Oh my God.

BARTENDER
I’m a small business owner. Who are you calling disenfranchised?

KURT
I didn’t mean you in particular.

BARTENDER
Right. You mean all black people.

(continued)
NICK
Maybe we should go?

BARTENDER
You could do that. Or I could take the aluminum baseball bat I’m holding in my right hand and disenfranchise your teeth from your mouth.

DALE
I vote we go.

The three stand and head for the door.

KURT
Okay, we’re going. I’m sorry if I offended you. It was never my --

BARTENDER
Oh shit, please shut up.

KURT Okey doke.

EXT. DIVE BAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION

The guys come out onto the sidewalk.

DALE
This is ridiculous. We’re never gonna find someone to do this for us.

COCKSUCKER JONES (O.S.)
Yo!

They turn to see COCKSUCKER JONES, 30s, the guy who was sitting next to them at the bar.

COCKSUCKER JONES
I think I can help you boys.

He gestures for them to follow him into the alley beside the bar. Kurt and Nick move to follow.

DALE
Oh, we’re just gonna follow him into that alley?... All right.

INT. ALLEY - CONTINUOUS ACTION

Cocksucker Jones leans in to the three guys.

(CONTINUED)
COCKSUCKER JONES
I heard you’re looking for someone to take care of some business for you?

NICK
Yes, we are. Are you a... businessman?

COCKSUCKER JONES (putting out his hand)
Cocksucker Jones.

NICK (unsure whether to take his hand)
Excuse me?

COCKSUCKER JONES
That’s my name.

DALE
Your first name is Cocksucker?

COCKSUCKER JONES
And my last name’s Jones. You got a problem with that?

DALE
No, no. It’s just interesting.
That’s the name on your birth certificate?

COCKSUCKER JONES
Naw, man. It’s a nickname. My real name is Dean.

DALE
Oh! Like Dean Jones. The actor from Herbie the Love Bug.

KURT
(quietly to Dale)
I don’t think he knows who Dean
Jones is.

COCKSUCKER JONES
I know who Dean Jones is, bitch!
I can’t walk around here with that kind of faggy, cracker name.

NICK
So you chose ‘cocksucker’?

(CONTINUED)
COCKSUCKER JONES
That’s right. Nobody fucks with a cocksucker. ‘Cocksucker’ is the toughest name there is.

DALE
Not ‘motherfucker’?

COCKSUCKER JONES
I considered Motherfucker. But in the end, I thought Cocksucker Jones sounded more badass than Motherfucker Jones.

KURT
I agree.

NICK
Okay, here’s the thing: we each work for a boss that we need to get rid of. Is that something you might be able to help us with?

COCKSUCKER JONES
It is. Assuming you’ve got the cheese.

KURT
We’ve got cheese. How much cheese are we talking?

COCKSUCKER JONES
For three hits? That’s gonna run you thirty large.

NICK
That’s a lot of cheese.

KURT
We don’t have that much cheese.

DALE
Isn’t there any kind of discount because we’re buying three at once? Like buy two, get one free.

COCKSUCKER JONES
This ain’t the motherfucking Cold Stone Creamery. It’s thirty large or nothing.

NICK
There’s no way we can pay that.

COCKSUCKER JONES

Five large.

DALE

Wow.

(to Nick)

Good negotiating.

NICK

That’s a lot more reasonable. And that would be for all three, Cocksucker?

COCKSUCKER JONES

Yeah.

KURT

Great. We’re in.

COCKSUCKER JONES

Okay, meet me back here tomorrow night with the cash. I’ll take care of the rest.

NICK

Should we bring the bills in any kind of special denominations?

COCKSUCKER JONES

No, just, whatever. Small bills.

NICK

Got it.

KURT

And do you want it in any particular container, like a shoebox?

NICK

Or a paper bag?

DALE

Or plastic. I read an article that plastic is actually better for the environment than paper.

COCKSUCKER JONES

Fuck the environment! Just put that shit in a briefcase.

NICK

Got it. Thanks. Come on, guys.

They turn to go, when Dale turns back.
DALE
Should we deduct the cost of the briefcase?

COCKSUCKER JONES
What?!

DALE
I mean, assuming we don’t get the case back... We’re not getting the case back, right?

Cocksucker glares at him.

DALE
Well, that’s like an extra eighty bucks. Only seems fair that we should take that out of your end.

NICK
We’ll cover the briefcase, Dale.

DALE
Then let’s get a cheap one. It doesn’t have to be real leather.

(then to Cocksucker)

Are you cool with faux -- ?

Kurt grabs Dale by the shoulder and hustles him to the car.

DISSOLVE TO:

SERIES OF SHOTS

MUSIC CUE: Frank Sinatra’s “(Forget Your Troubles, Come On) Get Happy”

-- Dale, Kurt and Nick each take a turn at an ATM machine, withdrawing the maximum amount they can.

-- Nick at his desk at work. He looks over his cubicle wall and his eyes narrow as he sees Harken directing a WORKMAN who stencils the words “Senior Vice President of Sales” below where it already says “President.” Another WORKMAN uses a sledgehammer on the wall of the office. Nick grins malevolently.

-- Kurt is at his desk in the chemical company. He looks up to see Bobby Pellit open his office door and lead out two obvious HOOKERS. Pellit has white powder around his nostrils. He spots Kurt watching him and he sneers back. Kurt smiles devilishly.

-- CLOSE ON Dale as he places tooth X-rays into plastic contact sheets. PULL BACK to reveal Julia is licking his neck while tweaking his nipples through his scrubs. In contrast to earlier, Dale appears to be unfazed and almost amused by Julia’s antics.

EXT. ALLEY - THAT NIGHT

Cocksucker Jones holds an open briefcase that’s empty but for a single stack of taped together 20-dollar bills.

COCKSUCKER JONES
Looks like it’s all here.

DALE
Turns out we didn’t really need the briefcase after all. Could’ve just used a manila envelope.

KURT Shut up, Dale.

NICK
So, Cocksucker, how long do you think it’ll be before you’ve... taken care of business?

COCKSUCKER JONES
Here’s the thing. I just got out of doing a dime for some pretty ugly shit and I’m still on probation. They’re watching me. So if I step out of line, I go right back inside.

KURT
You told us you could take care of it.

COCKSUCKER JONES
And I’m gonna. I’m gonna be your professional advisor. Think of me as your murder consultant.

NICK
We don’t want a murder consultant. We want a murderer.

DALE
I knew we were getting ripped off!

KURT
Okay, look. This isn’t what we talked about.

(MORE)
Can we just get our money back, please? Then we’ll be on our way.

COCKSUCKER JONES

Sorry, no refunds.

NICK

That’s five thousand dollars. You think we’re just gonna walk away and let you keep that?

COCKSUCKER JONES

(getting in his face)

I think you’re forgetting who you’re talking to.

Cocksucker pulls back the lower edge of his jacket to reveal what appears to be the holster of a gun.

DALE

Whoa, whoa! We don’t want any trouble.

COCKSUCKER JONES

Now either I give you the advice you paid for, or you can walk away with nothing. Up to you.

KURT

Look, the whole reason we came to you is because we don’t have the experience to do it ourselves.

COCKSUCKER JONES

Most killers are first-timers. Look, the key to a good murder is making it look like an accident. Gas leak, brakes failing, suicide, that sort of thing. If you do it right, you won’t even have to be there when it goes down.

NICK

That makes sense. But how would we fake three accidents?

COCKSUCKER JONES

You need to stalk your prey, track their movements, get to know them inside and out. Where do they go? What do they eat for breakfast? Who’re they fucking?
DALE
You’re talking about surveillance and recon.

COCKSUCKER JONES
But making it look like an accident won’t be enough if the pigs can pin a motive on you.

NICK
Well, we all have obvious motives for killing our bosses.

COCKSUCKER JONES
So why don’t you kill each other’s bosses?

DALE
Hey, that’s a good idea. Like Hitchcock’s Strangers on a Train.

KURT
The Danny DeVito movie?

DALE
Yes, the famous Alfred Hitchcock/Danny DeVito movie. You’re thinking of Throw Mama from the Train. But it’s actually the same idea. If we kill each other’s bosses there’s no link to us.

NICK
That’s pretty good.

COCKSUCKER JONES
That’s what you’re paying me for. Now ain’t that worth five grand?

The guys all AD LIB “no’s.”

COCKSUCKER JONES
Yeah, well, too fucking bad.

INT. NICK’S CUBICLE - NEXT EVENING

Nick is poring over a stack of documents when his phone rings.

INTERCUT WITH:
Kurt and Dale wait in the car outside of Nick’s office.

KURT
We’re outside. You ready for a little recon?

NICK
Yeah. I just need to get Harken to let me leave early.

KURT
What’s the difference? He’s not going to be your boss much longer.

NICK
(whispering)
If I get fired before we kill Harken, this’ll all have been for nothing. I’ll just be an out-of-work murderer.

(then)
I’ll be down in three minutes.

He hangs up then peers over his cubicle wall to see Harken talking to another EMPLOYEE nearby. Nick takes a breath, leans over his garbage pail and sticks a Commtronix pen down his throat. At the sound of Nick’s loud WRETCHING, Harken looks over to see him puking into the trash pail.

HARKEN
What in God’s name...?!

NICK
(weakly)
Sorry, sir. I’ve been fighting this bug all day. I’ll just get back to work --

Nick wipes his mouth and turns pathetically back to his desk.

HARKEN
No. Go home. I don’t want you getting everyone else sick.

NICK
Oh, okay. Thank you, Mr. Harken.

Nick grabs his jacket and moves to go.
HARKEN
Wait. Take your work with you.
Have it on my desk at six AM.

Nick barely conceals his contempt as he picks up the stack of papers and heads out.

HARKEN
(muttering) Disgusting.

EXT. BOBBY PELLIT'S STREET - NEXT DAY
Kurt’s car pulls up slowly and parks. Kurt, Dale and Nick slump down in their seats.

INT. KURT’S CAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION

KURT
Okay, boys, as soon as Pellit makes a move, we tail him. It is on now.

NICK
Oh, it’s on.

DALE
Hell yeah!

They watch the house with steely determination.

DISSOLVE TO:

INT. KURT’S CAR - ONE HOUR LATER
The guys are bored out of their minds, barely awake.
Dale nibbles on a peanut butter and jelly sandwich in a plastic bag.

KURT
Ughhhhh, I can’t believe how much this sucks.

DALE
I don’t get it. On TV, surveillance always looks so great. They’ve got their cups of coffee. Their sunflower seeds.
They talk about their lives.
(MORE)
And then, right when they reveal something really intimate, the perp appears and they spring into action.

A long, silent pause as they watch the house...

NICK
Are we even sure he’s home?

They exchange looks.

KURT
(opening his door)
Let’s go check it out.

They get out of the car. Dale pockets his sandwich.

EXT. PELLIT’S HOUSE - MOMENTS LATER

The three guys creep around Pellit’s patio, peeking in doors and windows. Finally:

NICK
I don’t see him.

Kurt is about to try a window when Dale stops him.

DALE
What are you doing?

KURT
We’re not gonna get intel standing on his lawn. We have to go in.

DALE
What about fingerprints? We don’t have gloves.

KURT
Here, do this.

Kurt pulls his shirt sleeves down over his hands. Dale does the same. Nick, who wears a T-shirt, tucks his hands inside the bottom of the shirt. With some difficulty, Kurt slides open the window.

KURT
Here we go.

The three of them manage to wriggle through the window. It’s not graceful: Dale’s foot gets caught on the sill, causing him to tumble on top of Nick and Kurt. At last, all three are inside.
INT. PELLIT’S LIVING ROOM - CONTINUOUS ACTION

KURT
Dale, keep an eye out. Let us know if Pellit’s coming.

DALE
Got it. Wait, I don’t know what he looks like.

NICK
It doesn’t matter. Just tell us if anyone comes.

DALE
Got it.

They take in Pellit’s living room. There’s a leather sofa, a 60-inch plasma and enormous speakers. On the wall are framed Ed Hardy posters depicting dragons and half-naked girls.

KURT
Wow. This guy’s a bigger douchebag than me.

NICK
Okay, let’s split up. Look for any intel we can use on him.

KURT
What kind of intel?

NICK
I don’t know. I guess we’ll know it when we see it.

Kurt heads upstairs while Dale and Nick look around the living room.

DALE
Hey, Nick? Does this count as intel?

Nick looks over to see Dale holding in his sleeve-covered hands an open wooden box filled with white powder.

NICK
Holy shit, that’s a lot of blow.

DALE
God, this must be worth, like, ten thousand -- oh shit!

(CONTINUED)
Suddenly, the box slips out of Dale’s hands. It hits the floor, sending a cascade of cocaine all over the rug.

NICK
What the fuck?!!

DALE
Sorry, my sleeves were slippery!

NICK
We’ve got to get that back in the box.

DALE
I’ve got it.

He kneels and begins trying to scoop up the coke in his hands. It’s an impossible task.

INT. PELLIT’S BEDROOM - SAME TIME

Kurt looks around the room. He doesn’t see anything useful so he heads into --

INT. PELLIT’S BATHROOM - CONTINUOUS ACTION

He flips on the light. His eyes land on Pellit’s toothbrush. He grins slyly.

INT. PELLIT’S LIVING ROOM - SAME TIME

Dale is still on his knees, scooping up coke, as Nick returns from the kitchen cradling a Dustbuster in his T-shirt.

NICK
Look out. Let me try this.

Struggling with his hands in his T-shirt, Nick vacuums up the cocaine from the rug. When he’s finished, he pops open the vacuum’s waste receptacle and dumps the contents back in the wooden box.

CLOSE ON THE BOX

Which is now filled not only with cocaine, but bits of hair, dust bunnies, food and other crap.
I guess we should’ve emptied the Dustbuster before we used it.

You think?

Just BELOW FRAME, Kurt removes Pellit’s toothbrush from his ass and returns it to its holder, careful to keep his hands covered with his sleeves.

He’s about to go when he notices a bar of Neutrogena face soap beside the sink. He looks around deviously.

Dale and Nick are doing their best to pick the crap out of Pellit’s cocaine.

Hey look, there’s a piece of cereal in here. Can’t tell if that’s a corn flake or a frosted flake...

Kurt comes down the stairs.

Okay, my work upstairs is done. You guys ready to split?

Kurt pulls away from the curb.

We need to be better prepared. That was totally dangerous and a complete waste of time.

Not a complete waste.

He pulls a BlackBerry out of his pocket.

Oh no... don’t tell me...
DALE
You stole that from Pellit’s house?

KURT
It’s got his calendar and his contacts. This is what recon’s all about.

DALE (glum)
Nobody said we’d be stealing.

KURT
Shall we pay a little visit to your boss, Nick?

NICK
I guess so. But let’s make a stop first.

EXT. RITE-AID PHARMACY - MINUTES LATER
Nick emerges from the store with a plastic bag and gets into Kurt’s car.

INT. KURT’S CAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION

DALE
What did you need to get?

Nick holds up a box of latex gloves.

NICK
No more sleeve gloves.

DALE Nice.

KURT
Oh man, you should’ve asked me. I’ve got a whole box of those in my bedside table.
(off their grossed-out looks)
Don’t judge me.

NICK
Take a right up here. Harken’s place is about a mile away.

They drive for a beat. Then --
DALE
Y’know... this is kinda, I don’t know... exciting.

KURT Very.

NICK
(a little smile)
Yeah.
(them)
I guess we’re really doing this now, huh?

DALE
(grinning)
I guess so.

EXT. HARKEN’S HOUSE - SHORT TIME LATER
A two-story house with a tidy yard. Kurt’s car pulls up.

INT. KURT’S CAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION
Kurt and Nick begin pulling on their gloves.

DALE
Can I have a pair?

NICK
You know, last time with the three of us, it got a little... messy. What if Kurt and I go in and you stay here and watch out for Harken?

DALE
Okay -- again, I don’t know what he looks like.

NICK
If anyone approaches the house, assume it’s him and give us a signal.

DALE
Fine. I’ll honk the horn six times.

KURT
Maybe something a little more subtle?

(CONTINUED)
DALE
Honk the horn four times?

NICK
How about you just honk once?

DALE
People honk once all the time. You’ll be running in and out of the house.

KURT
Fine. Honk twice.

DALE (skeptical)
Okay...

Nick and Kurt get out of the car. After a beat, Dale remembers his sandwich and pulls it out of his pocket.

EXT. HARKEN’S HOUSE – MOMENTS LATER

Kurt and Nick sneak up to the front porch which is camouflaged by shrubs. They peek inside.

NICK
(whispering)
Looks like the coast is clear.

Kurt tries the windows. They’re locked.

KURT
Damn. Guess we’ll have to break in the old-fashioned way.

Kurt looks around and spots a small rock beside the porch. He picks it up and winds back to throw it at the window.

NICK
Kurt, wait!

But it’s too late. Kurt has released the rock. It HITS the window, but instead of breaking the glass, the rock itself BREAKS into two pieces.

KURT
Holy shit. I broke the rock.

NICK
No, it’s one of those hide-a-key things. Look...

Nick shows Kurt a key concealed in one half of the fake rock. He grabs it and inserts it into the front door lock.

INT. HARKEN'S LIVING ROOM - CONTINUOUS ACTION

The guys tiptoe in, whispering and tense. The place is tastefully decorated with attractive furniture and modern art. There is a vase of flowers on a table.

NICK
Wow. This is not how I pictured his place.

KURT
For all we know, he’s got a closet full of skin suits.

A CAT springs out of nowhere, startling them, then runs off.

NICK Jesus!

KURT Stupid cat.
(then)
Let’s check upstairs.

They head up.

INT. KURT’S CAR - SAME TIME

Dale is finishing the last of his peanut butter sandwich. He checks the rearview mirror. No sign of anyone.

DALE
(singing a la Cher, simulating auto-tune)
'Do you believe in love after love/I can feel something inside me say/I really don’t think you’re strong enough now...'

INT. HARKEN’S BEDROOM - CONTINUOUS ACTION

Just as Kurt and Nick enter, the cat suddenly jumps out from behind the door, startling them again.
KURT
God damn it! How many cats do they have?

NICK
I think that was the same one.

KURT
Little bastard.

Kurt notices a framed wedding photo on the dresser of Harken and Mrs. Harken.

KURT
Damn. That’s Mrs. Harken? I’d like to cover her in cock yogurt.

NICK
You want to cover every woman in... did you say ‘cock yogurt’?

KURT
I did.

Yet again, Kurt and Nick jump as the cat LEAPS out of hiding with a YOWL then runs off.

KURT Ahhh!

NICK
If he’s so scared of us, why doesn’t he just leave us alone?!

INT. KURT’S CAR – SAME TIME
Dale plays a bowling game on his cell phone.

DALE
C’mon, c’mon... yes!

A breeze blows through the open windows of the car, catching the plastic bag from Dale’s sandwich and carrying it out the window.

EXT. KURT’S CAR – CONTINUOUS ACTION
Just then, Harken, in running attire, comes jogging up the street. His eye is caught by the plastic bag falling from the car window onto the street. He stops and angrily picks up the bag.
HARKEN
Hey, schmuck.

Dale, surprised, turns to the window.

DALE
Excuse me?

HARKEN
You want to tell me why you’re littering on my street?

DALE
Oh, I’m sorry, that blew out the window. I wasn’t littering.

HARKEN
I don’t care if it blew out of your twat. Now, get your fucking Chevy Cavalier the hell off my block!

DALE
Whoa. Sir, there’s no need to be hostile.

HARKEN
Hostile? You want to see hostile? How about I go in the house and get my -- Suddenly, Harken begins to choke and his face grows increasingly red.

DALE
Get your what?

With one hand Harken grabs his throat and with the other he looks at the plastic bag he’s holding.

HARKEN (strained) Peanuts?

DALE
Huh? Oh, yeah. It was a peanut butter sandwich.

Harken collapses to his knees. His face is turning blue now. Dale quickly steps out of the car.

DALE
Oh god! What should I do?! Tell me what to do!

Harken yanks up the right leg of his jogging pants revealing an EPI-PEN strapped to his ankle. He reaches for it, but Dale moves faster.

DALE
What do I do with this? Should I inject you?!

Harken nods urgently as his eyes begin to roll back.

DALE
Okay, hold on! I got this.

Dale takes the cap off the epi-pen, raises his arm and jams the needle into Harken’s chest. Harken lets out a grunt.

DALE
Did I do it? Did I get enough in?! I’m gonna do it again!

Dale raises his arm again.

INT. HARKEN’S BEDROOM - CONTINUOUS ACTION

Nick continues to search around the bedroom. Kurt is by the window.

NICK
Do you see a Day Runner or an address book?

KURT
No --
(glances out the window)
What the...? Dude, check this out.

Nick joins him at the window and they both react as they see what appears to be Dale repeatedly STABBING Harken in the chest, neck and arms. Harken lies motionless on the sidewalk.

NICK (excited)
That’s Harken! Dale’s killing Harken!

KURT
Holy shit! He’s really doing it!
(realizing)
Out where everyone can see him.

(CONTINUED)
NICK
What the hell is he thinking?!

KURT
He’s not stopping. He’s gonna get us all caught. We’ve gotta get out of here.

NICK
What about Dale?

KURT
He’s a psychopath. We leave him behind.

NICK
Right. Let’s go through the back!

As they hurry to leave the room, Kurt stumbles over the CAT which has appeared yet again. Unseen by either of them, PELLIT’S BLACKBERRY SLIPS out of his pocket and lands on the floor at the foot of Harken’s bed.

EXT. HARKEN’S HOUSE - CONTINUOUS ACTION

As Dale kneels over Harken to check his breathing, a car pulls up alongside and MRS. HARKEN steps out. Seeing her husband on the ground, she rushes over.

MRS. HARKEN
Oh my god! What happened?!

DALE
He had an allergic reaction. But I think he’s coming around. Do you know him?

MRS. HARKEN
He’s my husband.

Mrs. Harken kneels beside Harken and supports his head.

MRS. HARKEN
Honey? Can you hear me?

Harken groggily looks down at his torso which is perforated by dozens of tiny needle marks.

HARKEN
(grogy, to Dale)
Wha-- What did you do to me?

DALE
I injected you with your thing.
MRS. HARKEN
He saved your life, honey.
(to Dale)
Thank you so much!

She grabs Dale in a warm hug.

DALE
Oh, it was nothing.

HARKEN
(to Mrs. Harken)
What’s this? What’s with the hugging?

MRS. HARKEN
I’m just thankful that he was here.

HARKEN
I’ll bet you are. Do you know this guy?

MRS. HARKEN
No. We just --

HARKEN
Are you fucking him, Rhonda?

MRS. HARKEN
Oh, come on.

HARKEN
(to Dale)
What were you doing out here, anyway? Waiting to fuck my wife?

DALE (flustered)
I’ve never met your wife --

Still a bit woozy, Harken gets to his feet and points at Dale.

HARKEN
You need to get the hell out of here.

MRS. HARKEN
Dave, stop it. You should be thanking him. Why are you being so suspicious?
HARKEN
Why? Because I know you sleep around on me. And I’m going to find out who it is.

MRS. HARKEN
You’re being ridiculous.

HARKEN
Am I? What about Maurilio? I see the way you look at him.

MRS. HARKEN
I am not having sex with the gardener!

As Harken and his wife continue to bicker, Dale quietly retreats to Kurt’s car.

INT. NICK’S APARTMENT – LATER
Nick and Kurt pace nervously.

NICK
I can’t believe that idiot Dale. You realize we’re all going to jail because of him.

KURT
I can’t go to jail. Look at these eyes. Look at this ass. They’ll be all over me.

NICK
Yeah, me too.

KURT
(not convinced)
Well...

NICK
What do you mean ‘well’? I’d get raped just as much as you.

KURT (patronizing)
No, of course you would. You’re a good-looking guy.

NICK
You think you’re more rape-able than I am.

(CONTINUED)
KURT
I never said that --

Dale enters.

DALE
Oh good. You guys are here. Did you see me out there?

KURT
Yeah, Dale, we saw you.

DALE
Pretty neat, huh?

NICK
No, it wasn’t neat! You stabbed Harken to death in front of the whole neighborhood!

KURT
Not cool, man.

DALE
Wait, that was Harken?

NICK
Who’d you think you were stabbing?

DALE
I wasn’t stabbing anybody. That was an epi-pen. He was having an allergic reaction to peanuts and I injected him.

Kurt and Nick digest this for a beat.

NICK
So let me understand this. My boss, who we are trying to kill, was dying in front of you and you saved his life?

KURT
Not cool, man.

DALE
Wait, you were just mad at me for killing him and now you’re mad at me for not killing him?!

(then)
See, this is why I needed to know what these people look like!

Hang on a sec. Maybe this recon wasn’t a waste of time. Now we know Harken’s deathly allergic to peanuts and Pellit has a huge stash of cocaine.

KURT (getting it)
We could put peanuts in Harken’s house and rat poison in Pellit’s coke!

NICK
Everyone would assume that Pellit just got a batch of tainted drugs.

DALE
But Harken must always have that epi-pen on him.

They consider this for a beat.

KURT
I bet he doesn’t wear it in the shower. We could put peanuts in his shampoo!

NICK
Perfect! Two fatal accidents. And we’re not even there when they happen.

DALE
That just leaves Julia.

KURT
Tomorrow night, I’ll surveil her and figure out how to take her down.

NICK
Good. I’ll get some rat poison and take care of Pellit. Dale, think you can get some peanuts into Harken’s shampoo?

DALE
I can do that.

KURT
All right. That just leaves us with one final thing to settle.

(Continued)
NICK What’s that?

KURT
Dale, if Nick and I were in prison, which one of us would get raped more?

OFF Dale’s confusion and Nick’s annoyance --

EXT. PELLIT’S STREET - NEXT NIGHT
Nick sits in his parked car watching the house through binoculars.

INT. NICK’S CAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION
Through an upstairs window, he sees Pellit enter his bedroom. Nick checks his coat pocket and confirms it contains a Home Depot bag with rat poison inside. Nick dials his cell phone.

INTERCUT WITH:

EXT. JULIA’S CONDO - SAME TIME
Kurt sits in his car, reading Maxim magazine. Julia’s car pulls up. She gets out, goes to the trunk, opens it, then bends down to get a bag of groceries. Nick watches her ass appreciatively as she does and keeps watching as she heads into her building.

SFX: His cell phone rings.

NICK
(on phone)
Hey. Have you learned anything about Julia yet?

KURT
Well, I’ve learned that Dale is a homosexual because this chick is unbelievably hot. How’s it going over there?

NICK
I’m just waiting for Pellit to go to sleep. I wonder how Dale’s doing with Harken.
EXT. HARKEN’S STREET – SAME TIME

Dale’s car is parked.

INT. DALE’S CAR – CONTINUOUS ACTION

Dale watches the movie Precious on his laptop. He glances over to see Harken turn on the light in his bedroom. On the seat beside Dale, we see a large jar of Planters peanuts.

INT. HARKEN’S BEDROOM – CONTINUOUS ACTION

Harken looks around suspiciously, then goes to Mrs. Harken’s closet. He opens it and begins looking through her clothing. He sniffs one of her dresses and his eyes narrow. He sniffs himself, then compares it to the smell of the dress. Unsatisfied, he continues searching around the room for any incriminating evidence. Suddenly, his foot comes in contact with something on the floor. He reaches down and picks up...

PELLIT’S BLACKBERRY.

He turns it on and scrolls down the contacts list to “HOME” which shows Bobby Pellit’s name and address. Harken’s face turns beet red.

INT. DALE’S CAR – MOMENTS LATER

Dale ducks down as he sees Harken’s garage door opening. Harken’s Porsche 911 pulls out and zooms up the street. Still scooched down, Dale dials his phone.

INT. NICK’S CAR – SAME TIME

Nick watches Pellit performing a series of sweaty KUNG FU MOVES in a full-length mirror.

NICK
Jesus, where does he get the energy? (remembering)
Oh yeah.

CELL PHONE RINGS.

Nick answers.

NICK
What’s up, Dale?

(CONTINUED)
DALE
Harken just left his house. I’m going in.

NICK
Good luck, man.

DALE Thanks.

INT. HARKEN’S BATHROOM - MINUTES LATER

Dale flips on the light and enters clutching the peanut jar in his gloved hands. He slides open the shower curtain and Harken’s CAT LEAPS OUT at him.

DALE
Ahhh!

He regains his composure and finds a bottle of men’s shampoo. As he nervously removes the cap from the shampoo and the lid from the peanuts, he notices that MR. PEANUT is STARING right at him. Despite his jaunty top hat and little monocle, there is something almost accusing in his look. Dale stares back at Mr. Peanut as we see his resolve soften.

INT. NICK’S CAR - SAME TIME

Nick watches as Pellit finally gets into bed and turns off his bedside lamp.

NICK
Okay. Here we go.

Nick reaches for the door handle as --

SFX: Nick’s cell phone rings. Nick jumps, then answers the phone.

INTERCUT WITH:

INT. HARKEN’S BATHROOM - CONTINUOUS ACTION

DALE
(into phone)
Nick?

NICK
What?

(CONTINUED)
DALE
I’m not sure if I can do this.

NICK
Where are you?

DALE
In Harken’s bathroom. About to pour the nuts in his shampoo. But, I just... I know he’s a real shithead, but he’s still a person, y’know?

Lights appear in Nick’s rearview mirror.

NICK
(looking down at the rat poison, reluctantly)
Yeah. I know.

Harken’s Porsche pulls up and stops just behind Nick’s car. Harken gets out and heads toward Pellit’s front door.

DALE
What should I do? Should I do it?

Suddenly, Nick looks up to see HARKEN knocking on Pellit’s door. In the bedroom, Pellit’s light goes on.

NICK
(whispering)
What the fuck?!

DALE
What?

NICK
It’s Harken. He’s here!

DALE
At Pellit’s?! Why?!

NICK
I don’t know. He’s knocking on his door!

DALE
How would Harken even know Pellit?
Looking irritated, Pellit answers the door. Before he can get a word out...

... Harken removes a gun from his pocket and SHOOTS Pellit twice in the chest.

Nick reacts, slumping down in his seat, horrified.

NICK
Oh my god oh my god oh my god...

DALE
What? What? What?!

NICK
He shot him. Harken shot Pellit!

DALE
Oh my god. Is he dead?!

NICK Shhhh!

With shaking hands, Nick reaches for his ignition but knocks the car keys out. They fall onto the floor of the car.

NICK (hushed)
Fuck!

As Nick bends down to find his keys, Harken’s shadow looms over him. Nick cowers just out of sight.

Harken looks around. Did he hear something? No. He calmly but briskly walks away from Nick’s car, gets into his own and speeds off.

DALE
What’s happening?

NICK
Harken’s gone.
What about Pellit?

NICK
He’s not moving. He looks dead.

DALE
Shit! What do we do?!

NICK
I’ve got to get out of here before someone sees me! Meet me at the bar. I’ll call Kurt.

Nick ZOOMS away from the curb.

EXT. STREET CORNER – MOMENTS LATER

Nick’s car SPEEDS through a red light at an intersection. A TRAFFIC CAMERA FLASHES as it snaps Nick’s photo and license plate.

INT. BRADFORD’S BAR – SHORT TIME LATER

With trembling hands, Nick and Dale take deep gulps of their drinks. Kurt hurries in, looking disheveled. The ensuing conversation is conducted in tense whispers.

KURT
Okay, let’s all stay calm and figure this out.

NICK
Calm? How can we be calm? I watched a man die an hour ago!

KURT
A man you were going to kill anyway.

NICK Well...

KURT What?

NICK
I don’t know if I had it in me.

DALE
Me neither.

(CONTINUED)
KURT
I can’t believe you guys! You can’t just bail on a plan like that at the last minute.

NICK
You think when it came down to it, you would’ve been able to murder Julia?

Kurt softens.

KURT
I don’t know. I mean, afterwards, it was kind of hard to imagine killing her.

Nick and Dale turn to him, quizzically.

DALE ‘Afterwards’?

Kurt realizes what he said.

NICK
You slept with her, didn’t you?

DALE
(to Kurt)
Oh god. Please tell me you didn’t sleep with her.

Kurt lowers his head.

NICK
You are a mess.

KURT
I know, I know. But it’s not my fault.

CUT TO:

FLASHBACK - EXT. JULIA’S HOUSE - NIGHT

Kurt’s car is parked across the street.

KURT (V.O.)
At first I was surveilling her just like I was supposed to...
INT. KURT’S CAR - NIGHT

Kurt watches through her bedroom window as Julia undresses sexily.

KURT (V.O.)
Then she started deliberately undressing in front of the window. With the lights on. She must’ve known I was there.

As Julia removes her bra, we see Kurt’s face pressed against his car window, his breath fogging it up.

INT. KURT’S CAR - LATER

Julia enters her bedroom with a tray of food. She wears a skimpy kimono-style robe. She sits on her bed and unwraps a Popsicle.

KURT (V.O.)
Then she made herself a little snack. A Popsicle...

We see Julia eat the Popsicle as suggestively as humanly possible. Then she picks up a banana and peels it.

KURT (V.O.)
... then a banana....

Julia eases the whole banana into her mouth. Then she picks up a hot dog.

KURT (V.O.)
... and finally a hot dog. I mean, three penis-shaped foods cannot be coincidence. And in that weird order? That’s not a proper meal.

EXT. JULIA’S HOUSE - SHORT TIME LATER

DALE (V.O.)
So you took that as an invitation to fuck her?

Julia opens her front door, stares straight at Kurt and beckons him inside with one finger. She walks back inside, leaving the door wide open.

KURT (V.O.)
No. I took her invitation to fuck her as an invitation to fuck her.

Kurt opens his car door so quickly he tumbles out headfirst, planting his face on the street. He jumps up, but one ankle is tangled in the seatbelt. He finally extricates himself and hurries to the house as fast as he can.

INT. BRADFORD'S BAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION (PRESENT)

NICK
There is something clinically wrong with you.

KURT
I know. I'm a rapscallion.

DALE
You're not a rapscallion. You're a whore. A filthy whore.

KURT

NICK
Whatever. We have bigger fish to fry right now. What do we do about Harken?

KURT
Here's what we do. We call the cops and make an anonymous tip that Harken killed Pellit. Boom. Harken's in jail. Pellit's in hell. Julia's had the crazy fucked out of her. Our problems are solved. Boom.

NICK
Okay, but we should find a payphone. We don't want them tracing the call to us.

EXT. BRADFORD'S BAR - MINUTES LATER

Nick, Kurt and Dale emerge from the bar.

NICK
Come on, we'll take my car.

The three of them climb into Nick's car.
Before Nick can even pull out of his parking spot, they hear the WHOOP of a police siren and see the flashing lights of a SQUAD CAR behind them. The guys’ faces go white.

NICK
What the hell?

Nick unrolls his window as one COP approaches his side and his PARTNER comes up on the other.

COP
Are you the owner of this vehicle?

NICK
Uh, yes. Is there something wrong?

COP
We’ve got an APB on a black Kia Spectra, license 4HIG208.

NICK
Can I ask why?

COP
A traffic cam caught this vehicle fleeing the scene of a crime tonight. I’m going to need you to follow us to the station.

KURT
Officer? This is not my car. Is it okay if I just -- ?

COP
All three of you, please.

Nick glares at Kurt as the cops head back to their car.

Kurt, Nick and Dale sit in a waiting area looking equal parts terrified and pissed at each other. Throughout the following, they speak in hushed voices.

DALE
They know everything. We’re dead. I can’t believe I let you guys talk me into this!

(CONTINUED)
KURT
Oh, please. We were just being hypothetical. You’re the one who pushed us to do it.

NICK
We can’t even say anything about Harken now.

KURT
Why not?

NICK
Uh, well, Kurt, being outside the murder victim’s house because I was planning to murder him probably isn’t the best alibi in the world.

KURT
You know, I didn’t actually do anything illegal, so...

DALE
You broke into two people’s houses and stole a BlackBerry!

KURT
You gonna rat on me, Dale?

DALE
Well, since I’m the only one without a connection to the murder, yeah, maybe I will.

NICK
That means you’d also rat on me.

KURT
Not if I rat on Dale first.

Just then, a burly detective, HAGAN, appears behind them.

HAGAN
Gentlemen, this way, please.

The guys glare angrily at each other as they follow Hagan.

Nick, Dale and Kurt sit on metal chairs across a table from Hagan and his equally burly partner, SAMSON. Hagan slides a PHOTO across the table to Nick.
CLOSE ON A BLACK AND WHITE IMAGE OF NICK taken by the traffic camera. His terrified face is clear, as is the time stamp at the bottom.

BACK TO SCENE

HAGAN
Do you want to explain why you were driving 61 in a 25 zone, a block from the victim’s house two minutes after he was shot to death?

NICK
I... was drag racing. (off their skeptical look)
I am a drag racer. There’s no law against that, is there?

HAGAN
Actually there is.

SAMSON
You were drag racing in a Kia Spectra?

NICK
I don’t win a lot.

HAGAN
Here’s what I don’t understand. You’re at the crime scene. An hour later when we find your car, you just happen to be hanging out with this guy... (gestures to Dale) ... a registered sex offender --

KURT
(re: Dale)
Tsk tsk.

HAGAN
... and this guy... (gestures at Kurt and holds up a wallet) ... whose employee ID says he works for Pellit Chemicals, the victim’s company.

(CONTINUED)
KURT
(feigning shock)
Wait. My boss was murdered?!
Bobby Pellit?!

DALE
(wry)
You want me to get you a Kleenex?

KURT
I can’t believe this.
(to Nick)
What were you doing near his house?!

Nick looks at him, pissed.

NICK
Where were you during the murder?

KURT
I was making love.

DALE (snorts) ‘Making love.’

KURT (to the cops)
Let me ask you something, Detective. Let’s say one of us knew who the shooter was and was willing to hand you that perp on a platter. Would he be entitled to some sort of immunity for that information?

Both Dale and Nick shoot daggers at him.

HAGAN
No. But he would be entitled to some sort of jail time. Because if he knew who the shooter was and didn’t tell us, that would be obstruction of justice.

A beat.

KURT
Well, then I’m glad we have no idea who the shooter is, right, guys?
SAMSON

(losing patience)
If you expect us to believe this is all just a big coincidence, we’re going to be here for a long time.

DALE

Okay wait!

Now it’s Kurt and Nick who look nervous. Is Dale about to crack?

DALE

Saying that we’ll be here for a long time implies that we can’t leave. Does that mean we’re under arrest?

Samson looks to Hagan who grimaces.

HAGAN

No. We just brought you in for questioning.

DALE

So, you don’t have evidence constituting probable cause to arrest us?

SAMSON

Not yet.

DALE

Well then, we’re free to go?

HAGAN

Technically.

Dale nervously stands up, half expecting to be hit.

DALE

Come on, guys.

Kurt and Nick, impressed and relieved, stand and head out.

INT. POLICE STATION - CONTINUOUS ACTION

The three guys head for the exit.
NICK
(to Dale)
Nice work. Where’d that come from?

DALE
‘Law & Order.’

KURT
We really showed those guys.

NICK
‘We’? You were gonna turn us in!

KURT
For, like, a second.

SAMSON (O.S.)
Stop!

The guys turn to see Samson holding out a traffic citation.

SAMSON
(handing it to Nick)
For speeding and running a red light.

(then)
Don’t get too comfortable out there, boys. Our forensics team is sweeping Pellit’s house for fingerprints and DNA. And they don’t miss much.

We HOLD ON Kurt’s face and --

CUT TO:

FLASHBACK - INT. PELLIT’S BATHROOM - DAY
Kurt pulls Pellit’s toothbrush out of his butt and returns it to its holder.

BACK TO SCENE (PRESENT)
Kurt suddenly looks nauseous.

INT. KURT’S CAR - MINUTES LATER
Kurt drives, Nick is in front and Dale in back.
KURT
We are so fucked.

NICK
Maybe it’s time to lawyer up.

DALE
I don’t have money for a lawyer. I gave all my money to Cocksucker Jones!

KURT
Hey, that’s right! I forgot all about Cocksucker. Why don’t we ask him what to do?

NICK
We did pay him five thousand dollars to be our murder consultant.

DALE
Actually, it was five thousand forty with the briefcase.

OFF their looks --

CUT TO:

INT. DIVE BAR - SHORT TIME LATER
Cocksucker Jones looks up from his bar stool, surprised to see Nick, Kurt and Dale.

COCKSUCKER JONES
Oh damn, look who’s back. How did it go with the Strangers on a Train shit?

KURT
Not great. We need your help.

NICK
One of our intended victims killed another of our intended victims.

Cocksucker’s eyes go wide.

COCKSUCKER JONES
Shut the fuck up! What kind of evil geniuses are you?

(CONTINUED)
DALE
We don’t even know why it happened. But the cops brought us in as suspects. What do we do now?

COCKSUCKER JONES
First things first. I’m gonna need another five thousand dollars.

KURT
What? No way. You said the last five thousand would cover this!

COCKSUCKER JONES
Okay, fine. Pay for my drink.

As Nick puts down a few bills on the bar, Dale leans in to Kurt.

DALE
(sotto)
Not the best negotiator, is he?

COCKSUCKER JONES
Let me ask you this -- the guy who killed the other guy you were planning on killing, are the police after him too?

NICK
No. They don’t suspect him.

COCKSUCKER JONES
All right, so you’re gonna need to encourage him to turn himself in, by say, kidnapping his wife and mailing him her earlobe or something.

DALE
That’s horrible.

COCKSUCKER JONES
Naw, the earlobe’s vestigial.
(off their looks)
All right, how about you trick him into confessing what he did while you wear a wire?

KURT
A wire. That’s good.

(CONTINUED)
NICK
(to Cocksucker)
Is that how the cops caught you when you murdered someone?

COCKSUCKER JONES
What the hell are you talking about? I never murdered anyone.

There’s a beat.

NICK
What?

COCKSUCKER JONES
Who told you I killed somebody?

KURT
You did. You said you served a ‘dime’ for ‘some pretty ugly shit.’

COCKSUCKER JONES
It was ugly.

DALE
What was it?

COCKSUCKER JONES
(leaning in)
You ever see the movie Snow Falling on Cedars?

NICK/KURT No.

DALE
Yes.

COCKSUCKER JONES
I got caught with a video camera making a bootleg copy of that movie.

NICK
You did ten years for video piracy?

COCKSUCKER JONES
Hey, that’s a federal offense. They take that shit serious.

(beat)
I also made the mistake of representing myself at trial. May have insulted a few of the jurors.

(CONTINUED)
KURT
Hold on. You’re telling me we’ve been taking murder advice from someone whose biggest crime was taping an Ethan Hawke movie?!

COCKSUCKER JONES
So you do know it.

DALE
If you’re not a murderer, why do you carry that gun on your belt?

COCKSUCKER JONES
Gun?
He pulls back his jacket to reveal the holster we saw earlier.

COCKSUCKER JONES
This is a motherfucking iPhone.
He pulls the phone out and shows them.

NICK
I feel like such a moron.

COCKSUCKER JONES
Well, you are a moron. You don’t walk into a bar and hand a guy five thousand dollars just because he’s black.

KURT
Come on, guys. Let’s get out of here.
The three of them turn to go.

COCKSUCKER JONES
(calling after them)
Trust me on the wire thing, though. Worked for Donnie Brasco. Bootlegged that movie too.

EXT. POLICE CRIME LAB - NEXT DAY
Hagan and Samson pull up in their car and get out.

INT. FORENSICS LAB - MOMENTS LATER
The detectives enter to find a CRIME TECH leaning over his computer.

HAGAN
You got something for us?

CRIME TECH
We didn’t find any foreign prints in the house, but we did get a DNA match for one of your suspects, Kurt Gamble.

SAMSON
Where was it?

CRIME TECH
Pellit’s upstairs bathroom. His toothbrush. It had traces of Gamble’s fecal matter.

HAGAN
That sick bastard.

CRIME TECH
That’s not all. We found feces on Pellit’s hairbrush, face soap, floss and razor.

SAMSON
Razor?!

CRIME TECH
The handle. Not the blade. This Gamble guy put just about everything in that bathroom up his ass.

HAGAN
All I care about is that it puts him inside the house. That’s enough for a warrant for him and his drag racing, sex offender friends.

(takes out cell)
I’ll call the DA.

EXT. HARKEN’S HOUSE – THAT NIGHT
Kurt’s car pulls up with the lights off and parks.

INT. KURT’S CAR – CONTINUOUS ACTION
Kurt is at the wheel, Nick sits shotgun, Dale in back.

Okay, looks quiet. Is the tape recorder ready?

Dale pulls out a mini-tape recorder and hands it to Nick along with a roll of surgical tape.

DALE
Fresh batteries, fresh six-hour tape, voice activated.

NICK
One of us needs to tape it to our chest.

KURT
I’ll do it. I’m the only one without hair on my chest.

NICK
That’s ‘cause you shave it.

KURT
I don’t shave it. I wax it.

Nick gives Kurt the recorder and Kurt tapes it to his chest then lowers his shirt.

DALE
So what do we do now? Wait for Harken to come home and ambush him?

NICK
I have a better idea. Let’s be in the house when he walks in. He’ll be so mad, he’ll be more likely to confess.

KURT
Right. We’ll sit there in the dark till he comes in, and then switch on a lamp. That’ll freak him out.

DALE
Hey, we should find an office chair so one of us can dramatically spin around and face Harken.

NICK
I’ll be in the chair.

(CONTINUED)
KURT
Why do you get to be the guy in the chair?

NICK
He’s my boss.

DALE
We could try and find more than one office chair so the three of us can spin around at the same time.

KURT
That doesn’t sound intimidating.
That sounds like a musical number.

DALE
I guess you’re right. I’ll turn on the lamp.

KURT
So I’m just supposed to stand
there like an idiot?

NICK
You’re recording it all. You’re the most important member of the team.

KURT
Don’t patronize me, Nick.

EXT. HARKEN’S PORCH – MINUTES LATER

The guys tiptoe onto the porch, peeking in the windows.
Nick tries the front door... and it swings open. They look at each other, then quietly head inside.

INT. HARKEN’S HOUSE – CONTINUOUS ACTION

The LIGHTS suddenly come on.

PARTYGOERS
Surprise!

There are 20 or 30 PARTYGOERS in the house which is decorated for a birthday party. The guys stand dumbstruck. The revelry peters out as the guests realize there are three strangers at the door. Mrs. Harken steps up.

MRS. HARKEN
Who are you?

NICK
Uh... hi... sorry we’re late. I’m Nick. I work with your husband and --

MRS. HARKEN
(noticing Dale)
Aren’t you the young man who helped Dave on the street the other day?

DALE
Uh, yes. How’s he doing?

MRS. HARKEN
He’s fine. Thanks to you.
(then, to Nick)
Did I invite you to this?

Before Nick can answer a GUEST at the window calls out.

GUEST #1
His car just turned the corner!

GUEST #2
Someone get the lights!

As everyone scurries to hide, Kurt finds himself pressed up against Mrs. Harken, beside the sofa. He checks her out.

KURT
(shaking her hand)
Hi, we didn’t formally meet. I’m Kurt.

MRS. HARKEN
(distracted)
Hi.

KURT
Nick didn’t tell me that his boss was married to a model.

MRS. HARKEN
(noticing him now, flattered)
I’m not a model.

KURT ("sincere")
When did you quit?

We see Mrs. Harken is intrigued. Just then, the front door opens and Harken enters. The lights come on.

PARTYGOERS
Surprise!

A jittery Harken nearly jumps out of his skin as the crowd starts singing “Happy Birthday.” Mrs. Harken takes Harken’s arm.

MRS. HARKEN
Were you surprised?

(relieved)
Oh, yeah.

MRS. HARKEN
Look, everyone’s here.

HARKEN
(evilly)
Almost everyone.

MRS. HARKEN
Who are you talking about?

HARKEN
I think you know.
(then)
I need to put my stuff away. I’ll be right back.

He heads off to his study, leaving his confused wife. She notices Kurt, standing at the buffet, staring at her. He smiles and winks. Mrs. Harken gives him a little wave.

ANGLE ON NICK, KURT AND DALE

NICK
He’s going off alone. This is our chance.

DALE
You guys ready?

KURT
(still staring at Mrs. Harken)
So fucking ready.

NICK
Okay, stay close.

INT. HARKEN’S STUDY - CONTINUOUS ACTION

Just as Nick and Dale enter, Harken looks up and sees them.

HARKEN
What the hell are you doing here?
(to Dale)
You come to stab me a few more times, you lunatic?
(to Nick)
And my wife invited you? Are you fucking her too?

Nick tries his best to suppress his nervousness and be cool and threatening.

NICK
We know what you did, Harken.

HARKEN
What does that mean?

NICK
We were there. We saw you kill him.

HARKEN
(turning dead serious)
So what is this? A shakedown? You think you can blackmail me because you saw me kill my wife’s lover?

Nick winces. So close.

DALE
(blurting out)
Say his name.

Nick and Harken turn to Dale.

HARKEN
What?

(CONTINUED)
DALE
The guy you killed. What was his name?

HARKEN
Trust me, Pellit’s name doesn’t matter anymore.

NICK
There it is!
(turning to Dale)
Let’s go, guys --

He freezes as he sees for the first time that Kurt didn’t accompany them into the study. It’s just him and Dale. Nick looks around, panicked.

HARKEN
Yeah, I killed Pellit --

NICK
Hang on. Hold that thought, because I want to get my friend, Kurt --

HARKEN
I walked right up to his door and I shot him in his fucking chest, and I’ll tell you something: I liked it. So if you think I’m a pussy who won’t do the same exact thing to some half-assed blackmailer, guess again.

NICK
(looking back at the living room)
You know who really thinks you’re a pussy is my friend Kurt. Let me go grab him and you can tell him exactly what you just --

HARKEN
You’re pathetic, Waters. You come into my home, on my goddam birthday and try and pull this shit? Well, guess what? You’re a dead man. You...
(to Dale)
... you, and your friend Kurt, whoever the fuck he is. Dead. Men.

(CONTINUED)
DALE
(softly)
We didn’t know it was your birthday.

Harken has crossed to a drawer and taken out a small safe. He begins turning the combination lock.

NICK
What are you doing? What’s in that?

HARKEN
My gun. Just give me a second.

Nick and Dale exchange a look, then quickly rush out of the room.

INT. HARKEN’S LIVING ROOM – MOMENTS LATER

looking thoroughly freaked out, Nick and Dale push their way through the partygoers.

NICK
We had him! We had the whole thing. What happened to Kurt?

Just then, the door to a guest bathroom opens and Kurt emerges, buckling his belt and looking strangely red in the face.

KURT
Oh, hey.

NICK
‘Hey’?! Where were you?!

KURT
Uh, I had to go to the bathroom. Bad salmon puff. Are we ready to record Harken?

NICK
You’re too late, Kurt! He confessed the whole damn thing!

DALE
More than once! Then he told us we were dead men! He’s getting his gun right now!

KURT
Oh, man, I’m so sorry. I fucked up.

(CONTINUED)
NICK Yeah, you --

Suddenly, the bathroom door opens again and out steps Mrs. Harken, also looking disheveled. She adjusts her dress then rejoins the party.

NICK
(realizing what Kurt was doing)
You dick!

Overcome with rage, Nick PUNCHES Kurt in the arm then rushes to the door. Dale and Kurt hurry after him.

ANGLE ON HARKEN
seeing them go. With a grim look, he calmly heads to the garage.

INT. KURT’S CAR - MINUTES LATER
Nick sits steaming mad as Kurt drives. Dan fiddles with the tape recorder in the back.

KURT
Look, I wasn’t thinking. She’s so hot and I’m so weak. I’m a weak, weak man. I admit it.

From the back seat, we hear from the tape recorder:

KURT (V.O.)
In here? But all those people are right outside.

MRS. HARKEN (V.O.)
I know. That makes it even hotter.

We hear unbuckling and unzipping.

MRS. HARKEN (V.O.)
Your balls are so smooth.

KURT (V.O.)
I wax them.

DALE
Is there anything you don’t wax?

Kurt shrugs. We hear some WET, SMACKING SOUNDS.

(CONTINUED)
CONTINUED:

NICK
Ugh. Turn it off, Dale!

KURT (V.O.)
Oh yeah... oh shit!

MRS. HARKEN (V.O.)
Whoops. That was fast...

KURT
(quickly)
Yeah, Dale, turn that off!

EXT. STREET - CONTINUOUS ACTION
A short distance behind a car is following Kurt’s. As it comes closer we see it’s a Porsche. And it’s driven by a determined-looking Harken.

EXT. KURT’S APARTMENT - SHORT TIME LATER
Kurt’s car turns the corner and stops short.

INT. KURT’S CAR - CONTINUOUS ACTION
From the guys’ POV we see an unmarked car and a police squad car parked outside of Kurt’s place. Hagan and Samson stand with two UNIFORMED OFFICERS.

KURT (O.S.)
Holy shit! They must have found my DNA.

NICK (O.S.)
Turn around! Get us out of here!

EXT. STREET - CONTINUOUS ACTION
Kurt quickly does a U-turn and ZOOMS off in the direction they came, inadvertently SPEEDING through a red light. We see a traffic camera FLASH.

INSERT - A BLACK AND WHITE PHOTOGRAPH clearly showing the three guys, their faces distorted with panic.
KURT
Okay, it’s clear that none of us can go home again. Probably ever.

DALE
What?!

KURT
I’m sure they have cops at all our places. I think our best bet is to get out of the country.

NICK
Where are we going to go?

KURT Mexico?

DALE
Everyone flees to Mexico. That’s the first place they’ll look.

KURT
You’re right. What about Asia? We could become kick boxers.

NICK
What the fuck are you talking about?

KURT
What if our entire lives have been leading up to this moment? What if we were destined from the very beginning to become Asian kick boxers?

NICK
What if I was destined to smack you right in the face?

KURT
That seems like a lesser destiny.

SFX: Dale’s cell phone rings.

DALE
(answering phone)
Hello?

INTERCUT WITH:
Julia lies in a bubble bath, a glass of wine on the edge of the tub.

JULIA
Hello, lover.

DALE
Oh God. Look, Julia, I can’t talk right now --

Kurt reacts at hearing it’s Julia. He makes an “I’m not here” gesture.

JULIA
No worries, baby. I actually meant to call your home phone. You know, to tell Stacy about us.

DALE
No! Wait!

JULIA
I think I’ve waited long enough. I’m tired of you playing with my emotions.

DALE
I’m not playing. I’m going to do it. I swear!

JULIA
This Friday. At the office.

DALE Fine!

JULIA
Wait. What are you going to do to me?

DALE
I’m going to... have sex with you.

JULIA
Details! And be explicit.

DALE
Right now? You want me to say it?

KURT
Oh, shit. We’ve got company.

He points out the back window and the guys react as they see Harken driving directly on their tail.

NICK
It’s Harken! Lose him!

KURT
Lose him? Sure, Nick. His 500 horsepower is no match for my 150.

JULIA
(on phone)
Say it!

DALE
(blurting out)
I’m gonna put my penis in your pussy!

Despite the danger, Kurt and Nick turn curiously to look at Dale.

JULIA
Oh, come on, Casanova. You can do better than that.

DALE
(with difficulty)
I’m gonna make you feel good. With my tongue... and my fingers. And whatnot.

Just then, Harken speeds up and SLAMS into the tail of Kurt’s car. Kurt struggles to stay on the road.

NICK
Jesus Christ, this guy’s nuts!

JULIA
You going to slap me with your cock, Dale?

DALE
Yes! Yes! I’m going to beat your face with my cock!

JULIA
More!

BANG! Harken again HITS Kurt’s car from behind. A tail light shatters.

DALE (frantic)
I’m gonna put my balls in your hair! I’m gonna spit on your arms!

Kurt and Nick exchange a baffled look.

JULIA
See you Friday, you dirty bird.

Julia hangs up. Dale looks like he’s been violated.

DALE
Nice job ‘fucking the crazy out of her,’ Kurt!

KURT
Maybe I should’ve spit on her arms.

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
Good evening, Mr. Gamble.

The three of them JUMP, startled by the sudden voice in the car with them.

KURT
What the hell?

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
This is Gregory, your On Star rep. Our on-board sensors report that you have a damaged tail light.

KURT
Yeah, thanks, Gregory, we know. We’re being chased by a crazy man and he just smashed into us!

Kurt looks in the rearview mirror and sees Harken is still behind them. As his car reaches an intersection, Kurt swerves at the last second and takes a hard left. Harken overshoots the turn.

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
Oh dear. I will alert the local police authorities and direct them to your location.

NICK
No, wait! Don’t call the police! They’re already after us.

They think we murdered someone.

Suddenly, Kurt’s engine dies and the car comes to a gradual stop.

Why are you slowing down?!

I’m not! The engine died!

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
I have remotely disabled your engine.

Why would you do that, Gregory?!

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
It’s a standard On Star safety protocol when we believe a driver has committed a crime.

I pay nineteen bucks a month for this fucking service!

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
Please stay with your vehicle. The police should arrive shortly.

I thought you were our friend, Gregory!

There’s a sound of screeching tires and Harken’s Porsche ZOOMS up behind them.

He’s not stopping!

Oh, shit!

Harken’s car PLOWS into the rear of Kurt’s, forcing it into the back of a parked car. Even if the engine was working, there’d be nowhere to go now.

Dazed from the impact, the guys look back to see Harken slowly approaching on foot, holding a gun in his hand.

(CONTINUED)
DALE
Shit, shit, shit...

Harken taps on Kurt’s window with the barrel of the gun. Kurt lowers the window.

KURT
I’m guessing you don’t want to exchange insurance information -- ?

HARKEN
Out of the car. All of you.

The three guys nervously exit the car and face Harken who points the gun at them.

NICK
Look, Mr. Harken --

HARKEN
Shut the fuck up! I’ve got six bullets in here. So if I want to, I can shoot each of you twice, just like I did that bastard, Pellit. But if I do that, I’ll have to spend the rest of my life running from the law or rotting in jail.

Police sirens approaching.

DALE
(near tears)
So, you’re not gonna shoot us?

HARKEN
No. I have a better idea.

Harken turns the gun toward his own thigh and FIRES.

HARKEN Unnnnhhhh!

NICK
What the -- ?!

As his leg bleeds, Harken wipes the gun off with his shirt, then suddenly tosses it to Dale.

HARKEN Catch.

Startled, Dale catches the pistol with shaking hands.

(CONTINUED)
HARKEN
(through gritted teeth)
Now I can tell the cops that when I discovered you three killed Pellit, you tried to kill me to shut me up.

KURT
That’s crazy!

Down the street, two squad cars turn the corner and speed toward them. Dale looks down at the gun in his hand and drops it.

HARKEN
Is it? Because I don’t see a shred of evidence proving that I killed Pellit. It’s like I’ve always told you, Nick. Life is a marathon and you can’t win a marathon without putting a few Band-Aids on your nipples.

Nick deflates. The three guys realize Harken’s won. Then, from the car’s open window they hear:

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
Did I mention that this conversation is being recorded?

Kurt, Nick and Dale exchange a look of shock and relief.

HARKEN
Who said that?

KURT
(grinning)
That’s Gregory, our On Star rep.

ON STAR REP (V.O.)
(proudly)
My name is Atmanand!

Harken’s face falls. He looks around nervously as the police cars come to a halt.

HARKEN
You can’t -- this isn’t --

And with that, Harken BOLTS AWAY as fast as his injured leg will take him. It’s not very fast. The guys watch him for a beat as they share a joyful, exhausted moment together.

(CONTINUED)
NICK
I think this is gonna work out okay for us.

KURT
I told you.

DALE
(re: Harken)
Should we stop him?

KURT Probably.

NICK
I’ve got this.
(looking to heaven)
This is for you, Gam Gam.

Nick sprints off after his hobbling boss and in SLOW MOTION, violently TACKLES Harken to the pavement. Harken goes down hard, his face SLAMMING against the asphalt.

As the COPS hurry toward them, Nick kneels on the back of Harken’s neck, pinning him.

HARKEN
Get the fuck off me!

Kurt steps up and kneels beside the battered figure.

KURT (gently)
Hey, Harken, one last thing?

HARKEN
(barking)
What?!

KURT
Your wife gives great head.

Harken struggles wildly but he’s helpless.

CUT TO BLACK.

FADE IN:

EXT. PELLIT CHEMICAL CO. - MORNING

SUPERIMPOSE: ONE WEEK LATER

The sun is shining. Birds are chirping. It’s a bright, new day as Kurt heads into the building.

INT. PELLIT CHEMICAL CO. - DAY

Kurt enters and looks over at what was Pellit’s office. He smiles when he sees Margie, the pregnant employee, now running the company. He heads over.

INT. MARGIE’S OFFICE - MOMENTS LATER

Kurt knocks on the doorframe and enters.

MARGIE
Oh, hey, Kurt. Come in.

KURT
Thanks, Margie. I just wanted to congratulate you on taking over Bobby’s job.

MARGIE
Thank you. Terrible what happened to him.

KURT
Yeah. Tough month for the Pellit family. Anyway, if there’s anything I can do to help out before the baby gets here, please let me know.

MARGIE
(confused)
What baby?

KURT
Your baby.

MARGIE
(beat, offended)
I’m not pregnant.

KURT
(chuckling)
Yeah, right. Look at that big belly.

Kurt pats her belly. Margie now looks genuinely pissed off.
MARGIE
I’m aware that I have a weight problem, Kurt. It just happens to manifest itself in my lower abdomen.

KURT
I... oh, my God. I’m really sorry, Margie --

He falls silent under Margie’s death stare.

MARGIE
(coldly)
Kurt, I know you were a favorite of Jack’s. He was willing to overlook your inappropriate behavior with female clients and service people. But you should be aware, I’m not Jack. And I have very little tolerance for the mistreatment of women. So consider this your first strike.

KURT
How was I supposed to know you were just fat --

MARGIE
Strike two.

Kurt opens his mouth to say something but thinks better of it. He stands up and slumps out. Life as he knew it at Pellit Chemicals is clearly over.

INT. DENTAL EXAMINATION ROOM - DAY

Julia enters to find Dale waiting for her. A PATIENT lies asleep in the chair, his face obscured by the nitrous mask.

JULIA
Thank God it’s Friday, right, Dale?

DALE (resigned)
Yeah.

JULIA
Let’s drill this patient and then you can drill me.

(CONTINUED)
DALE
Could we do it on top of the patient? I like the element of danger.

JULIA (impressed)
You continue to surprise me, you weird little man.

Julia quickly undoes the patient’s belt and yanks his pants down.

JULIA
(to Dale)
You like that? This getting you hot?

DALE
Oh, yeah.

Julia begins handling the patient’s implied genitals which are obscured by a tray of tools.

JULIA
(in a puppet voice)
‘I wish I was Dale’s weenie so I could have sex with Julia.’

Suddenly, the patient bursts out LAUGHING and sits up.

JULIA
What the hell?!

The patient pulls off his nitrous mask to reveal it’s KENNY, the guys’ former classmate from the bar.

KENNY
(laughing)
Sorry, Dale. I couldn’t keep it together anymore --

JULIA
What is this?

DALE
Julia, meet my old high school friend, Kenny.

KENNY
How do you do?

(CONTINUED)
DALE
Kenny will do just about anything for fifty bucks and that’s why I hired him to help me frame you. Your days of sexually assaulting me and your patients are over.

JULIA
(laughs derisively)
Seriously? This is all you’ve got? Your word against mine? I’m a highly respected professional and you’re two losers.

DALE
Three losers.

Dale points to the window where Julia sees COCKSUCKER JONES outside holding up a video camera. He waves to her.

JULIA
You little bastard --

DALE
Shut up, Julia. Now, my fiancee and I are going to take a very expensive two week vacation which you’re going to pay for. And then I’m going to come back to a rape-free workplace. Because if you so much as look at my ass, I’ll have yours locked up.

With a bounce in his step, Dale strides out of the room. There’s an awkward beat with Kenny and Julia.

KENNY
I don’t suppose you could take a look at this molar --

JULIA (screaming)
OUT! GET OUT!

Kenny scampers out, pulling up his pants as he goes.

INT. NICK’S OFFICE (FORMERLY HARKEN’S) - DAY

Nick is in his new office as a young employee, CARTER, 20’s, pops his head in.

CARTER
You wanted to see me, Mr. Waters?

Hi, Carter. Just wanted to check if you had a chance to finish those regional sales projections yet?

Oh, I think I may need another day.

Okay. I was hoping to give them to the marketing guys today, but I can hold them off.

In the future, it’d be great if you could tell me if you’re going to miss a deadline.

Carter’s eyes narrow. All at once, he rushes at Nick, grabs him by the throat and HURLS him THROUGH THE PLATE GLASS WINDOW, shattering it.

Nick plummets forty feet and lands with a SICKENING CRUNCH directly onto his own car. Just behind him we see a parking plaque that reads “Nick Waters, Senior VP of Sales.”

SMASH CUT TO:

Carter stands opposite Nick as before.

Sure. No problem, Mr. Waters.

Thanks, buddy.

Nick smiles and closes the door behind Carter. He settles into his comfy chair and puts his feet up on the desk.

It’s good to be the boss.
